of Rain, Snow, Sleet, Fog and Wind

Are you prepared to face a winter that will bring all these dangers to health and vitality? Summer gave you strength. Have autumn chills sapped your reserves? Have you enough energy left to face a winter of cold and chill?

Keep your summer vitality—build up your resistance with Wincarnis, Ireland's most popular tonic wine during fifty years. Colds, Chilblains, Coughs—all these winter ailments are due to lowered vitality and lack of resistance to weather conditions. If you have enriched your blood with the health-giving tonic properties of Wincarnis, you will go through the winter with vigour and unimpaired vitality.

What makes Wincarnis so good for you? In every bottle there is the finest wine made from the richest sun-ripened grapes, containing all the essential vitamins. Added to this there are the tonic properties derived from Beef and Malt. Wincarnis makes rich, red blood, builds healthy tissue, nourishes the nerves, stimulates and gives energy 20,000 members of the medical profession recommend Wincarnis. It enjoys the largest sale of any tonic wine in the Irish Free State—proof positive of the high regard in which it is held.

Build yourself up to face the winter. If you get easily tired, nervy or depressed, Wincarnis will make you feel fit and well again. Get a bottle now and take a glass every day. It must do you good. All licensed chemists, grocers and wine merchants sell Wincarnis.

A Physician's Tribute

"With regard to Wincarnis, I find it excellent in many cases of gastritis, and as a really sound food stimulant is undoubtedly the best in nervous breakdowns. The fact that Wincarnis has been so long on the market, and that its position is unassailable, speaks for itself."

(An L.S.A., L.N.S.S.A., etc., Newcastle.

Another Doctor's Letter

"The value of a good tonic has always seemed to me to be directly proportional to the speed with which it acts, i.e. enters the circulation and effects beneficial alternative changes in devitalized muscle and nerve structures; and from this point of view I consider Wincarnis the most speedy and satisfactory tonic and restorative I prescribe."

London, 27th Jan., 1927.

FOOD AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

Norwich—Brisker demand for Stores. Doncaster Cattle—Firm. Carlisle—Irish Stores dropped 10/- per head. Rubber steadier. Wheat irregular.

CATTLE.

NORWICH.—Quotations for a large supply of beef remained unchanged at 32/- to 40/- per cwt., live weight. Veal met a dragging sale at 9d. per lb. There was a brisker demand for a large show of mixed store cattle at easier rates and £7 to £18 10/- a head. An average show of sheep ruled firm. Best sorts realised 1/1, other qualities 11½d. to 1/-, and ewes 5d. to 7d. per lb. A fair entry of pigs were brought forward at unchanged prices. Londoners and cutters were quoted up to 9/6, and baconers to 8/- per stone. Fat sows changed hands at £10 each. Stores were in better request. At market—Cattle, 2,978; sheep, 1,000; and pigs, 924.

DONCASTER.—Good show of English milch beasts; best £28, heifers £22, old cows to £16, Irish £23, for best three-year-old bullocks to £18, young stock £6. Larger show of sheep. Scotch ewes to 60/-, others to 52/-, lambs 44/-, pigs easier; small to 20/-, strong to 58/-.

CARLISLE.—There was a much larger supply of Irish store cattle on the sands, 1,300 head being forward. Buyers were not so numerous and business was slow at an all round drop in prices of 10/- a head. Quotations:—Wintering heifers £10 10/- to £12, heifers for short keep £13 10/- to £15, polled bullocks £13 10/- to £16, smaller bullocks £10 10/- to £12.

MANCHESTER MARKETS REVIEW.

VALUES MAINTAINED.

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

Taken all round, business in most departments of the provision trade during the past week has been on quiet consumptive lines; but, with one or two exceptions, values have been fairly well maintained. The Danish official quotation for butter has been wired unchanged, and "top" again stands at 180 kroner per 100 kilos. At the corresponding period of last year the figure was also 180 kroner and in 1932 188 kroner. Only moderate supplies of Irish creamery butter are coming forward to this centre, but prices eased somewhat towards the close of the week. Continental makes rule steady, but buyers show little inclination to operate, except for current requirements. Shipments from Denmark and Sweden to Northern ports were on a rather larger scale than the previous week, but it is stated that production in the former country has become almost stationary, and that no change of importance is expected in the near future. Production in Australia and New Zealand is reported to be increasing, but in the latter country is still on a smaller scale than a year ago.

BACON CHEAPER.

High prices ruled for bacon from July to about the middle of September, when a falling off in demand necessitated a substantial adjustment in prices, which declined from 7s. to 10s. per cwt. for all descriptions. This was followed at the end of the month by a reduction of 2s. to 4s., when a rather better feeling was apparent, but this was not maintained. A firmer feeling was reported this week at Tuesday's market, but to-day (Friday) Irish, Swedish and Polish were officially reduced 3s., English 2s. to 4s., Danish 3s. to 4s., and Dutch 2s. per cwt. The market closed steady, with prices almost at the same level as those prevailing last year. While the outlook is rather brighter, no great amount of activity is anticipated, because at this time of the year business is far from brisk. After the recent depression, there have been distinct signs of recovery during the present week in the egg trade, and, with a decidedly better demand for English and Irish, prices are firm and dearer. Continental eggs are also in better demand, and, with production decreasing all over Europe, it is expected that better prices will be realised.

LIVE STOCK.

All classes of live stock were in larger supply at the Manchester Cattle market on Tuesday last, and a slower demand was experienced for fat cattle, notwithstanding the easier prices ruling. The Government's grading scheme for certain specified classes of live cattle is being criticised somewhat adversely, and there appears to be some lack of uniformity on the part of graders in different districts. One authority states that such a large number of cattle are being rushed into the market that the fund will be exhausted and its objects nullified to a certain extent. Lambs were also more plentiful and cheaper. The Manchester Pig market is unsettled and practically closed owing to foot-and-mouth disease restrictions. All Irish and the bulk of the local supplies are going direct for immediate slaughter under licence; but prices generally rule steady. The unsettled state of the weather is having an adverse effect on business at the Manchester Meat market. Quotations for both home-killed and imported meat were on the easy side during the early part of the week. Although there was a slow finish, prices for all descriptions were steadier.

Supplies of dead poultry meet with a quiet consumptive demand, and there have been no very marked fluctuations in prices. Grouse and partridge rule steady, but pheasants have a rather wide range, although best birds are making about 10s. per brace.

LIVERPOOL MEAT IMPORTS.

Saturday.

The imports of cattle and fresh meat at Liverpool last week from the various overseas ports amounted to 652 cattle, 79,088 sheep and lamb carcases, 600 carcases and 7,886 packages of pork, 4,464 bags, etc., of meat, and 25,745 quarters of beef. Six steamers arrived with freights as follow:—The Cordillera, from the River Plate, with 20,922 sheep and lamb carcases, 600 carcases and 2,638 packages of pork, 3,527 bags, etc., of meat and 24,513 quarters of beef; the Duchess of Atholl, from Montreal, with 767 boxes of pork, 467 boxes of meat and 1,232 quarters of beef; the Britannic, from New York, with 1,300 packages of pork and 470 cases of meat; the Manchester Citizen, from Montreal, with 652 cattle; the Nova Scotia, from Boston, with 3,181 packages of pork, and the Huntingdon, from New Zealand, with 58,166 sheep and lamb carcases. The totals compared with those of the preceding week show an increase of 146 cattle, 56,763 sheep and lamb carcases, 600 carcases and 7,036 packages of pork, 1,960 bags, etc., of meat, and 16,148 quarters of beef.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS.
In the Goods of
THOMAS WILLIAM MORGAN, late of No. 11 Lower Leeson street, Dublin, General Contractor, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Statutes 30 and 31 Victoria, cap. 54, and 34 and 35 Victoria, cap. 102, that by his will dated the 18th day of August, 1933, the above-named Deceased appointed Alexander Davison Orr, of 5 Foster place, Dublin, Solicitor, and John George Phayer, of 20 Brighton road, Rathgar, Dublin, Accountant, Executors of his said will and thereby bequeathed the following legacies, free of all duty:—
£100 to the Adelaide Hospital, Dublin;
£100 to the Association for the Relief of Distressed Protestants in Ireland;
£100 to the Protestant Orphan Society;
£50 to the Select Vestry, Magdalen Church, Lower Leeson street, to be used by them as they in their uncontrolled discretion should think right;
£50 to the Governors of the Magdalen Asylum, Lower Leeson street;
£50 to the Rest for the Dying, Camden Row, Dublin;
£100 to the Representative Body of the Church of Ireland, to be applied for the augmentation of the Sustentation Fund of St. James's Protestant Church, James's street, Dublin;
£50 to St. John's Home of Rest, Merrion;
£50 to the Old Men's Asylum, Northbrook road.

The Testator further appointed the residue of his property to be applied by his Executors for such Protestant and charitable purposes in Dublin as they in their uncontrolled discretion may think right.

The said Testator died on the 2nd of December, 1933. Probate of his said will was, on the 29th day of January, 1934, granted to the said Alexander Davison Orr and John George Phayer forth of the Principal Probate Registry of the High Court of Justice, Saorstat Eireann.

Dated this 2nd day of October, 1934.

RED MASS.

Catholic Members of the Legal Profession are invited to attend the annual Mass of the Holy Ghost, which will be offered in ST. MICHAN'S CHURCH, HALSTON STREET, on WEDNESDAY, October 10th, at 10 o'clock.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS.
In the Goods of
BRIDGET MARKEY, late of Caperlough, Ballymun road, Glasnevin, Dublin, Widow, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Statute 30 and 31 Vic., chapter 54, section 19, that the above-named Bridget Markey, by her Will dated 17th April, 1934, and Codicil dated 23rd April, 1934, bequeathed the following charitable legacies:
£100 to the Superioress at date of her death of the Sisters of the Holy Faith at Glasnevin.
£100 to the Superioress at date of her death of the Sisters of the Holy Faith at Finglas.
£100 to the Treasurer at date of her death of the Sacred Heart Home, Drumcondra.
£100 to the Treasurer of the Catholic Institution for Deaf and Dumb, Dublin, of which £50 is to be applied for the Male Branch and £50 for the Female Branch.
£50 to the Superioress at date of her death of St. Mary's Convalescent Hospital and Home for Children at Cappagh, Finglas.
£50 to the Parish Priest at date of her death of the Roman Catholic Parish of Glasnevin for Masses; and £25 to each Curate of said Parish for Masses.
£25 to the Parish Priest at date of her death of the Roman Catholic Parish of Finglas for Masses—all Masses to be celebrated in public—for the repose of the souls of Testatrix and of her husband and parents.
£50 to the Treasurer of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Plate, linen, china, glass books, pictures, furniture and other household effects in her residence to the Superioress, Sisters of the Holy Faith, Glasnevin.

Testatrix (in the event of the failure of the trusts therein declared as to the residue of her estate) declared that her Trustee should hold said residue upon trust for such charitable purposes in Ireland as they should think proper.

And by a Codicil dated 23rd April, 1934, to her said Will, Testatrix directed her Trustees to sell her £500 Ordinary Stock in the Dublin United Tramways Company and to expend the proceeds, less the costs and expenses of doing so, in the purchase and erection in the new Roman Catholic Church, Ballymun road, of a stained glass window or windows, or, at the option of her Executors, a side altar, to be dedicated to the memory of her late father and mother, John and Anne Dennis.

The said Testatrix died on the 26th May, 1934, and Probate of her Will was, on the 27th August, 1934, granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry, High Court of Justice, Saorstat Eireann, to Thomas J. Maher, of 15 Eden quay, Dublin, and Peter Reynolds, of Beachelstown, Clonalvey, Balbriggan, Co. Dublin, the Executors and Trustees named in said Will.

Dated this 6th day of October, 1934.

NOTICE OF CHARITABLE BEQUESTS.
In the Goods of
CHRISTINA MACNAMARA, late of 10 Adelaide street, Dun Laoghaire, in the County of Dublin, Spinster, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Statute 30 and 31 Vic., cap. 54, that the above-named Deceased, who died on the 21st August, 1934, by her Will, dated the 15th July, 1931, gave and bequeathed the following Charitable Legacies:—
£1,000 to be expended by her Executors as soon as possible after her death in having Masses said in public and in the Irish Free State for the repose of her soul and the souls of her father, mother, brothers and sisters, the honorarium for each Mass to be 5/-.
£100 to the Superioress for the time being of the Redemptoristine Order at the Monastery of St. Alphonsus, Drumcondra, Dublin, for prayers for the repose of her soul.
£100 to the President for the time being of Saint Vincent de Paul Society at Kingstown for the charitable objects carried on there by the said Society.
£500 to the Superioress for the time being of the Hospice for the Dying at Harold's Cross, Dublin, for the charitable objects of the said Institution.
£100 to the President for the time being of St. Vincent de Paul Society, Limerick, for the charitable objects carried on there by the said Society.
£500 to the Superioress for the time being of the Good Shepherd Convent at Limerick, to be applied for the benefit of the penitents in such Institution.
£100 to the Superioress for the time being of St. Michael's Hospital, Kingstown, County Dublin, under the charge of the Sisters of Mercy, to be applied for the charitable objects of said Hospital.
£500 to the Superioress of the Sacred Heart Home, Drumcondra, Dublin, for the charitable objects carried out by said Home.
£500 to the Superioress of the Sisters of the Poor, York street, Kingstown, for the charitable purposes carried on by said Sisters in Kingstown.
£500 to the President for the time being of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Dublin, for the charitable objects carried on by said Society there.

And the Deceased directed such of the foregoing legacies that might be liable to death duty should be paid free of death duty.

Deceased left the residue of her estate to her trustees upon trust to pay the income thereof or allow same to be received by her niece, May Morrogh, for life, and subject thereto she directed a sum of £1,000 to be expended by her trustees in having Masses said in the Irish Free State and in public for the repose of her soul and the souls of her father, mother, brothers and sisters, the honorarium for each Mass to be 5/-. And, subject to such bequest, she directed her residuary estate to be divided between the following Charities or Institutions, share and share alike, for the charitable objects carried on by said respective Charities and Institutions in the Irish Free State—viz., Vincent de Paul Society, Kingstown; the Hospice for the Dying at Harold's Cross, Dublin; Saint Vincent de Paul Society, Limerick; Good Shepherd Convent, Limerick; Saint Michael's Hospital, Kingstown; Sacred Heart Home, Drumcondra, Dublin; Sisters of the Poor, York street, Kingstown; Saint Vincent de Paul Society, Dublin.

And Notice is hereby further given that Probate of the said Will was granted forth of the Principal Probate Registry, Saorstat Eireann, on the 4th October, 1934, to James Morrogh, of the National Bank House, Fermoy, in the County of Cork, and May Morrogh, of Number 10 Adelaide street, Dun Laoghaire, in the County of Dublin, the executors and trustees in her said Will named.

Dated this 6th day of October, 1934.

IRISHMAN'S DIARY

Ireland in Berlin : Dublin Aviaries : Judges' Shorthand.
The Draconids : General Napier,

Shorthand on the Bench.

I see that Hitler's Minister for Justice has decreed that every German judge must know shorthand. The wisdom of this order is apparent, as it is most important for men on the bench to be able to make swift notes of important evidence.

Though there is no such rule in force in the Free State as yet, some of our Irish judges are expert stenographers. One of them, District Justice Sullivan, of Cork, was a journalist before he became a lawyer, so he is able to make full notes of the cases coming before him. Another, Circuit Court Judge O'Connor, was a clerk in a metropolitan court a long time ago. Resigning from the Civil Service to practise as a barrister, he rapidly rose in his new profession till he became a K.C.

Then he was made a judge—one of the first to be appointed by the Fianna Fail Government. The experience of taking down evidence he gained in his youth now stands him in good stead.

Incidentally, he is the Joseph O'Connor, K.C., rumour mentioned as the favourite candidate for the position of umpire under the new Military Service Pensions Act.

Under it most of the present members of the I.R.A. are eligible for pensions, but their "Army Council" has forbidden them to apply for the money. The unexpected order, besides being a snub to Mr. de Valera, may well cause a split in the I.R.A. I understand the order has already been ignored in many cases.

Co. Dublin Aviaries.

The number of aviaries in County Dublin appears to be very much on the increase. At present the district round Kingstown is the best-known aviary centre, Dr. Wheeler and Mr. Addison, of Monkstown; Lady Meldon, in Foxrock; Mr. Spacik, in Kingstown, and Mr. Hardman, of Blackrock, all being owners of interesting collections. Most of these birds, however, are of the "hard-billed," or seed-eating, type, Mrs. Anderson being the only one in this neighbourhood, and one of the few in Ireland, who has succeeded in acclimatising "soft-billed" birds, those of the very radiant plumage. These are exceedingly difficult to maintain through a northerly winter, and their food constitutes another problem. They live on nectar, honey and mealworms, as well as various exotic fruits, so that their diet, though not bulky, would be an item of some consideration in the household budget. Mrs. Anderson's collection, however, includes tanagers, which are among the most resplendent birds of the tropics.

At no great distance from this unusual bird sanctuary Mr. Addison has built an open-air aviary, comprising a small house or shelter, a wired enclosure, and a 10-foot high "flight." Fifty birds, including canaries, Java sparrows and budgerigars, live here winter and summer. In spite of the approaching cold weather, all the birds seemed in good condition on the day I visited them. None of them have ever ventured beyond their own estate, except the tiny red-headed African waxbills. Two of these birds crept out one spring morning last year and spent a day in the trees. Towards evening the pangs of hunger brought them back to the aviary. They could not find again the break in the netting through which they had snatched their costly freedom, and they dodged all their owner's subterfuges to catch them. After some hours they discovered the small hole near the ground that meant at once liberty—and home.

The Draconids.

The rapidly lengthening nights of October afford increased opportunities for meteoric observations, while there will not be much moonlight during the first half of the month to render conditions unfavourable. On the 8th there is a well-defined secondary maximum about 10.50 p.m. The most interesting date in the first half of October is the 9th, the anniversary of the Draconid shower, which proved so surprisingly abundant a year ago. On the present occasion a look out should be kept for these meteors between 5 and 9.15 p.m., as the computed maxima on October 9 fall about 6.30 and 9 p.m. There is a secondary maximum on the night of the 10th at 6.45. There are other displays on the morning of the 12th from 2 to 5.30, and on the night of the 13th between 10 and midnight. Meteors should be plentiful also on the night of the 16th and during the morning hours of the 17th. The Orionids, which used to be the most notable shower in the month before the Draconids came into prominence, will be mostly in evidence on the night of the 20th and early morning of the 21st, but there is a preliminary maximum also on the 19th about 10 p.m. and another after midnight. There is considerable meteoric intensity on the nights of the 23rd to the 25th between 9 and midnight, and in a less degree during the corresponding hours of the 29th and 30th.

General Napier.

The sale by auction in London the other day of some personal effects of General Sir Charles James Napier recalls that great, but peppery, soldier's associations with Ireland. His first military service was, in fact, given in Ireland in the rebellion of 1798, when he was aide-de-camp to Sir James Duff. He was born in London in 1782 and got his commission in 1794, so that he was but a stripling when the rebellion broke out. His father, Colonel the Hon. George Napier, was a son of the fifth Lord Napier and a descendant of John Naper, or Napier, Lord of Merchiston, in Scotland, whose discovery of logarithms was made known in 1614. A younger brother was General Sir William Francis Napier, historian of the Peninsular War and a native of Castletown, near Celbridge, County Kildare. During the rebellion Colonel Napier declined to favour the drastic coercive measures which were put in operation in the North, and for this reason was given a post in the South. Sir Charles commanded the 50th Foot in Sir John Moore's retreat to Corunna, and was severely wounded in the battle itself. His special niche in history is in connection with the conquest of the Ameers of Scinde.

Lady Sarah Lennox.

His mother was the famous Lady Sarah Lennox, who figures with her sister, Louisa, in Thomas Moore's "Life of Lord Edward Fitzgerald." George III. thought so much of her that only for the intervention of his mother he would have married her, and she would have become Queen of England. She was a daughter of the second Duke of Richmond, and was connected with the Fox and other great Whig families. In Moore's "Lord Edward" Lady Sarah Napier appears as exerting herself on behalf of the Fitzgerald family, both before and after the United Irish leader's death. Several letters written by her and by her father are printed in that volume. From both his father and his mother Sir Charles inherited views and opinions that were markedly liberal and independent for his period. For a time he was Governor of Cephalonia, and again of Hyderabad, and though he was a strict disciplinarian he was the idol of his soldiers in peace as well as war. During his administrations he had more than one brush with the home authorities, and his despatches were described as acrimonious. He was regarded as a democrat, and in those days a democrat was a man whose trend of thought was opposed to most of the views maintained in military circles.

No. 34a.

Mr. Charles Bewley, the Minister for the Free State in Berlin, was one of the foreign diplomats who was invited by the German Government to the huge party convention in Nürnberg in the middle of last month. Although the special train which conveyed the representatives, and the station at which they arrived, were together transformed into a vast hotel with baths, hairdressing stands and other appurtenances, the tenants of the Tiergartenstrasse must have missed the spaciousness and comforts of their own apartments. Mr. Bewley's residence in No. 34a is one of the most attractive, if not one of the most vast, in that street. It lies, like all the other Embassies, to the left of the great park, and it is immediately preceded by the Brazilian Minister's residence. Lying a few houses more citywards is the Turkish Embassy, which announces itself with the single symbol of the golden crescent moon above the entrance. If one were led blindfold to Mr. Bewley's apartments it would not be so easy to discover, judging by the works of art and literature representing many nations to be found there, in whose house one was. There the latest Yeats editions may be seen on the tables, side by side with an Italian novel of interest. On the walls hang the works of the German Otto Dix, the Italian artist Chiricio, paintings by Signac, of the French Pointillis school, and an example of the work of Picasso. Together they make a very interesting impression of form of very modern work. The carpets, however, strike an all-Irish note—the production of Dun Emer. Mr. Bewley is one of the most energetic of foreign representatives. He is present at every lecture and function of any importance in Berlin. He may be seen now and again in the company of Count Schwerin, the Minister for Finance, who has a common tie with the Free State Minister in that they are both Oxford men. Mr. Bewley was present at the lecture on European races given by Dr. Rosenberg recently in Berlin in which Ireland's race origins were described by a line drawn through the island cutting it in half. Among the Irish legal friends who spent some weeks of this summer at the Legation was Dr. Thomas Bodkin, who lectured before the University of Berlin four years ago.

MOTOR NOTES.

Improved Gear-Boxes and Bigger Engines.

Features of the London and Paris Shows.

BY HAROLD C. BROWN.

THE Motor Show opens on Thursday at Olympia, London. There will be over 500 exhibitors and over six miles of stands. This exhibition is so colossal that one can spend every day of the Show period at Olympia and yet miss many things of interest.

Cars are becoming so perfect that only minor mechanical changes are possible each year. Consequently it is not easy to decide what particular tendency, if any, is the most notable of the Show.

Probably the almost unanimous adoption by British manufacturers of easy gear-change devices is as striking as any other development of recent years.

At times in the past the engines seemed to monopolise attention, as though speed were the only consideration. The amount of experiment and improvement carried out in connection with gear boxes since 1930 is consequently to be welcomed.

Motoring is becoming easier and more comfortable as a result of pre-selective gear control, synchromesh gear-boxes, and other easy change devices.

Equipment this year is even more elaborate and luxurious. Frames are stronger. Engines are "growing," this being a sequel to the reduced horse power tax in Great Britain.

One firm is to show a car which can be converted into saloon or open tourer at will. Independent springing of front wheels is at last receiving the attention of British manufacturers.

An Analysis.

A MOTORING journal publishes an analysis of specifications of cars on the British market. This is mechanically informative. The points which it reveals will be reflected at the Show.

It indicates, for example, that the steady increase in the popularity of coil, at the expense of magneto, ignition has been checked. Eighty-three per cent. of this year's cars—the same proportion as of last year's cars—have coil ignition fitted.

The four-cylinder engine has made up some of the ground lost to the "six" a number of years ago. Almost half the engines on the British market, it is true, still have six-cylinder engines, but for four years more than half were "sixes." Eight cylinders are fewer than four or five years ago.

The side valve is holding its own, though it is not so popular as the o.h.v. Open shaft transmission is gaining at the expense of torque tube. Independent front suspension has increased to 18.4 per cent., as compared with 9.94 per cent. last year and 1.57 per cent. in 1931. Four-speed gear-boxes are not notably more numerous than in 1933.

Costly Cars.

THERE are 20 cars costing more than £1,000 each on the British market. Of these five are Italian, five French, four British, two United States, two Belgian, one Canadian, and one German.

The most expensive car is the 54-220 Hispano-Suiza, which costs £3,750; next comes the 40-50 Rolls Royce at £2,425; the 36-98 Mercedes-Benz at £1,890; the 30-120 Hispano-Suiza at £1,875; the 44.3 Isotta-Fraschini at £1,625, and the 51 Lincoln and 40 Minerva each at £1,600.

Of the cars on sale in Britain, 54.52 per cent. are home products, a higher proportion than in recent years. France, Germany and Italy have fewer cars on the market than in 1933. The United States has rather more.

It is not generally known that France sells almost as many cars as the United States does in England.

Canada, Czechoslovakia and Austria maintain fairly consistently their places in the market.

The Salon.

THE Paris Motor Show opened last week. It was notable for the number of French manufacturers showing cars with front wheel drive. The proportion is said to have been about 75 per cent.

Independent suspension of each wheel is another Continental development which has shown a marked acceleration in the past twelve months.

It will be recalled that front wheel drive and independently-sprung wheels were features of some of the foreign cars in the Leinster Trophy race last August.

Exhibitors at the Paris Show usually contrive to produce more spectacular effects than do those showing at Olympia. It is an altogether more gorgeous affair than the British show.

This year some extraordinary streamlined cars have been on view. Beside them recent American models which have attracted attention in Dublin streets looked coldly orthodox.

Research.

AN immense amount of research and very large sums of money are being spent every year with the object of making motors more reliable and motoring safer.

With many firms road racing is regarded as a means for testing engineering experiments, rather than as a sport. It is no secret that in an event of considerable importance this year a firm which would easily have been in the running for the premier award sacrificed their chances of that honour in order to test out an engine, or, rather, a number of engines in which somewhat revolutionary features had been incorporated.

But firms which do not race their cars or motor cycles are not necessarily oblivious to the necessity for experiment and research. Virtually every firm in the British Isles has what is known as an "experimental shop," a combined laboratory and engineering shop, where new devices, new models, new fuels and new methods are tried out.

It is desirable in the interests of the industry as a whole that some effort should be made to correlate the efforts of individual schools of experimenters. Something in this line is done by the Research and Standardisation Committee of the Institute of Automobile Engineers, who recently sent me their report for the 1933-34 period.

This shows that approximately £9,000 was expended in the twelve months on various research and technical work. Tests are constantly in progress. At two workshops cylinder wear is being investigated. Experiments have also been in progress in connection with valve seat wear, big end bearings, oil consumption, brake linings and drums, piston temperatures, corrosion of ball bearings in storage, streamlining, road impact, vibration, insulation, etc.

Veteran Car Run.

THE annual commemoration run for veteran cars from London to Brighton will this year take place on Sunday, November 18th.

This run is organised by the Royal Automobile Club to commemorate the date on which the Locomotives on Highways Act, 1896, came into force. This was the Act which relieved motorists of the need for being preceded by a man carrying a red flag and fixed a maximum speed for motor cars of 14 m.p.h.

Cars eligible to compete in the run, which is not in any sense a race, must have been manufactured not later than 1904, which means that every car participating is at least thirty years old.

Last year no fewer than 80 cars were entered, the oldest having been manufactured in 1894.

Autumn Trial.

THE Autumn Trial of the Dublin and District Motor Cycle Club was the first event counting in the inter-club reliability championship to be held for some months. The results, which should improve the positions of the Dublin and District and Leinster clubs, are as follow:—

Premier Award—M. J. Hogan.

First Class Awards—A. J. Moran, A. H. L. Archer, V. Stevenson, J. C. Millard, R. G. Leask.

Second Class Awards—J. G. Burney, "C. Roberts," E. I. Gibson, H. R. H. Sharpe.

Also finished—A. E. G. Moore, H. Topping, J. G. Sinclair, A. G. MacFarlane, S. D. Campbell, H. V. Rea, S. T. Healy, C. E. J. Atkinson.

Team Awards:—Club team—Dublin and District (J. C. Millard, J. G. Burney, V. Stevenson); one make team—Velocette (A. Archer, V. Stevenson, R. Sharpe).

Also started—A. Lyons.

Daily Programme Review.

DUBLIN: "Play Bills," Dorothy Day and Company, 8.40.

B.B.C. NATIONAL: "The Radio Rogues," from America, 9.15.

ALL REGIONALS: "Old Bannerman," by Eden Phillpotts, 8.45.

SCOTTISH REGIONAL: Recital of Scottish Folk Songs, 8.15.

HUIZEN: Organ Recital, 9.20.

KALUNDBORG: Light Orchestral Concert, 7.30.

THE people who are trying to prove that the works of Bach are too stodgy to be enjoyed nowadays—that classical music is now considered old-fashioned and frumpish, and that the British public is unmusical—must have experienced a severe set-back if they heard the "Prom" aftermath on Saturday night.

The prolonged applause was not vulgar cat-calling; it was a genuine outburst of gratitude for a series of promenade concerts given for the fortieth year at the Queen's Hall, London, which may now be described as a significant British institution. It was also a tribute of deep affection for Sir Henry Wood, to whom in a remarkable degree is due the widespread and very keen appreciation of orchestral music now manifest in England.

From the start the standard of these concerts was set high, but the standard of forty years ago must appear lowly in comparison with that which audiences now themselves demand.

Forty years ago the audience comprised only those who were fortunate enough to be in the Queen's Hall itself. To-day, by means of radio, music-lovers the world over are privileged to listen.

A new play by Eden Phillpotts, written expressly for the microphone, will be broadcast in to-night's Regional programmes. Two things only need be said—it is written by the author of that enormous success, "The Farmer's Wife," and Cyril Maude, who made "Grumpy" such a lovable old tyrant, will be heard in the title rôle. The name of the play is "Old Bannerman," a West Indian yarn.

"Back in Town" is a programme to be given by some of the radio favourites who are now migrating from various seaside resorts where they have been contributing to the concert party season. The Western Brothers are among a list of well-known names. (All Regionals, 7).

Hamburg will relay a performance of "Credo," from the Mass in B minor (Bach) by the Bremen Cathedral choir, the Bremen State Orchestra and soloists at 8.

From London Regional last night, instead of the "American Points of View" (1), which was postponed, listeners heard a wonderful concert given by the Vienna Boys' Choir. Their selections varied from sixteenth-century church music to compositions by Mozart, Schubert and Strauss. Judging from last night's concert, listeners would be well advised to watch out for further performances by this choir, which has some delightful voices, including a particularly beautiful soprano.

MEMORIAL TO LADY HOLMPATRICK.

DEDICATED BY DR. GREGG.

A memorial to the Dowager Lady HolmPatrick was dedicated by the Archbishop of Dublin at Castleknock Church, Co. Dublin, yesterday morning. The memorial, which is the gift of Lord HolmPatrick and his family, consists of a panel round the sanctuary, a Holy Table, two chairs in the sanctuary, and a prayer desk and chair, all in beautifully carved oak. These additions have enhanced the beauty of the church, which recently has been painted and decorated internally.

Yesterday there was a congregation of nearly 400 at the Service, which was conducted by the Rector of the parish, the Rev. Robert H. Bodel, M.A., the Archbishop of Dublin preaching the sermon.

Lord HolmPatrick read the Lessons and the Archbishop performed the act of dedication and said the prayers.

Holy Communion Service followed Morning Prayer.

The Archbishop, before his sermon, said:—I am glad to be with you to-day to dedicate this handsome addition to your church—the panelling round the sanctuary, the Holy Table and the prayer desk. These gifts come from members of the Hamilton family, which has been long identified with Castleknock Church. In 1803 the foundation stone of the present fabric, which was to replace an older one, was laid by Mr. Hans Hamilton, M.P. for County Dublin, and in 1864 the spire was added to the tower in memory of him.

The beauty of the church will be greatly enhanced by these valuable additions. But I am glad also to dedicate them in memory of the late Lady HolmPatrick She was a grand-daughter of the great Duke of Wellington, and her father, Lord Charles Wellesley, was baptised in 1808 in this church, in which later she was to be a constant worshipper. A woman with a strong sense of duty and discipline, she threw herself keenly into the work of a number of societies, at the meetings of one of which I used frequently to meet her—viz., the Female Orphan House, North Circular road, Dublin, of which she was President. I am glad to think she will be lastingly commemorated in this church through these gifts of her children. She served God and her fellow-men faithfully, and she has left an honourable example to us who came after her.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

A TAX ON GARDENING.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Mr. de Valera's Government makes it very difficult for even the most friendly-disposed and best-intentioned of the more liberal-minded of those who prefer even economic nationalism (much as they dislike it) and even cultural nationalism (much as they abhor it) to Fascism in any shape or form. We were willing to submit to the taxation of our food and clothes without excessive grumbling, but the taxation of the most harmless of our recreations is almost too much for our fidelity.

I am a gardener. It is the only outdoor recreation open to me. First, Mr. de Valera puts a packet tax on my seeds and bulbs. Now he subjects my plants to a Customs duty! Does the Executive Council realise that there are many of the rarer Alpine plants—for example, such as are grown by Ingwersen and by Colonel Grey, of Hocker Edge, or Major Thorp, of Baltonsborough, to name only three of the many British specialists, which cannot be obtained at any price in the Irish Free State? The demand is probably too small, in any case, to make it worth while growing them commercially. The receipts from the Customs duty on such plants are bound to be too small to justify the imposition of the tax. It will help nobody, but it will embarrass and irritate amateur gardeners like myself, whose main interest in life outside their bread and butter work is to grow rare Alpines. Why should we be irritated and mulcted? Are we not doing useful work in adding to the horticultural wealth of Ireland?

I do not so much object to the Customs duty on trees and shrubs. Local firms can supply almost any tree or shrub. But where in the Irish Free State is there to be found a firm able to supply the rarer of the Alpines? I very much doubt whether even the best firm in the Irish Free State can compete with Ingwersen or Hocker Edge, or some of the American growers, or with Cameron of Geneva. There are growers here and there in the Free State who can supply rarities along special lines, but for quite a number of rarities, and even plants that are not exactly rare, it is necessary to go abroad. Price is another consideration to the amateur. British prices are quite definitely lower than Irish. And when the minimum Customs duty of half-a-crown is added to a plant costing a shilling or two the cost becomes prohibitive unless one imports at least 5lb. of roots at a time, a proceeding distasteful to the real enthusiast, who prefers to buy one or two plants here and one or two plants there when he sees what he wants advertised in Britain or India, or Japan or America.

I see no objection to buying in the Free State such plants as are obtainable here at a reasonable price. That will apply to all ordinary garden plants. But it does not apply to the greatest treasures. If I wrong the growers of the Irish Free State, I apologise to them, and shall be only too glad to be supplied with lists by those who are able to offer the rarer Alpines. I do not write this letter with any hope that my plea may be successful, or that Mr. de Valera will take pity on us poor gardeners or become an enthusiast himself. Would that we were ruled by a gardener!—Yours, etc.,

YACHTSMEN IN WINTER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The writer of the article "Yachtsmen in Winter" has been guilty of a grave offence, and has cast a slur on the whole yachting community—I might almost say fraternity—and, as one who has for some years basked in the smiles of those competing with me, I hasten to assert that any remarks one yachtsman might make to another during the course of a contest are couched invariably in the most courteous language.

Sometimes it has happened that, due to excess of zeal—or, shall we say, through reading the rules in a bad light and without the aid of glasses?—a competitor has, inadvertently, of course, committed a breach of such rules, and, perhaps, thereby caused inconvenience to others. In such circumstances some feel vexed with the offender, but a shake of the head or a reproving look is sufficient to make such a one blush with shame, upon which his fellows know and rejoice that the lesson has been learnt, and immediately encourage and lift the drooping spirit with three hearty cheers.—Yours, etc.,

CLONLIFFE ROAD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I am taking advantage of the renewed sale of the Irish Times to draw the attention of both motorists and the responsibe authority to the dangerous condition of the surface of Clonliffe road, Dublin. I have noticed in recent years that even in dry weather the shiny surface of this particular thoroughfare is apt to encourage skidding. In wet weather the surface is an absolute menace. I have had three very bad skids with three different cars. Last week, while travelling slowly, I had to apply my brakes to avoid a cyclist who, without warning, shot out of a side road across my bows. The car turned round completely five times. I am a driver of ten years' experience, and my car holds the road very well. If the various drivers who use Clonliffe road read this letter it may be the means of avoiding fatal accidents. It is about time that our Corporatoin gave us roads, and not skating rinks, which are a menace to motorists, cyclists and pedestrians alike.—Yours, etc.,

THE IRISH MILITIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I am engaged on a study of the Irish Militia during the period 1793-1816. My study covers the political, military and social aspects of the Militia for the period named, to which I am limiting myself; it has, I think, special interest.

I am very anxious to hear of out-of-the-way or special sources of information, unpublished letters from militia officers of the period or anything of this sort. For instance, I am seeking information in particular about the recruiting proceedings in the year 1793—how far the ballot machinery was in fact used in the different counties of Ireland and how far the regiments and battalions were raised without recourse to it.

If any of your readers could help me about this, as it is most probable that they can, I should be very much obliged.—Yours, etc.,

WHY?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Your correspondent pays 1s. 4d. for her butter in order that the English housewife may buy hers for 8d.

As the Government points out, if she does not do this, she runs the risk of losing a market that is of no value. So, you see, there is no "catch." It is perfectly simple.—Yours, etc.,

POUND DAY AT CHILDREN'S HOME.

Many gifts were left at Miss Carr's Home for Destitute Children, Northbrook road, Dublin, on Friday, when the annual pound day and anniversary meetings were held.

During the afternoon, when the annual report was presented to a meeting under the chairmanship of Canon Strong, Rector of St. Matthias's, it was stated that there were thirty-five children in the Home. They had had a very successful year, and the health of the children was good. Many applications for the admission of children were received annually. The speakers made an appeal for further support for the work which Miss Carr had undertaken.

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

At the weekly meeting of the Dublin Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held at 29 South Frederick street, Mr. F. S. Roberts presided, and there were also present Miss Tuckey, Mr. Lefroy, Miss N. Blakeney, Mr. Patterson, Mr. Hopkins.

Eight cases were reported by the inspectors during the week, and there were two convictions.

Subscriptions were announced from Mrs. Hewson, £1; Miss A. M. Hutton, £1.

DUBLIN WEDDING.

MR. L. P. HARTE AND MISS M. E. HANNA.

The marriage took place on Saturday last in Christ Church, Rathgar, Dublin, of Mr. Leonard Patrick Harte, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harte, 11 Eaton square, Terenure, Dublin, and Miss Muriel Emily Hanna, daughter of the late Mr. John Hanna and Mrs. Hanna, 36 Hannaville Park, Terenure, Dublin.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. Macaulay, D.D.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Cecil E. Hanna. She wore a charming frock of shell pink ring velvet, with a hat to match, edged with stiffened net. Her bouquet was of roses in a deeper shade of pink than her dress.

Miss Betty Hanna, sister of the bride, and Miss Eileen Patterson were the bridesmaids. They wore dresses of turquoise blue, with black hats trimmed with turquoise, and carried bouquets of apricot carnations. Mr. Jack Harte acted as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held by the bride's mother, who wore a becoming black brocaded satin dress, with a black hat and veil.

During the afternoon the bride and bridegroom left for London, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride travelled in a blue and oyster suit, with a hat to match. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a grey lace frock.

PARNELL ANNIVERSARY.

In commemoration of the 43rd anniversary of the death of Mr. Charles Stewart Parnell a procession of about 200 people took place to his grave in Glasnevin Cemetery yesterday. The procession marched from Parnell square past the memorial statue at the top of O'Connell street.

Wreaths were laid on the grave by Mr. W. J. Phillips, Mr. C. Saunders, Captain N. Harrington, Mr. P. Edwards, Mr. F. J. Burns and family, Mr. T. Coffey, and Senator Mrs. Wyse Power.

Mr. W. J. Phillips, hon. secretary of the Parnell Commemoration Committee, delivered a short address.

FROM THE NORTHERN CAPITAL.

Parliament and Unemployment : The Magistrates : Rail and Road Transport : New Milk Scheme.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BELFAST, Friday.

THE Northern Parliament re-assembled this week for the autumn sittings. This is not a new session, but merely a continuance of the session opened earlier in the year. The members were pleased to welcome back the Speaker, the Right Hon. H. G. H. Mulholland, who has recovered from the indisposition which caused his absence from the chair before the adjournment. The Speaker has the respect and confidence of all sections of the House in a remarkable degree, and there was general regret at his enforced absence.

Parliament had not long re-assembled until the Government was brought face to face with the unemployment problem. It is quite evident that the Government has no new plan to reduce unemployment, but intends to rely upon the local authorities to put forward relief schemes and to assist, as in the past, the promotion of shipbuilding and other industries by the loans guarantee facilities. It is generally admitted that owing to a variety of reasons, including new methods of production, that neither the shipbuilding nor linen industries of the North will employ in the future as many as they did in the past. In these circumstances it is regretted that no new large industries are being established to absorb the surplus population. Some of the existing industries, however, such as tobacco manufacturing, rope-making and engineering, are in a prosperous condition and giving more employment. The agricultural industry also shows signs of reviving prosperity.

Education.

During the unemployment debate it was pointed out that the way to attract new industries to Northern Ireland was for the local authorities to keep the rates low, and that this would be an attractive form of inducement to industrialists to establish factories. But last year the Government by transferring some of the cost of educational services, which were always a State charge, to the local authorities, has done more to increase the rates than the local authorities, while the failure to maintain the "fifty-fifty" grant for distress relief and throwing the whole burden upon local authorities is likely to increase the Belfast rates substantially. The total cost of education to the State is now a little short of two millions sterling.

The annual report of the Ministry, which was issued this week, states that if any parity of administration with Great Britain is to be maintained, improvements and additions to the educational services cannot be continued to be provided almost wholly from the Parliamentary vote, and that some further levy from the ratepayers must be made to meet the additional cost. The local authorities do not object to such further levies for improvements in school buildings, school medical services and similar additions, but they strongly resent the action of the Government in foisting upon them portion of the cost of educational services, which was always a State charge in Ireland.

Justices of the Peace.

The Summary Jurisdiction Bill to curtail the powers of the lay Justices of the Peace has raised a storm of controversy. The text of the bill has not yet been published, but the Minister of Home Affairs (Sir Dawson Bates) in May last announced that the Government, in consequence of representations made to it, had decided to reform the whole system of summary jurisdiction, and to relieve Justices of the Peace of their judicial functions. It was not the intention, he declared, to abolish the office of Justice of the Peace, or to deprive them of many other functions, such as the signing of summonses and warrants, the administration of oaths, and the taking of informations, depositions and declarations, or the power to remand and admit to bail. The principal reason for the Government's decision is the complaints against the packing of the bench in betting cases. That there is a necessity for some reform is generally admitted, but, as the evil exists principally in Belfast, it is felt that a remedy could be imposed without casting any reflection upon the administration of justice by the magistrates generally throughout the Six Counties.

If the Government carries out its original intention of abolishing the judicial functions of the Justices of the Peace the decision will not be a popular one, either with the magistrates or the public.

Rail and Road.

The bill for the co-ordination of rail and road transport, based upon the report of Sir Felix Pole, has been approved in principle by the Northern Cabinet, but will not be introduced until early next year. The proposed scheme has met with opposition in a number of areas, and there is a feeling abroad that the railways will be given a monopoly of road transport. The main purpose of the bill will be to eliminate uneconomic competition, not only in fairness to the railways, but in the interest of a co-ordinated road transport system, and ultimately in the interest of the general public. It does not necessarily follow that the railways will secure a monopoly, but if they do secure anything in the nature of a monopoly it will be subject to strict control in the interests of the public. The railways are to remain under present management, but they will be required to pool their earnings with other leading road transport concerns, the constituent companies sharing in the available profits in proportion to their earnings in a standard year. It is almost inevitable that the public will have to pay more, but it is hoped that economies that may be effected will make the amounts not so large as at present anticipated by critics of the scheme.

New Milk Scheme.

The Northern farmers have gained considerably by the pig-marketing scheme and the beef scheme, and there are already indications that they will secure a great advantage from the new milk scheme. The scheme is very comprehensive, and will affect producers, retailers, distributors and consumers. The producers are to get a fixed price if they carry out certain conditions; the retailers get a fair margin of profit, but they must retail their milk in a proper manner, and the consumers are expected to pay a reasonable price. Only thirty per cent. of the Ulster milk is sold for consumption in liquid form, and the balance is sent to the creameries or manufactured. Creamery milk will get a fixed price of fivepence per gallon, and one object of the scheme is to prevent creamery milk being dumped on the liquid market at any price. Milk will be sold for liquid consumption in three grades—A, B, C. Grade A milk will be produced under the existing regulations in regard to tuberculin-tested cows, and bottled on the premises of the producer. Grade B cows will have no "T.B." test, but a clinical test. Cattle and byres will be inspected, and milk retailed in bottles. Grade C milk also will involve a clinical test for cows and inspection of byres, but it is not essential that it should be cooled, sterilised or bottled. All milk-producers will pay a levy up to threepence per gallon in case of Grade C to help to meet the guaranteed price for creamery milk. The scheme does not encourage home-making of butter, except for personal use.

Herring Fishing.

The herring fishing season, which has concluded, has been the worst experienced by Northern fishermen for the past forty years. The combined landings at Ardglass, Kilkeel and Portavogie, the three principal herring fishing harbours on the County Down coast, according to the official figures, have totalled 5,919 cwt., valued at £3,873, compared with 1933, (also a poor year) 29,262 cwt., valued at £15,468. The same comparative figures hold good for the Donegal coast, where in 1934, during the spring season, the landings were only 2,390 cwt., valued at £1,302. In 1928, at Buncrana, the May-June season produced 33,400 cwt., valued at £21,068, and at Ardglass alone, in 1926, herring valued at £71,000 were landed.

The disappearance of the herring from their usual feeding grounds is a mystery. It is believed that it is largely attributable to the vagaries of the Gulf Stream. It is known that the principal feeding for the herrings is carried by the Gulf's current, consisting of minute marine animalcular. The slightest variation in the current shift these minute particles, and naturally the herrings follow. But it has not been possible to discover where the herrings have gone. The temperature of the water also has an important bearing upon the presence of the herring shoals.

INTERNATIONAL ATHLETICS.

N.A.C.A. LEAVES FEDERATION.

PROTEST AGAINST SPORTS "BORDER."

THE Congress of the N.A.C.A. on Saturday night, after a lengthy discussion, decided by 51 votes to 23 not to accept the ruling of the International Amateur Athletic Federation restricting the jurisdiction of the N.A.C.A. to control of athletics with in the Free State.

The Congress was specially summoned to consider the decision of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, which at its Congress in Stockholm ruled that the National Athletic and Cycling Association of Ireland should confine its activities to the political entity known as the Irish Free State and that Northern Ireland should be regarded as coming within the jurisdiction of the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain.

Mr. P. C. Moore, President of the N.A.C.A., presided, and there was a big attendance of delegates at the meeting in Wynn's Hotel, Dublin.

Messrs. P. C. Moore (President), E. Fleming (Central Council), J. J. McGilton (secretary) and T. E. Nolan (treasurer) had attended the Stockholm Congress to present the case of the N.A.C.A. for jurisdiction over all Ireland.

The President said that that was the most momentous Congress in the history of the N.A.C.A., for the destiny of Irish athletics lay in their hands. No matter what was their decision they must preserve the unity of their Association.

Reviewing what happened at Stockholm, he said that one very important change had been made in the constitution of the I.A.A.F. It was the adoption of a rule vesting express power in the Council of the Federation and enabling the Council to suspend any member of the Federation from membership for a breach of any of the rules of the Federation. The Council would suspend the N.A.C.A. if that body did not accept the Federation's decision. The International Federation, at its Congress, decided that the jurisdiction of the N.A.C.A. was confined to the Irish Free State, and that Northern Ireland came within the jurisdiction of the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain, and, in order to implement that ruling, they changed the title of the A.A.A. of Great Britain to that of Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, though the name of the N.A.C.A. remained unchanged, and it was laid down that the N.A.C.A. must limit its jurisdiction to the area of the twenty-six counties. Their delegates protested against the title "Great Britain and Northern Ireland," but the Chairman of the Congress (Mr. Abrahams) would not let them discuss the matter at that stage. The countries voting for the change were Belgium, Denmark, Germany, Great Britain, Hungary, Poland, South Africa, Sweden and the U.S.A. Ten members of the Congress had abstained from voting, and the proposal was carried by nine votes to one against.

PLEA TO I.A.A.F.

The delegates of the N.A.C.A. stated at the I.A.A.F. meeting that in 1924 the control of athletics in all Ireland had been vested in the N.A.C.A., and that no change had taken place since to warrant the Council limiting its jurisdiction or altering its status. They also pointed out that all the other sporting associations in this country exercised control over the thirty-two counties. It was also pointed out that if the decision of the Council of the Federation were approved it would mean the end of amateur sport in this country. The Chairman of the Council was against the Irish case all the time.

Mr. Moore said that the discussion lasted one and a half hours, but they might as well have been talking to deaf mutes as far as the Council were concerned.

It comes to this, he said—that it is a question of what the big Powers—Great Britain, U.S.A., France, Germany and Italy—do. What they decide the small nations must accept. Neither will the small nations have a representative on the Council of the Federation.

He continued: After the vote had been taken at a subsequent meeting, over which the Vice-President, Mr. Brundige (of the U.S.A.), presided, the N.A.C.A. Secretary (Mr. McGilton) asked for a ruling on the question whether an Irish team selected by the N.A.C.A. to represent Ireland and entered for the European Championships would be permitted to compete as representing Ireland. The answer to that query was that Congress had decided that the jurisdiction of the N.A.C.A. was confined to the Irish Free State, and if it competed at the European Championships it could only compete as representing the Irish Free State. Mr. McGilton stated that in view of that ruling their delegation had no alternative but to withdraw the Irish team from participation in the European Games. Their delegates had no authority from the Association to accept the new status. Consequently the team was withdrawn.

AN ULSTER MEETING.

When the delegates returned they got a notice from England, and subsequently from the Federation, that the Ulster Championships were being held under the jurisdiction of the N.A.C.A. in defiance of the decision of the Federation, and they wanted an answer whether that was the fact. Two delegates from the Standing Committee of the N.A.C.A. met Ulster members of the Association in Belfast. A meeting of the Ulster Council of the Association was called, but the Chairman of that Council ruled a request for a postponement out of order on the ground that notice of motion had not been given. They had been told that all the clubs in Ulster, with the exception of one, were prepared to stand by the Central Council, and that if the meeting were proclaimed they would not participate in the championships. The meeting was held, and their clubs, with the exception of one or two and a few individuals, did not participate.

Mr. E. Fleming said that the Association came into being with the good-will of three athletic bodies then functioning in this country—viz., the G.A.A., the I.A.A.A. and the I.C.C.A., and they who functioned with the good-will of the G.A.A. had no right to determine whether they accept Free State status or otherwise. He thought the G.A.A. should be asked to give their advice on this matter, which meant debarring a man fr.m competing internationally or alternatively killing the Association altogether. He proposed a motion to that effect.

Dr. O'Sullivan, Kerry, seconded. They should postpone the matter until the G.A.A., which was mainly responsible for the foundation of the N.A.C.A., should give some indication of what they thought.

Mr. George Ryan, Clonliffe Harriers, Dublin, said that the G.A.A. had nothing to do with the N.A.C.A. It had stepped out. He proposed an amendment that the question be decided by that Congress.

Mr. Charles McManus, Donore Harriers, Dublin, seconded the amendment.

Mr. Fitzsimons (Ulster) said that if they had had the help of the G.A.A. in Ulster the position would have been different. He did not think the G.A.A. had any claim or control over them. It was purely a matter for the Council itself.

Mr. Barrett, Cork, also favoured postponement. Certain clubs in his area did not get an opportunity to come to that Congress owing to the short notice. From the athletic point of view he appreciated the hardship it would be on people who had been accustomed to compete internationally. They were proud of the fact that their athletes had raised their country's flag at these international games, and their record did not warrant such an insult as had been offered to them by the Federation. Were they going to take that insult from the Abrahams and other foreigners? It was extraordinary that they should be turned down by a minority vote of nine representatives who were dominated by England. It was remarkable that Germany and U.S.A. should vote with England against them. If they accepted this status they had no right to call themselves N.A.C.A.—it was adding insult to injury.

THE G.A.A.

Mr. Dinan (Cork) said that were it not for the G.A.A. down the country they would not have one-quarter of the sports meetings, and they should consult the G.A.A. now.

Mr. Mole (Ulster) said that this thing had gone on for the last six months in Belfast, where they were told that the G.A.A. were going to drive the N.A.C.A. to a decision. They had not got the support of the G.A.A. in Ulster. Some of the Ulster G.A.A. clubs allowed flapper meetings on the grounds. He had no hesitation in saying that if the G.A.A. had backed them up there would be no "Three A's" in Belfast, and the position there would have been different. He appealed to Mr. Fleming to withdraw his motion.

On a show of hands 29 delegates voted for the amendment to take a decision that night, and 11 voted against. Other motions to delay a decision were defeated on a show of hands.

Mr. Fleming (Central Council) said that the delegation at the Stockholm Congress fought a hard case, but the Federation decided it would be contrary to its constitution to allow the N.A.C.A. to continue as a controlling body over a political area to which they did not belong. The coins, stamps and passports of the Free State were submitted to the Federation as evidence of the fact that they were a separate political entity. He could not see that they could defy the Federation on an athletic issue, as they had already accepted the position on the cycling issue.

Mr. M. Byrne (Dublin) said that if they retained their All-Ireland status they would have an opportunity of building up their sport and finances, and after a period they might be in a stronger position to fight the international congress.

Mr. Ryan (G.S.Rly.) said it would be a shame if they sold their birthright, and he hoped that the vote of that Congress would show that Ireland was still Ireland. If they accepted the Federation's ruling now, future generations would say that their fathers denied them the right to bring honour to their country in the name of Ireland. It would be a monstrous thing if they were to force their fellow-countrymen in the North-East to become non-Irishmen.

TAILTEANN GAMES.

Mr. J. Conaghan, Standing Committee, thought that in existing circumstances it would not be for the benefit of the Association to continue international status. To put it baldly, he thought the Association had been victimised by the Federation.

Mr. D. Barrett (Cork) said they should be very slow to split the country on this matter. If they accepted this status they would have no right to continue the Tailteann Games.

The Chairman said that they could not retain the Tailteann Games unless they retained international status. Unless they accepted the decision of the Federation none of their Irish exiles could compete here. At all events, they could only compete with international suspension as a penalty.

They could have the Tailteann Games purely for their own athletes.

Mr. Barrett said they should be very slow to write their own funeral notice simply because a few of the Great Powers deprived them of international recognition. National honour was more important than international recognition.

Mr. George Ryan (Clonliffe Harriers) said that international athletics were the life-blood of the clubs, and politics should not enter into the matter. It was the wish of his club to participate in international athletics, and they thought it would be a shame if any young athletes, either of the present or the future, were driven into the wilderness. This international aspect would right itself after a season or two.

Mr. T. Ryan (Tipperary) said he did not think that through athletics they should lose the name of their nation, and go back on their fellow-countrymen in the North.

Mr. C. MacManus (Donore Harriers) said that the only attraction for the public was international athletics, and he would not like to see them driven out of the country.

Mr. O'Reilly (Ulster) said that supposing they accepted the position of the Federation, and that he were good enough to win international recognition, he would have to compete as an Englishman. Would that be denying or retaining his nationality?

Mr. O'Doherty, Dublin, said that he was pround to say that the international men connected with his club had told him they would never put athletics before their conception of nationality. They were the first to say that they would be always Irishmen first and runners afterwards.

Mr. Fitzsimons, Ulster, asked was it correct to say that if they lost international status the Northern Association would have the support of England when they applied for recognition by the Federation as an independent unit?

The Chairman—It is quite possible.

Mr. Fitzsimons—Will they get the international recognition that we have at the moment?

The Chairman—It has been intimated to me that if our Association loses its international status Northern Ireland will then apply for separate recognition by the Federation.

Mr. Fitzsimons said he was informed there was a great possibility that if the flag question could be settled the Ulster people would work in harmony.

Sergeant Navin, Garda, disapproved of the Federation's ruling, and urged that it should be rejected.

Mr. Duinan, Cork, said they all knew who was responsible for the severance of the six counties. It was no Irishman, but the old enemy.

Mr. Falvey, Clare, said they were there from Clare to reject the decision of the Federation.

Dr. O'Sullivan, Kerry, said there would be no peace in athletics in this country if the decision of the Federation were recognised. No county in Munster would recognise the decision.

FREE STATE FLAG.

Mr. Moil, Ulster, asked was it possible for the N.A.C.A. to come to an arrangement with the people in Northern Ireland for an All-Ireland Association.

Mr. Fleming, Standing Committee, said he had been told by an English representative (Mr. Abrahams) at Stockholm that the men of the North were not prepared to accept the Free State flag, and if the Free State adopted the Four Provinces flag as the Irish Flag, they would support them in pressing for international recognition on the basis of an all Ireland.

Mr. O'Reilly (Ulster) said he was in favour of the Free State flag, but it was a political flag, and why allow a political flag to keep the breach open in Irish athletics?

Dr. O'Sullivan (Kerry) said the tri-colour was not a political flag, but a national flag representing Protestants and Catholics united with the white.

The vote was then taken, and the Federation's decision was rejected by 31 votes against 23 for.

The voting was as follows:—Against acceptance—Tailteann B.C., Antrim Co. Board, St. Columba's A.C. (Cork), Fermoy A. and C.C., St. Patrick's A. and C.C. (Cork), Father O'Leary A. and C.C. (Cork), Shandon A. and C.C. (Cork), Tipperary Co. Board, Farranfore A.C. (Kerry), Killarney A.C., Kerry County Board, Ennis Garda A.C., O'Callaghan's Mills A.C., Army Metro A.C. (Dublin), Dublin City Harriers, D.M.G. A.C., G.S. Railways A.C. (Dublin), St James's Gate A.C. (Dublin), South Dublin Harriers, Dublin County Board, Wexford A.C., Navan A.C., Curragh A.C. The following members of the Central Council: M. J. Byrne, D. Barrett, J. Conaghan, W. Hely, Captain J. Keenan, P. Larkin, Sergeant Nairn, Commandant T. Ryan. Total—31.

For Acceptance—Downhill Harriers (Antrim), Kilnacrott A.C. (Cavan), University College (Cork), Kilmacthomas A.C., Civil Service A.C. (Dublin), Clonliffe Harriers (Dublin), C.Y.M.S. A.C. (Dublin), Donore Harriers (Dublin), Dublin University H.A.C., Garristown Harriers, Harlequin A.C. (Dublin), Phoenix Harriers, R.S.P.U. A.C., University College (Dublin) A.C., Callan A.C. Kilkenny County Board, Ballina A.C. Members of Central Council—J. J. Clinch, E. Fleming, C. F. Rothwell, J. S. Palmer, T. E. Nolan, J. J. McGilton. Total—23.

The Chairman said that he hoped that all the delegates present representing the athletics of the country would accept the decision that had been reached, and that all their members would stand together and do their best in the interests of Irish athletics. He hoped they would all forget their different points of view and stand solidly together as the National Athletic and Cycling Association of Ireland.

Wireless in the North.—Speaking at a luncheon in Belfast on Saturday in connection with the Radio Exhibition now in progress, Mr. G. L. Marshall, Northern Ireland regional director of the B.B.C., said that although they had six million wireless licences in the United Kingdom, he did not think they had reached a saturation point. The number was slowly increasing day by day, and no one could tell what it would be in ten years' time. The opening of the new Droitwich station would open a new stage in British broadcasting and would prove very beneficial to listeners in the North of Ireland, and when they get their new station at Lisburn, now in course of erection, the benefits would be enhanced.

CHURCH OF ST. MICHAEL.

AN IMPORTANT EXTENSION.

CORNER STONE LAID BY DR. BYRNE.

IN the former garrison church of Richmond Barracks, Dublin, now the Parish Church of St. Michael, Inchicore, the Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Byrne) yesterday laid the corner stone of an extension. The parish has extended considerably during recent years, and many people now are living in flats in the converted barrack buildings behind the Church, which was built to hold six hundred. The new extension will provide accommodation for a further 450 persons.

With a black ivory maul, presented by Mr. Leonard, of Messrs. Fitzgerald and Leonard, the builders of the extension, and a silver trowel, which he received from Mr. John J. Robinson, the architect, the Archbishop set the corner stone, after placing within it current copies of newspapers, and a record of the event.

His route from the South Circular road at Kilmainham to the Church was lined by members of local sodalities, and traffic was suspended for some time before his arrival.

At the ceremony the Archbishop was assisted by the Parish Priest, the Very Rev. James Doyle; the Rev. J. Delaney, C.C.; the Rev. J. O'Sullivan, C.C., and the Rev. Eugene Trainor, C.C.

Afterwards he presided at a public meeting to raise funds to defray the cost of building the extension—£9,309, and it was announced that £1,907 had already been raised for this purpose. The Archbishop headed the subscription list, which was opened during the meeting, with £1,000, and numerous other subscriptions were received.

ATTACKS ON THE CHURCH.

The Archbishop said that if there was one thing that always gave him pleasure in the performance of his ecclesiastical duties it was the opening of a new church, or the laying of the foundation stone for the extension of an existing church. There were two things, the object of attack in countries which turned against their Government, he continued. They were the attacks on the control of education and the destruction of the churches. It was only necessary to look at the newspapers from day to day to see that the enemies of God in other countries were using these methods to beat down God. Such things happened in far-off lands, but the contrary was the truth in Ireland, where the Church was held dear in the hearts of the people.

The Archbishop then made the reference to the building of the Cathedral in Merrion square, Dublin, which is reported fully on another page.

In proposing that a subscription list should be opened, Mr. P. S. Doyle, T.D., said that in olden days people had given their lives for their faith. The people of Inchicore were now asked to give only their money, and he felt that they would do this willingly, to make the church worthy of the service to which it was dedicated.

The attendance at the ceremony included: Alderman Dr. Myles Keogh, Acting Lord Mayor of Dublin; the Right Rev. Monsignor Cronin, D.D., M.A., V.G.; the Rev. T. W. O'Ryan, P.P.; the Very Rev. Canon C. Grimes, P.P.; the Rev. J. Nowlan, P.P.; the Rev. J. Sheehan, Adm.; the Very Rev. Canon Ryan, P.P., V.F.; the Rev. J. O'Callaghan, P.P.; the Rev. M. A. O'Daly, P.P.; the Rev. T. McNevin, P.P.; the Rev. P. Hayden, P.P.; the Very Rev. D. Collier, O.M.I., Superior, Inchicore; the Rev. Dr. O'Neill, O.M.I.; the Rev. J. Hardiman, O.M.I.; the Rev. J. Flynn, O.M.I.; the Rev. J. Nolan, the Rev. E. J. Doyle, the Rev. D. McGrath, the Rev. J. Tarpy, Dr. D. O'Sullivan, Mr. P. J. McEvoy, Dr. O'Connor and Mr. J. Gleeson.

CLARE ASSAULT CHARGE.

JUDGE'S ADDRESS TO JURY.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.

ENNIS, Saturday.

Before Judge E. J. McElligott, K.C., at the Clare Circuit Court yesterday, three young men—Michael Waters and James Kelly, of Glencolumbkille, and Thomas Cahill, of Knockanes—pleaded not guilty to charges of having assaulted Patrick Burke, of Knockanes, and having stolen a watch value £1 from him.

Burke stated that he was driving his employer's cows to a field when the three accused men started throwing stones at him, forcing him to jump over a wall. They followed him. Kelly jumped on his back and all three pulled his clothes off and assaulted him. After the assault Cahill threw back his coat and waistcoat, from which the linings had been torn, and witness's watch and chain, two silver rings and a box of cigarettes were missing. The buttons had been pulled off his waistcoat.

Sergeant Marron stated that in the field he had found three buttons which Burke told him had been torn off his waistcoat. The grass had been trampled as if persons had been lying on it.

The defence was a complete denial of Burke's allegations.

The Judge said that he had his own very decided view about this case. If Burke's story was true a horrible assault had been committed on him by the three men in the dock. If not true, then did the jury in all their experience ever come across an uneducated country boy with such a faculty for invention? He said that, unfortunately, the gross and appalling crime of perjury was constantly committed even in the most trivial cases for the purpose of getting friends and neighbours out of trouble. He did not recommend or suggest it to the jury in this case, but he just told them that they could, if they believed the evidence justified it, find the accused men guilty of common assault. If they adopted that course and made a recommendation to him he would act on it to a very large extent.

The jury after a short absence found the accused men "not guilty."

"Very well, gentlemen," said the Judge; "I hope nothing similar will happen to any of your own employes."

The prisoners were discharged from custody.

TURF VERSUS COAL.

ITS VALUE AS DOMESTIC FUEL.

"If we succeed in substituting turf fuel for the £2,000,000 worth of coal we now import there will be no unemployed in the Free State for at least three months of the year," said the Secretary to the Turf Development Board, Mr. Eoin O'Keeffe, in the course of his presidential address before the Blackrock Literary and Debating Society at its inaugural meeting for the session 1934-5 in the Blackrock Technical Institute on Saturday night.

Mr. Fouse Carton, chairman, presided.

Mr. O'Keeffe, whose subject was "The Case for Turf," said that the Board's intention was to promote the utilisation of turf as the domestic fuel in Irish homes. From his experience he held that the household could be run as cheaply on turf as on coal. They had to bear in mind that there were other features of turf which gave it an advantage over coal. There was a point at which the price of turf easily balanced the price of coal. A ton of turf could be as easily packed into a household cellar as a ton of coal. The price of turf delivered in Killarney was 17s. a ton, and that price obtained in the greater part of the Free State.

CLOTHING AND CAP WORKERS' WAGES.

The complaint of the Irish Wholesale Clothing and Cap Manufacturers' Association that unorganised manufacturers are not being compelled to keep the agreement in regard to employes' wages and hours was discussed yesterday at a meeting of male members of the clothing trade branch of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union. The men decided that the complaints did not apply to their union, and that any effort to set aside the agreement would be resisted. An important recommendation relating to the Clothing Trade Group in the Dublin Trades' Council will be submitted to the union headquarters.

CATTLE SMUGGLING IN TYRONE.

£1,300 IN FINES.

Fines amounting to £1,300 were imposed in smuggling charges at Castlederg, County Tyrone, Petty Session on Saturday, and the Court, after sitting to late hour, adjourned half-a-dozen smuggling charges. Henry Caldwell, Killen, the owner of a motor lorry, and John Knielands, Creeduff, driver of the lorry, were each fined £309 for being concerned in the fraudulent evasion of Customs duty in respect of seven head of cattle, or, in default, six months' imprisonment. The cattle and lorry were forfeited. Edward McPhilemy, Lettercarn, and Thomas McCrea, Kirlish, were each fined £100, or, in default, a month's imprisonment for being concerned in smuggling twenty head of cattle. Patrick Shields, Blegernagh, was fined £81, or one month's imprisonment in respect of nine head of cattle. Felix McElholm, Tully, was fined £13, or one month's imprisonment for two head of cattle. Michael McLaughlin, Truglish, £100 for four cattle, and William Gorman Tully, £100, or one month for four cattle.

Castlederg Customs patrol seized six head of cattle near the border on Saturday, but after a stern chase across country the smugglers escaped.

ST. AUDOEN'S CHURCH.

SOME POINTS IN ITS HISTORY.

On Saturday afternoon the Leinster Society of Organists and Choirmasters, on the invitation of the Rev. R. H. Dowse, visited St. Audoen's Church, and heard from the Churchwarden, Mr. Alexander E. Donovan, something of the history of that church and its precincts.

There was some doubt, he said, whether or not any church existed before the English invasion, but the very existence of the church itself was a sign of extraordinary vitality, and the tombs and monuments of great and powerful families and rich Dublin traders testified still that it was what might be called now a "popular church."

Mr. Donovan explained in detail the lay-out of the Church of St. Audoen and the adjoining chapel—St. Anne's, and Portlester. The latter, still in use, was built by Sir Rowland FitzEustace, Baron Portlester. Under the tower in St. Audoen's are recumbent effigies of the Baron and his wife, recording his death in 1455. In the porch of the church is a rude-looking stone, called the Lucky Stone of St. Audoen's, believed to be 1,500 years old. Here also was buried, in 1698, Sir William Molyneux, whose book "The Case for Ireland" was burned by the public hangman.

In 1571 at St. Audoen's was printed the first book in Irish, and two centuries later, in 1758, it is recorded that the Rev. Mr. Kelly preached to crowded congregations in Irish every Saturday morning during Advent.

There is a fine peal of bells in the tower. Three of these bells are the oldest in Ireland, if not in the British Isles. They were cast in 1423, and have not been re-cast since. One of these bells was rung at six in the morning to call the people to work, another was rung at 11 a.m. to call people to the mid-day meal, and the third was rung at 8 o'clock at night to warn people of the curfew. In 1658 two more bells were added, and in 1694 a sixth bell, called "The Old Cow," because its sound was like a cow's bellowing. At the request of the parishioners this bell was recast in 1732 by Mr. Murphy, Thomas street.

The church plate, which was exhibited by Mr. Donovan, is very beautiful and exceedingly rare. The oldest is a fine paten of pure Irish silver which dates back to 1400 and is still wonderfully preserved. There are also two fine chalices of the seventeenth century, with patens to match. Two old "whistling" flagons dated 1711 were the gift of Prebend Finglass. It is interesting to note that the gilt candlesticks used in the Lady Chapel, Christ Church Cathedral are made of mahogany, and were originally in St. Audoens'.

The visitors inspected the chapel, tower and arch, and were then entertained to a musical programme provided by Miss D. G. Penney (vocalist) and Mr. William J. Watson (organist).

An average of over fifty murders a month during the present year have been committed in the North-West Frontier Province, according to official statistics just issued at Simla. During the same period there have been thirty-five robberies with violence and 1,037 burglaries.

COLLEGE OF ST. COLUMBA.

St. Columba's College, Rathfarnham, Co. Dublin, re-assembled on 28th September for the Christmas term.

There are several changes on the staff. Dr. W. R. F. Collis, M.D., F.R.C.P., M.R.C.P.I., 26 Fitzwilliam square, Dublin, has been appointed medical officer to the college, in place of the late Dr A. Croly. Rev. R. S. H. Ward, Mus.B., F.R.C.O., A.R.C.M., succeeds as Director of Music. Mr. R. J. Barnes, Trinity College, Dublin, joins the staff as Junior Form Master and as Assistant Games Master; and Mr. Colin Ewan, Sidney Sussex College, Cambridge, is Assistant Classical Master. E. W. D. Jeffares will be the new Senior Prefect.

The college has been re-wired for a new electric lighting system, and a new hot water and central heating system has been installed. The dormitories have been re-decorated throughout. Work begins almost immediately on the new college infirmary.

SIR THOMAS ESMONDE'S ILLNESS.

Expressions of regret have come from Rome that Senator Sir Thomas Grattan Esmonde, Papal Chamberlain, has found it necessary to cancel his participation in the 32nd International Eucharistic Congress in Buenos Aires. Sir Thomas Esmonde, who is the representative of the Patriarch of Jerusalem of the Order of the Knights of the Holy Sepulchre, suffered a nervous breakdown in the spring of 1933, and has only lately returned from a health cruise in the Mediterranean. Though he is somewhat improved in health, his physicians have ordered a complete rest in a warm climate.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF IRELAND CLUB.

LONDON, Sunday.

Mr. P. Mullen, who assisted in the production of the film "Man of Aran," and whose book of that title appears this month, was the guest at a reception arranged by the National University of Ireland Club at 91 Shaftesbury avenue, this evening.

The chair was taken by Dr. Kiernan, who spoke appreciatively of the life on the islands, and also in praise of Mr. Mullen's book.

Mr. Mullen gave a talk on Aran relating incidents from the time of the famine, the Land League days, and 1921.

Mr. Con O'Leary, proposing a vote of thanks to the guest, said that anyone from Aran would always receive a hearty welcome from the National University of Ireland Club.

Dr. Kiernan referred to the encouragement given by Mr. Richard de la Mare, who was present, in the publication of Mr. Mullen's book.

The Irish Times.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1934.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

Mr. Belton's plan to settle the dispute in the Blue Shirt organisation will be discussed at a meeting of the United Ireland Party which will be held in Dublin to-day.—(Page 7.)

The plight of the farmers was referred to by the Rev. R. McN. Boyd, B.D., in the course of his sermon at the Harvest Thanksgiving Service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, yesterday.—(Page 7.)

There was a very large and representative attendance of guests at the "at home" given at the German Legation, Dublin, on Saturday last by Herr von Dehn, German Minister, on the occasion of his leaving Dublin to take up his new appointment at Bucharest.—(Page 8.)

Speaking in Belfast on Saturday, the Marquess of Dufferin and Ava expressed his belief in the White Paper scheme for India, and said he was convinced that a policy of the strong hand would fail.—(Page 8.)

The Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Byrne), at Inchicore yesterday, denied the rumours that the Merrion square site for the new cathedral had been abandoned. Merrion square, he said, had been secured as a site for the cathedral, and on Merrion square, please God, it would be built.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

Turkish batteries opened fire on French destroyers, which returned the fire, in the Gulf of Smyrna on Saturday.—(Page 7.)

The Republic of Catalonia, which was declared on Saturday night, capitulated yesterday. The Spanish civil war continues, but the Government is steadily gaining control.—(Page 7.)

SPORTING

At Naas on Saturday Lucky Fool won the Athgarrett Plate, Crusheen the Mullaboden Plate, Olympian the Naas Autumn Steeplechase, Bay Bridge the Nursery Plate, Colquhoun the Endestown Plate, and Linby Hall the Newtown Plate.—(Page 10.)

At Kempton Park on Saturday Statesman won the Duke of York Handicap.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

In London Money Market on Saturday loan and discount rates were steady. Gold fell to 142s. 3d. per oz., and £123,000 was sold. Silver was unchanged.—(Page 12.)

Fruits of Despair.

Through the medium of Lenten Pastorals, the Roman Catholic Hierarchy on several occasions has spoken its mind concerning the political and economic disorders of this country. The Protestant Churches, on the other hand, have held their peace, and for that reason, as for many others, the sermon delivered yesterday in St. Patrick's Cathedral by the Reverend R. McN. Boyd, Prebendary of Tippe.kevin, possesses an abiding interest. Mr. Boyd is alarmed by the growth of a sinister spirit among the farmers of the Free State. It is not only that spirit which, in the jargon of to-day, is known as "defeatism," but a positive discontent which may have the gravest results with the lapse of time. "Thousands of respectable and honest Irish farmers," he contends, 'are losing heart and are fearful of the future." "Hopelessness and self-pity" are their dominant attitude of mind. This is the mood which has brought other countries—we cannot doubt that Spain and Russia were in the back of Mr. Boyd's thoughts during his sermon yesterday—to the edge of ruin, and its existence in Ireland is a symptom of real danger. Such a sullen and dispirited attitude—we quote again from the sermon—"holds within it the beginnings of an outlook which is antagonistic to Christian teaching and may ultimately lead to Communism." The same fear has been voiced at various times during the past two years by Roman Catholic bishops; and Mr. Boyd's public forebodings suggest that the peril is by no means a thing of the past, but a rapidly approaching reality against which it is the duty of Christ's whole Church to join hands.

Communism, we are told, never can take root in Ireland: it is foreign to the spirit of the people. Was it any less foreign to the spirit of Russia or of Spain? The hold of Communism upon the people of Ireland has been exaggerated by external scare-mongers—we doubt, indeed, if there are fifty genuine Communists in the whole country—but it is a plant of quick growth which, when fertilised by despair, flourishes in the most unlikely places. President de Valera's policies have brought despair to the Free State. He found a country of prosperous farmers; he has turned it into a country whose farmers barely can keep themselves upon their holdings. The farmers, indeed, were complaining four years ago—farmers always complain—but they were ready to admit on interrogation that their lot was comfortable compared with that of farmers in other lands, and they held their heads high. To-day they are crushed beneath a weight of misfortune such as they never had contemplated in their most sombre moments. With hardly a present means of livelihood, and without prospect of prosperity, is it unnatural that the farmer should fall into that mood of black, sullen discontent which presents so fearful a danger to Church and State? For generation after generation the Irish farmer has looked to political freedom as a condition of prosperity. Having acquired political freedom, he feels now that his dream was vain, that, in proportion as he has shaken off the "shackles" of the British Empire, so the shackles of poverty have been riveted more firmly upon him. Disillusionment is the precursor of discontent, discontent of despair; and the fruit of despair is that passion of hatred which breeds anarchy.

A true national leader would recognise this gradual degeneracy of the farmers' spirit, and would bend all his efforts to counteract it. President de Valera's concern, however, is not to maintain the spirit of his people, but to keep himself in power. To the demoralisation begotten of distress he has added the demoralisation begotten of doles. Let nobody assume that we are opposed to State support of the workless and helpless. In the chaos of modern industrialism it is inevitable that many people must be absolutely without resources, and it is the State's duty to provide a livelihood for those citizens for whom it cannot provide work. Whereas, however, the other Governments of the world are straining every nerve to find work for their unemployed citizens and to protect them from the discredit of State support, the Free State Government is putting a premium upon idleness. Day by day, as the economic war proceeds, decent Irishmen are losing their jobs; they rarely or never regain jobs as good; and as day succeeds day they go to swell the army of State-fed malcontents which spreads the poison of despair throughout the twenty-six counties. There is a lamentable reluctance to work in Ireland to-day; strikes are becoming perilously frequent and the old-fashioned virtue of loyalty to one's employers is under a cloud. Whose is the blame? Must we ascribe it to some profound change in the character of the Irishman, or does it lie rather with a Government which prefers the easy path of acquiescence to the hard task of nation-building? In either case the new spirit bodes no good to Ireland.

Partition in Sport.

By its decision on Saturday night, the Congress of the National Athletic and Cycling Association has placed Irish sport in a very serious position. A few weeks ago the International Federation at Stockholm decided that the jurisdiction of the N.A.C.A. extended only over the Free State, and that Northern Ireland must be regarded as coming under the rules of the Amateur Athletic Association of Great Britain. The N.A.C.A., holding that it is vested with the control of all athletics in Ireland, has refused to accept the Stockholm ruling. Its refusal lays it open to the possibility of expulsion from membership of the Federation, and means that athletes from the Irish Free State, in the future, will be able to compete only against their own countrymen. International events, such as the Olympic Games, will be denied them, and it may not be possible to continue the Tailteann Games, in which Irish-born men from other countries have been taking part. It is most regrettable that such a state of affairs should have been allowed to arise, the more so because, up to now, sport has been one of the few remaining links between Northern and Southern Ireland—a symbol of that ultimate unity for which all sensible men hope. There are strong reasons for wishing that Irishmen, under whichever Government, should continue to take part together in international events, appearing under the common name of "Ireland." Saturday's meeting blamed the Federation for the break, and there was much talk of "an insult from the foreigners," "forcing our fellow-countrymen in the North-East to become non-Irish," and the like. The Federation's ruling, however, cannot be set down to a prejudice against Ireland, or to a wish (prompted, as one speaker suggested, by "the old enemy"), to underline the fact of partition. If any body is to be blamed for the introduction of politics into sport it is the N.A.C.A. The fact that teams representing all Ireland were entered for contests under the Free State tricolour was an obvious cause of trouble, and there is little wonder that many athletes from Northern Ireland should object to appearing under what might seem to be Free State auspices. It would have been more sensible, as well as more logical, to adopt an emblem which would give offence to neither party, and would symbolise the whole of the country, instead of merely the Southern part. This, which is such a minor point in itself, has possibly been the greatest cause for the break, and there is reason to think that, if another attitude were adopted on the flag question, North and South would join in a successful plea for recognition as a single competing country.

Ocean Fares.

With the successful launch of the Queen Mary, Britain's latest ocean liner, and the forthcoming maiden voyage of the Normandie, which is the pride of the French shipyards, competition in the North Atlantic is likely to become keener than ever it was. One of the beneficial results of this rivalry, from the point of view of the travelling public, will be a substantial reduction in fares, and within the next few years the cost of a trip to the United States and back probably will be brought within the reach of everybody who is in a position to travel at all. Already a start has been made. At a meeting in London last week of the North Atlantic Conference agreement was reached on the subject of cheap excursion fares. Since the introduction of the "tourist" class on Atlantic liners thousands of persons who previously never had thought of an ocean trip have been travelling backwards and forwards between Europe and America, and, now that further reductions are about to be made in the fares, this type of traffic is likely to increase. The new rates will apply to the period between October 22nd and April 30th of next year, and will be valid only for a stay in America or in Europe, as the case may be, of a maximum of fifteen days. The United States Lines announce that the fares on their two big ships, Manhattan and Washington, will be £30 for tourist class and £22 for third class, while on the two smaller ships, President Roosevelt and President Harding, they will be £21 10s. for third class. The Cunard-White Star Line is offering similarly cheap terms. Much of the old prejudice against "steerage" travelling has vanished since the War. If one makes a trip on an ocean liner nowadays, the conditions in the third class are really admirable, and the most fastidious passenger need not be ashamed to travel "steerage." It must be remembered that the fares include virtually a fortnight's food of excellent quality and variety; and the rates have been reduced to such an extent that we may soon expect to see persons taking a holiday trip to the United States who a few years ago would have been forced to be content with a fortnight at Skerries, or, if they were really extravagant, in the Isle of Man.

Winter Time.

There is not a questioning small boy in these islands who has not been impressed at one time or another by the surprising difference between the astronomical dates of the seasons and what seem to him the natural dates. His geography book informs him that winter begins on the 21st December—or is it the 22nd?—after he has endured two months of uncomfortably wintry weather. It tells him, too, that summer comes on the 21st June or thereabouts; and, similarly, experience informs him that he has been discarding his winter clothes for at least two months before that date. Herein lies one great, and hitherto disregarded, benefit of the institution known as "summer time." There are no longer four seasons to our year, but two—a short summer, beginning on the date when four million inhabitants of this island put their clocks forward by one hour, and ending on the drab evening of October when the same clocks are solemnly retarded by an hour. It makes calculation so much easier. On Saturday night last we still enjoyed the experience of summer; from yesterday morning, and for the next seven months, we shall hibernate—in the fundamental sense of the word. Occasional clocks continue to exhibit the old time; and, for all our knowledge that it is merely the remissness of their owners which is at fault, we romantically may construe their negligence as a hankering over the days that are past—a melancholy reluctance to admit that the chill days of winter are here. Be that as it may, we have come to the turning of the year. A succession of cold, damp months confronts us—months, however, which are always less cheerful in prospect than in presence and retrospect. At the least, one knows what to expect in winter, which is free from the treacheries of our northern summers.

DEATH.

TOUGH—August 15, 1934, at her residence, Ballymullen, Tralee, County Kerry, Mrs. Elizabeth Frances Tough. Deeply regretted. Interred in New Cemetery, Tralee, on 17th August, 1934.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

According to present arrangements, the King and Queen will leave Buckingham Palace to-morrow for Sandringham, where Their Majesties hope to spend about three weeks, and the King expects to have some shooting.

On Saturday Their Majesties attended Kempton Park races, where there was a large attendance, though the weather was unfavourable. Sport was good, but the King's horse, Fairlead, was beaten, and the Aga Khan's candidate, Shahali, carried off the Imperial Produce Stakes.

The Queen, attended by the Dowager Countess of Minto and Sir Harry Verney, paid a long visit last Friday to "The Antique Dealers' Fair," now open at Grosvenor House, Park lane. Her Majesty made some important purchases, and has directed a number of exhibits to be submitted to her at Buckingham Palace for further consideration.

The Prince of Wales received the Italian, the Spanish and the Portuguese Ambassadors at St. James's Palace last week, and will fulfil several important engagements this week.

The Duke of Gloucester performed the official opening of Anzac House last Friday at Perth, West Australia. It has been completed as the headquarters of the returned Soldiers' and Sailors' Imperial League. His Royal Highness, who had an enthusiastic reception, conveyed a message to the assembly from the King.

Prince George has promised to attend the boxing tournament at the Stadium Club on Thursday evening, October 25th, which has been organised in aid of the Princess Beatrice Hospital in Earl's Court.

Princess Helena Victoria is the guest of Princess Mary and the Earl of Harewood over the week-end at Harewood House, Leeds.

The Marquess of Headfort has left Headfort, Co. Meath, and rejoined the Marchioness of Headfort in London. The Marchioness of Crewe has left Crewe House, London, for West Horsley Place, Surrey. Viscount and Viscountess Long of Wraxall, who have been the guests of Lord and Lady O'Neil at Shane's Castle, have now returned to their London residence, 1 Spanish place, W. Lord Greville has left Ireland and has rejoined Lady Greville at Weston Manor, Oxfordshire.

Lord and Lady Tennyson, the Dowager Lady Swaythling, Sir Claude Russell, British Ambassador to Portugal, Lady Russell, Lady Elizabeth Darus and Sir Thomas Hewitt Skinner were among the latest departures last week for the Continent and America.

A dinner to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Sopwith and the amateur crew of the Endeavour is being organised by the members of the Royal Corinthian Yacht Club, and will be held on Tuesday, October 16th, at the Savoy Hotel. Ladies are especially invited to attend.

At the Amateur Art Exhibition now being held in Agnew's Galleries in Old Bond street an interesting painting of a boy's head is being shown by Princess Marina of Greece, which she has sent to Princess Alice Countess of Athlone to be sold in aid of the Hedingham Training Camps and Employment Scheme.

The engagement is announced between Anthony D. R. Wingfield, 10th Royal Hussars, only son of Colonel the Honble. Maurice Wingfield, C.M.G., D.S.O., and Mrs. Wingfield, Wyck Hill, Stowe on the Wold, Gloucestershire, and Juliet (Judy) C. Stanley, only daughter of the late William Burroughs Stanley, D.L., and Mrs. Stanley, of Coolamber Manor, Westmeath, and Lilybrook, Budleigh Salterton, Devon.

The engagement is announced between Thomas Harold, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Nash-Peake, of Watcombe House, Torquay, and Dorothy Maud, elder daughter of the late Mr. James Musgrave, M.I.C.E., Buenos Ayres Western Railway, and Mrs. Musgrave, Westwood, Exmouth, and sister of Sir Christopher Musgrave, Bt.

Doctor J. B. McArevey will be out of town until the 22nd October.

Doctor Oswald J. Murphy has returned to 50 Merrion square.

Dr. Sean Lavan has returned to Medina, Terenure.

LONDON LETTER.

THE INDIAN PROPOSALS.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
SUNDAY NIGHT.

THE proceedings at the Conservative Conference at Bristol last week may not have been particularly acceptable to the Conservative leaders; but they did reveal that there is a decided opinion that the National Government shall continue. It is appreciated that a great deal of sound and useful work has been carried through during the past three years, and that there is still much to do; but at the same time there is a distinct disinclination to give support to measures which, it is feared, will have an adverse effect in the future. This is the main reason for the fierce opposition to the India White Paper proposals, and it is interesting to note that there are rumours that the Government intend to go into the question as soon as possible with a view to ascertaining what are the objections of the Conservative Party. The objections of the party may be based on the attitude of the Indian Nationalists, and their campaigns of violence and civil disobedience.

Mr. Macdonald.

It is stated on authority that Mr. Ramsay Macdonald's general condition of health has satisfied his medical advisers, but that he will not be able to continue work without proper care, persevering with the precautions in use before he went away. Above all he must not overstrain his eyes by too much reading. Mr. Macdonald intends to carry on his work as Prime Minister, a plucky and typical effort; but it must be remembered that he has spent nearly six months away from the duties of his office on account of ill-health. In political circles there are speculations as to whether it is wise that he should again risk health and eyesight by overwork.

Foreign Butter.

When Parliament reassembles a demand will be made for the introduction of legislation to amend the Butter Marketing Act. It is contended that the description "containing imported butter" is not sufficiently descriptive of blends. It is proposed that the origin of all the ingredients in blends should be stated in order that the public may have full knowledge of what they are buying. At present huge quantities of butter come from several countries, including Russia, and are used in the blends with no indication as to their presence in the mixture. The Conservative Parliamentary Agricultural Committee is giving its support to the proposed new legislation.

French Trade Restrictions.

News received from Paris during the week-end points to considerable changes in French import restrictions. The special powers accorded to the Government last February to make tariff changes without the sanction of Parliament expire at the end of this month, and new regulations are likely to be announced within the next few weeks. No definite information is available at present; but it is anticipated that the quota system will be abolished, or at least considerably modified, and that increased tariffs will replace the quotas. How far British trade will be affected remains to be seen, though some industries may benefit by the removal of the quotas owing to the depreciated sterling exchange rates.

Irish Tweeds.

A leading store in the West End of London is devoting one of its main windows to a display of Irish hand-woven tweeds during this week. These tweeds of the Donegal and herring-bone weave are most artistically shown. Full effect is given to the very fine quality of the cloth, and the exhibit will undoubtedly help still further towards a revival in the popularity of Donegal tweed. This entertaining show is only a part of the continuous publicity which has been proceeding for some months for Irish tweeds in Great Britain. Wherever the "Man of Aran" film is being shown in Great Britain a display of hand-woven tweeds made in the cottages of the Gaeltacht is being made in the principal shop in the particular centre. The display and the film are linked up, and the effect is being seen in the fact that now the Irish hand-woven tweeds are becoming the vogue for both ladies and gentlemen's clothing. The publicity is directed from the High Commissioner's office, working in co-operation with the London representative of the Gaeltacht Industries Dépôt.

Western Australia.

A parliamentary deputation from West Australia is to arrive in London at the end of the month to present a petition to the King and the Imperial Parliament, praying for secession from the Commonwealth of Australia and for Dominion status. The delegation will be an important one, including as it does Mr. Collier, the State Prime Minister; Mr. J. McCallum Smith, a Senator, and Mr. H. K. Watson, Chairman of the Dominion League. Mr. Watson has been organising the campaign for secession. Three copies of the petition have been prepared, one for presentation to the King, one for the House of Lords, and one for the House of Commons. The petition covers one hundred and twenty-eight pages, each word being written by hand, and each copy contained in a carved casket of Jarrah wood, Western Australia's special product. Before the petitions are presented the delegation will have a series of interviews with the Dominions Secretary, and it is possible that the petitions may not be presented until early in the new year.

Britannia's Future.

It was rumoured with the conclusion of the Cowes Regatta that the King would not race his yacht Britannia again, and it was freely stated that her racing days were really over. This rumour, however, is incorrect; for the King has given orders that his famous yacht is to be re-commissioned for racing next season. As a matter of fact the King looks forward to the Cowes meeting throughout the year. He regards it as his real and only holiday, and enjoys life afloat more than anything else. I saw the Britannia several times during Cowes Week, and on each occasion the King was taking an active part in the sailing of his yacht. The intimation regarding re-commissioning will put an end to the proposal that yachtsmen should give the King a new vessel as a present at his Jubilee next year. It was always regarded as doubtful that he would accept such a gift, as he is greatly attached to Britannia and unlikely to part with her.

SHORT-LIVED REPUBLIC OF CATALONIA.

MINISTERS SURRENDER AFTER BOMBARDMENT.

FIGHTING CONTINUES IN SPANISH CIVIL WAR.

GREAT FIRE IN PORT OF BARCELONA.

FIGHTING continues in the Spanish civil war. Messages from Reuter's Correspondents suggest, however, that the Government is slowly, but steadily, gaining control.

On Saturday evening an independent republic of Catalonia was declared at Barcelona, but before twelve hours had passed the president, Señor Companys, and his Ministers had surrendered to the Government forces.

According to the latest reports at Madrid the position in various parts of Spain at 8 o'clock last evening was as follows:—

Whole of Spain south of Madrid—Quiet.

Madrid—Fairly quiet.

East of Spain (Valencia region—Quiet.

North-West Spain (Asturias)—Government claim revolt has been dominated.

San Sebastian—All quiet.

The only affected area was Catalonia, where there was sporadic firing, according to the official reports, and intense fighting, according to the Socialist reports.

STRIKERS ORDERED BACK TO WORK.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

BARCELONA, Sunday.

After two ultimatums, half-an-hour's rifle fire and a few minutes' bombardment by the artillery under General Batet, commander of the loyalist forces, Don Companys, the President of the new Catalan Republic, which was declared last night, surrendered at six o'clock this morning with his Ministers.

At first the declaration of the Republic was greeted with great popular enthusiasm, but later hostilities broke out between the Republican forces and the troops which were loyal to the Central Government.

Ceaseless firing went on during the night, and troops were sent to reinforce the loyalist garrison. Early this morning a regiment of infantry under General Batet surrounded the Generalidad Palace, in which Don Companys and his Ministers were stationed.

General Batet first sent an ultimatum to Don Companys demanding his surrender When this was ignored the loyalist troops fusilladed the palace with rifle fire for half-an-hour.

PRESIDENT'S HEAD HIGH.

A further ultimatum was then sent threatening that the palace would be bombarded with artillery at dawn if the rebels did not surrender. At dawn the loyalist guns opened fire, and after a few minutes President Companys and his followers surrendered. Don Companys held his head high and seemed indifferent to his fate.

In a final broadcast message to the Barcelona people Don Companys said he was surrendering because all the means of resistance had been exhausted, and he desired to avoid new sacrifices. President Companys is reported to be wounded, as is Señor Badia, one of the leaders of the movement.

Señor Azana, the former Socialist Premier of Spain, who was to have presided over the new Catalan Republican Government, fled.

Heavy casualties occurred during the disturbances. Fifteen wounded have been removed from the Generalidad Palace and fifty wounded from another building. The worst bloodshed occurred during an attack on the Naval Air Force barracks, which was occupied by Government troops. Here twenty were killed and seventy wounded.

It is understood that President Zamora himself has intervened to save President Companys from an immediate courtmartial and execution. The Cabinet will meet at midday to decide whether he shall be tried by the Military Tribunal or handed over to the Tribunal of Constitutional Guarantees.

Don Companys and his Ministers and the Mayor and Councillors of Barcelona, who also were arrested, have been transferred in custody on board a steamer lying in the harbour. The magistrates, who are investigating the case against them, will continue their work on board.

INTERMITTENT FIRING.

General Batet has taken complete charge of the city. Intermittent firing has been going on throughout the day. Several buildings are in ruins.

Many of the shock troops who at first supported the uprising have gone over to General Batet's forces.

The impossibility of obtaining reliable estimates of the casualties has led to the circulation of many wild rumours. The actual returns given by the hospitals, however, suggest that the death roll may not exceed from fifty to sixty, whilst the wounded may number from 150 to 200.

General Batet has issued a proclamation declaring that "we are masters of the situation." All that has happened is "really lamentable," he says. He regrets it, first as a Catalan and then as a Spaniard.

It is believed that Don Companys himself and certain other members of the Catalan Government were not in favour of last night's coup. It is said that they only yielded to the persuasion of Señor Dencas, the Catalan Minister of the Interior, who is reported to have threatened to assume the leadership of the movement, if Don Companys did not support his plans.

Railway lines had been torn up to prevent reinforcements arriving, and hastily improvised barricades were placed across the highways leading into Barcelona. Lorries full of arms and ammunition have been found abandoned in various parts of the city.

CAPTAIN SHOOTS LIEUTENANT.

Fifty wounded have been removed from one of the rebels' strongholds. It is reported that Senor Badia, one of their leaders, has been wounded, and that the second in command of the Government forces has been killed.

An extraordinary incident took place outside the military barracks. Seventy of the shock troops of the Generalidad were on duty outside when the loyal troops commenced marching out. The captain in charge of the shock troops ordered his men not to fire, but this order was countermanded by his first lieutenant. Immediately the captain drew his revolver and shot the lieutenant dead.

The regular troops then disarmed the shock troops, and imprisoned them in the barracks.

A great fire has broken out in the port here, following shots which set a petrol tank ablaze.

Shooting is continuing in the city, especially round the Socialist Headquarters.

It is now declared that the former Premier, Senor Azana, who was said to have been nominated head of a Provisional Federal Government at the time of yesterday's declaration of a Catalan Republic, was opposed to the proclamation. It is stated that he warned President Companys of what would happen. When his warning was not heeded he withdrew and went into hiding.

Meanwhile, it is reported from Gerona that the Government is master of the situation there, following a battle between Government troops and forces still supporting the Catalan Government, in which five lives were lost, including a General Staff officer, Major Cominguez. The Catalan forces surrendered after a brisk fusillade.

Revised estimates of killed and wounded for the whole of Spain since the beginning of the trouble are now 300 and 700, respectively, says a message received from Madrid early this morning.

POSITION IN MADRID.

PREMIER DECLARES REVOLT "DOMINATED."

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

MADRID, Sunday.

After the feverish events of the night the capital was quiet this morning. A notable sight in the streets to-day was bands of young Catholic aristocrats performing scavenging and other municipal services.

The Madrid Corporation was dismissed to-day, and in future the affairs of the Municipality will be controlled by Señor Martinez de Velasco, the Agrarian leader, who is a Minister without portfolio in the Lerroux Government.

Three hundred requests for employment have been received from the provinces on behalf of men anxious to replace the dismissed tramwaymen.

Further fighting in the provinces is reported in the latest messages. The Mayor of the village of Tarrazon, in the Province of Albacete, was seriously wounded while he addressed a band of insurgents from the balcony of the Town Hall. In the conflict that followed three Civil Guards were killed and a number of people wounded.

One person was killed and twenty-five wounded in Villa Robledo, in the same province, when the police stormed the Town Hall, which was in the hands of the insurgents.

Reports from Bilbao state that a bomb exploded in the mining town of Salvador, wounding three persons, including a woman. The Socialist leaders at Bilbao have been arrested.

The Minister of Public Instruction announced this morning that the situation in the Northern Province of Asturias was by no means under control, but this afternoon Señor Lerroux, the Premier, declared that the revolt in Catalonia and the Asturias was now "completely dominated."

PROVINCIAL FIGHTING.

Troops have been sent to Birruelos, which is apparently one of the storm centres. From there they hope to proceed to Mieres.

Fighting has occurred in Sestao and Portugualete.

A squadron of five warships was ordered to steam at full speed for Barcelona.

It is reported from San Sebastian that fighting has been going on in the streets for some hours. No soldiers are on duty in the streets, and the police are finding it difficult to deal with snipers. Twelve people have been wounded, and warehouses on the wharves have been burned down by rebels.

A great demonstration in favour of the Government took place to-day in Madrid, when a crowd numbering many thousands marched up the Calle Alcala and stopped outside the Home Office, where cheers were given for the Prime Minister, Senor Lerroux, and for united Spain and the Republic.

The municipal employés have been ordered to return to work to-morrow morning on pain of dismissal, and the street lighters must resume work at nine o'clock this evening. Dustmen have been ordered to be at work at seven o'clock to-morrow morning. The Government have also ordered that all shops and factories shall re-open normally to-morrow.

Workers who do not return to their jobs immediately must consider their contracts to be cancelled. All employés of the underground and tramway services have been dismissed.

CITY OF THE DEAD.

TURKS FIRE ON FRENCH.

GULF OF SMYRNA INCIDENT.

DESTROYERS RETURN SHOTS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

ISTANBUL, Sunday.

AN extraordinary incident in which Turkish coastal batteries opened fire on two French destroyers has taken place in the Gulf of Smyrna.

The French destroyers, Cassard and Guepard, under the command of Vice-Admiral Rivet, were due to arrive here next week after visiting Greek waters.

Yesterday they steamed up the Gulf of Smyrna, which is a military zone.

The Turkish coastal batteries opened fire on the destroyers, which are reported to have returned the fire.

Messages from Angora state that the French Embassy there had requested permission from the Turkish Government for the destroyers to visit Smyrna.

The Turkish authorities, however, refused permission because no foreign warships are allowed to enter Smyrna. The French Embassy is now in communication with the Turkish Foreign Office regarding the incident.

The Turkish Government, it is learned, while protesting against the violation of Turkish territorial waters at Smyrna, wishes to settle the incident amicably.

An exchange of views is now taking place on the subject between the Turkish Foreign Office and the French Embassy. It is believed that no lives were lost in the incident.

PARIS, Sunday.

Official circles here say they are without any information on the Gulf of Smyrna incident.

LONDON-CARDIFF AIR RACE.

SIR CHARLES ROSE CRASHES.

There were fifteen entrants for the London-Cardiff air race, which was flown from Hatfield Aerodrome on Saturday last. Only two women entered—Mrs. Elise Battye, flying a D.H. Moth, and Miss Paddy Naismith, in a B2 Trainer. Her passenger was Lord Patrick Crichton-Stuart, son of the Marquess of Bute.

Among the high-speed competitors were Sir Charles Rose, the twenty-one-year-old baronet, who was flying his Miles Hawk Major machine, which competed in the King's Cup this year, and has a top speed of over 180 miles per hour; and A. H. Cook, who was flying a Comper Swift.

When the 'planes started on their 120 miles' journey flying conditions were poor, and a light rain was falling.

Sir Charles Rose crashed at the finish of the race at Cardiff Aerodrome, but was unhurt.

The first machine home was a Hendy Hobo, owned by Lord Patrick Crichton-Stuart and piloted by Flight-Lieutenant Duncanson. Despite bad conditions, he did the journey in an hour, and won the race. The second machine home was a Comper Swift, piloted by Mr. A. H. Cook, and the third was a D.H. Moth, piloted by Mr. L. Lipton.

dead. Not a private car was out, and the only motor vehicles seen were the police cars. Every person walking in the streets was obliged to keep his hands up. Strict regulations are in force in regard to vehicular traffic, and no cars are allowed on the streets without a special permit for each journey.

Renewed firing in Madrid occurred in at least five different districts. Three persons were killed.

The offices of the Catholic newspaper El Debate are strongly guarded by police, who are barricaded behind stacks of newspapers. About 5.30 this afternoon there was a great deal of firing in the vicinity, but no casualties could be seen.

Largo Caballero, one of the rebel leaders, is believed to have crossed the frontier. Three others, including Arturo Menendez, the former Head of Police, and Señor Dencas, the Catalan Minister of the Interior, made good their escape from the Generalidad Palace by an underground passage.

Señor Luis de Zulueta, the Spanish Ambassador in Berlin, and Señor Barnes, the Ambassador in Mexico, who are both Left Wing Republicans, are reported to have resigned their posts.

Martial law was proclaimed on Saturday night throughout Spain.

TWO KILLED AT SAN SEBASTIAN.

WOMEN ACCOMPANY INSURGENTS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Sunday.

There was desultory firing in the streets here all the morning, causing two deaths.

A lad of eighteen years was killed near the Kursaal with a bullet through the heart. The other victim was an artilleryman.

Five people were wounded.

Troops are pursuing into the country a band of strikers who during the night set fire to five warehouses in the Port of Los Pasajes, a few miles west of here.

The prison at the town of Eibar, the scene of Friday's attack on an arms factory, is too small to accommodate all the people arrested, and 150 have been sent to Pampeluna Jail.

At Bilbao insurgents attacked the police station. A young man was mortally wounded. Seventeen arrests were made. The large number of women accompanying the insurgents is a feature of the trouble at Bilbao.

SUSPECTED GUN-RUNNER DETAINED.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

BORDEAUX, Sunday.

Although the Turquesa, the Spanish tramp vessel suspected of being concerned in gun-running in the Asturias province of Spain, was authorised to continue her voyage, a counter-order has now been received by the port authorities here.

The Turquesa is to be detained at Bordeaux, with police inspectors, mobile guards and Customs authorities mounting guard.

It is believed that the Spanish Government has requested the French authorities to continue to detain the vessel, lest its cargo of armaments should be connected in some way with the recent events in Spain.

On Friday the vessel, a former British tramp, was searched by the Customs officials, and it is alleged twenty machine guns, several hundred rifles and many boxes of ammunition were discovered. The vessel was first detained on September 30th on the grounds that her papers were not in order.

OLIVE BRANCH OR BAYONETS.

MUSSOLINI'S DECLARATION.

"I ALLUDED TO HUNGARY."

DISARMAMENT BURIED.

SPEAKING at Milan on Saturday Signor Mussolini referred to disarmament, and declared that Mr. Henderson, the Chairman of the Disarmament Conference, could not succeed in reviving the Lazarus of disarmament, which was buried under navies and cannon.

"If it is to be peace," said Signor Mussolini, "then that peace must be accompanied by justice. We can then adorn our rifles with the olive branch. But if this peace cannot come, then, you may rely upon it, we shall instead adorn our rifles with bayonets and with new victories."

Subsequently (says Reuter) the Duce sent the following telegram to General Goemboes, the Hungarian Prime Minister:

"It is my wish to inform Your Excellency at the end of my speech, while I was talking of peace and the justice that should accompany it, I thought of, and alluded to, Hungary."

General Goemboes sent the following reply to the Duce:—

"I am grateful for your telegram."

Reviewing the relations of Italy and her neighbours the Duce at Milan made a covert reference to a gibe of the Yugoslav newspapers about the courage of the Italian Army:—

"It is not possible to improve our relations with our neighbours across the Adriatic if through their papers they continue to wound us to the core," he said. "The valour of the Italian Army could not be doubted. It had given over 600,000 dead to the common cause of the Allies."

Italy, he declared, had defended, and would defend, Austrian independence. Concerning Germany, he affirmed that it is not possible to conceive a development in European history without Germany.

He maintained that relations with Switzerland were excellent, and that relations with France had considerably improved.

FREE STATE SUGAR ORDER.

In our issue of last Saturday, in our report of the new Free State Sugar Order, we stated that "cheaper forms of sugar, such as are used for jam-making and other culinary purposes, are excluded from the Order."

This statement was made inadvertently. We learn now that the jam manufacturers in the Free State use only the very finest quality of white sugar of over 98 degrees polarisation in their jam-making.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TO-DAY.

OCTOBER 8, 1914.

Antwerp fell after two hundred German guns had bombarded it incessantly for over a week. The capitulation was accompanied by dreadful loss of life, and the greater part of the city is in flames. Almost the whole of the inhabitants have fled. A German report of the fall likens the city to "Dante's Inferno." Most of the fleeing citizens crossed the Dutch border, where there are now half-a-million refugees.

In the last stages of the siege the British Government, in response to an appeal from the Belgian Government, rushed a Marine brigade and two naval brigades to assist in the defence. These units were the last to leave the city, and it is believed that they have been virtually annihilated in fighting in the suburbs 22,800 Belgian troops are interned in Holland, having crossed the frontier at the end of the siege.

Strong German columns, concentrated round the town of Ypres, prepared to march upon Paris, which, it is stated, the German Army plans to enter by October 28.

THE LAURENTIC'S RETURN.

CONDITION OF INVALIDS IMPROVED.

Shortly before midnight the Cunard-White Star liner Laurentic berthed in the Alexandra Basin, Dublin, with 1,300 Irish pilgrims returning from Lourdes. The pilgrimage, which was organised by the Irish Franciscan Fathers, under the patronage of the Most Rev. Dr. Paschal Robinson, O.F.M., Nuncio Apostolic, and led by the Right Rev. Dr. Neville, C.S.Sp., Bishop of Carres, was a most successful one, and the condition of every invalid aboard is stated to be much improved, the improvement in three cases being so marked as to arouse considerable interest.

Owing to rough weather experienced off Land's End, the Laurentic did not arrive in Dublin Bay until midday, but missed the tide by an hour and was forced to lie at anchor off the port for twelve hours until suitable high water conditions could be obtained at the bar. When the ship berthed last night only five stretcher cases were removed by St. John Ambulance men. The remainder of the sick and passengers will be disembarked this morning.

Alderman A. Byrne, T.D., Lord Mayor of Dublin, who was one of the pilgrims, was very enthusiastic about the voyage, and described the scenes at the Lourdes grotto as being most impressive. He made the acquaintance of the Bishop of Lourdes and Tarbes, Monsignor Gerlier, who, he said, recalled with pleasure his visit to Dublin during the Eucharistic Congress of 1932, and was warm in his praise of the Irish pilgrims and the Irish people in general.

Other distinguished pilgrims who returned to Dublin last night were the Most Rev. Dr. MacNeely, Bishop of Raphoe; the Very Rev. Canon Kelleher, President of St. John's College, Waterford; the Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, Dungarvan; the Mayor of Clonmel, Mr. White, and Mr. John Gibbons, the well-known author.

An official of the Cunard-White Star company stated that the weather experienced since the ship had left the French port of Le Verdon had been very rough; so bad, in fact, that the French pilot had been unable to leave the liner.

Mr. Samuel Rutledge, of North Parade, Belfast, who died on March 22nd last, left personal estate in Great Britain valued at £1,399.

BLUE SHIRT TROUBLE.

PEACE PLAN TO BE DISCUSSED.

UNITED IRELAND PARTY MEETING TO-DAY.

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

MR. PATRICK BELTON'S "peace plan," which is designed to heal the breach in the Blue Shirt movement, will be considered by deputies, senators and other leading members of the United Ireland Party to-day at a meeting at 3 Merrion square, Dublin.

Mr. Belton, who states that he is not taking sides in the controversy between General O'Duffy and the party executive, wishes to arrange a meeting between Commandant Cronin and General O'Duffy, at which certain proposals formulated by himself and a senior Blue Shirt officer would be discussed. In the event of his plan being adopted by the party, General O'Duffy would be invited to rejoin the United Ireland Party, but on a somewhat different footing, I understand, from that which he had before his resignation.

There is likely to be an exceptionally full attendance at the meeting, which will hear the views of Mr. Frank MacDermot, who has been absent from Dublin since the controversy started. Mr. MacDermot crossed over from England during the week-end in order to be present to-day.

It is not expected that any sharp cleavage of opinion will be revealed. The meeting is a sequel to last Thursday's gathering, at which the attitude adopted by the executive in regard to General O'Duffy's resignation was unanimously endorsed.

An official statement on the discussions will be issued after the meeting.

APPOINTMENTS.

General O'Duffy has made the following appointments to the League of Youth:—

City and County Dublin Division.—Divisional Director, Captain M. Sweetman; Deputy Divisional Director, Commandant D. O'Sullivan; Divisional Treasurer, Dr. J. Conway; Divisional Secretary, Walter Batt.

No. 1 District (North County Dublin).—District Director, K. C. Cahill.

No. 2 District (South County Dublin).—District Director (Acting), R. Gilleece.

No. 3 District (Dun Laoghaire Borough).—District Director, P. McGarry.

No. 4 District (South City).—District Director, N. Crilly.

No. 5 District (North City).—District Director, A. L. Casserley.

A meeting of the new Divisional Executive will be held to-day to complete appointments on district staffs and to confirm unit officers in their appointments.

UNITED IRELAND PARTY.

The County Dublin Executive of the United Ireland Party issued the following statement on Saturday:—

"A well attended meeting of the members of the various branches of No. 6 District Executive (Rathmines area) was held in St. Patrick's Hall, 3 Merrion square, on Thursday. The hall was filled to capacity.

"The meeting was addressed by the following:—Senator Blythe, Mr. J. A. Costello, K.C., T.D.; Mr. Gearoid O'Sullivan, T.D.; Mr. Michael Hogan, Chairman of the County Dublin Executive; Mr. W. Moran (Terenure and Harold's Cross branch), Mr. W. J. Colman (Ranelagh branch). Mr. Michael Hayes presided.

"On the motion of Mr. Fennell (Rathmines branch), seconded by Mr. Moran, the following resolution was passed unanimously with acclamation:—

"'That this joint meeting of the Fine Gael and League of Youth branches of the No. 6 District Executive confirms its confidence in the National Executive of Fine Gael (United Ireland Party).'"

IN THE COUNTRY.

Our Borrisoleigh, County Tipperary, correspondent writes:—It was ascertained on Saturday that there was every likelihood of a withdrawal of the farmers from the United Ireland Party. Three prominent men in the political life of the county are mentioned as sponsoring the project.

Speaking in Tipperary Mr. P. L. Ryan said that the farmers should stick to their own organisation, whatever might happen in Dublin.

The Farmers' Unions still exist in Co. Tipperary.

Our Carrickmacross correspondent writes:—The Blue Shirt element in South Monaghan are bewildered by the turn of events. While there is a noticeable falling away in the ranks, most of the Blue Shirts prefer to "wait and see" before offering allegiance to any party. In Carrickmacross General O'Duffy, who has been concentrating on the district since the local elections, appears to have retained his hold on both the League of Youth and the United Ireland Party.

MERRION SQUARE CATHEDRAL SITE.

DR. BYRNE'S DENIAL OF RUMOURS.

The Archbishop of Dublin, at Inchicore, yesterday, denied the rumours circulated during the past few months that the Merrion square site for Dublin's new cathedral had been abandoned, and that the church authorities were seeking a new site.

"A strange report," he said, "has been put in circulation that we have abandoned our intention of erecting the cathedral on the Merrion square site. I should like to allay any apprehension there may be among the faithful of our diocese, or among our many other friends in Ireland and beyond the seas, who not only approved of, but were overjoyed by, the securing of such a glorious site for a new cathedral, worthy not only of our capital, but also of our Catholic race. I wish, therefore, emphatically and definitely to contradict this report. Merrion square has been acquired as a site for the cathedral, and on Merrion square, please God, the cathedral will be built."

CATTLE EXPORT LICENCES.

TO REVERT TO FEEDERS.

FROM OUR AGRICULTURAL CORRESPONDENT.

Owing to the number of complaints made by stockfeeders regarding the allocation of cattle export licences it is understood that the Irish Free State Government intends to revert to the practice of issuing these licences to feeders, as from the beginning of November next.

It is alleged that licences have been issued to men who never had anything to do with shipping cattle, and who now make money by selling licences to those who want them.

LORD CUSHENDUN.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

The condition of Lord Cushendun, who is very seriously ill at his country seat, Glenmona, Cushendun, County Antrim, was stated last night to be critical. He was unconscious.

THE FARMERS' PLIGHT.

"FEARFUL OF THE FUTURE."

OUTCOME OF ECONOMIC CONDITIONS.

"THOUSANDS of respectable and honest Irish farmers are losing heart and are fearful of the future," said the Rev. R. Mc.N. Boyd, B.D., M.C., Prebendary of Tipperkevin, who preached at the Harvest Thanksgiving Service in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, yesterday afternoon.

"Some time ago," the preacher said. "I walked with a man over his farm. When I remarked on the excellent quality of his herds and crops, his reply was: 'They are as good as I ever possessed, but it would be better for me if I had never seen any of them.' That reply came from an honest Christian man, whose heart is bound up in the welfare of Ireland. I am sure he made it without due thought, but I mention his reply because it is typical of a state of mind which is becoming far too prevalent among people whose work is connected with the land. This holds within it the beginnings of an outlook which is antagonistic to Christian teaching, and which may ultimately lead to a Communism definitely materialistic and contrary to all the best traditions of our land."

"This state of mind is not directly due to a growing unbelief in the goodness of God and His wonderful manifestation of love in the provision of the harvest. It is rather the outcome of the economic conditions which are pressing heavily upon many of our fellow-countrymen to-day.

LOSS INSTEAD OF GAIN.

"These are getting little or no return for their efforts. In many cases the result of the year's work is loss instead of gain. Where there was once contentment and hope there is now too evident a spirit of hopelessness and self-pity.

"I mention these things, not by way of passing any opinion as to the advisability of the present economic state, but rather because in the production of the harvest, and, indeed, in the accomplishment of all honest work, I would emphasise our mutual dependence upon one another. The well being, for instance, of those who dwell in our towns and cities depends ultimately on the well-being and contentment of those engaged in agriculture.

"If men would but realise their brotherhood in the family of God, there would be no room left for self-will and ill-will. For a wider manifestation of that Christian spirit of good-will, peace and fellowship I earnestly appeal. It is because I believe that as a nation we are predominantly loyal to Christ Our King that I can hopefully make such an appeal to those to whom God has given the responsibilities of leadership."

COUNTRY'S WELFARE.

Speaking on the duty of being thankful, the preacher said that he gladly acknowledged the many efforts being made to advance the welfare of this country. He would especially drew attention to the provision of better housing both in town and country. He appealed to the people, in conclusion, to show their individual thanksgiving by a spirit of unstinting service and of joyful trust in God's purpose.

FARMERS' LOSSES

Statistics compiled by estate agents, professional valuers and accountants in the Irish Free State show that for the year 1933 Free State farmers with farms of 60 acres and over sustained losses in trading of, roughly, £1 13s. per acre. This figure (says the Free State Farmer) compares with a loss of £2 4s. for 1932, £1 11s. for 1931, and £1 7s. for 1930, and has been arrived at from an investigation of the trading and profit and loss accounts of representative farms in different part of the country.

The statistics deal with farms in the Counties of Carlow, Cavan, Cork, Donegal, Kilkenny, Kerry, Limerick, Longford, Meath, Monaghan, Roscommon, Tipperary, Waterford and Wexford, with a total area of 3,445 acres, of which nearly 300 are under tillage, the remainder being pasture and meadow.

On these farms 72 hands were permanently employed, and a sum of £4,131 was paid out in wages.

The gross loss, including rent deductions, is returned at £5,707 for 1933.

The loss is not so heavy as in 1932, attributable to the fact that land annuities were reduced, and the values of live-stock had been written down on account of the heavy fall in prices due to the tariff war with Britain and the general depression in agriculture.

FROM "THE TIMES."

(BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT.)

MAJORITY RULE IN SPAIN.

The Times, commenting in a leading article to-day on the events in Spain, observes:—For the first time since last year's general election, Spain has a Government with a majority of its own in the Cortes. This innovation will be all to the good if the victors can restrain their followers from the satisfaction of personal or party hatreds at the expense of the vanquished. Señor Lerroux's public statement that martial law would be applied with rigour, but without cruelty, justifies the hope that the Government will not gratuitously provide the Opposition with martyrs. Clemency, combined with a greater readiness for political compromise than most Spanish parties have yet displayed under the republic, may give Spain a more stable régime than her people have enjoyed since the fall of the monarchy. But here again the leaders of the various groups that compose the parliamentary majority are likely to have difficulties with their supporters.

Since the days of Torquemada, Spanish politicians, whether clerics or laymen, have paid little practical attention to the adage that half a loaf is better than no bread. There are, for example, obvious possibilities of friction between the popular Agrarians, who, as fervent Catholics, oppose the Articles of the Constitution which separate Church and State and forbid the religious Orders to teach, and the Radicals, who have never been suspected of clerical sympathies. On the other hand, the danger of Fascism, to which the Radicals and most of the Catholics are hostile, seems to be grossly exaggerated. In Spain, as elsewhere, the parties of the Left have acquired the habit of calling all their opponents Fascists. Democratic liberties, indeed, are unquestionably more secure under the new Government than they were when the Socialists dominated the Cortes, and in the long run they are likely to be strengthened rather than diminished by the defeat of the latest attempt at revolution. For what the President of the Republic and Senor Lerroux had to face last week-end was not the spontaneous uprising of an oppressed democracy, but an attempt to overthrow a majority Government in the interests of a dictatorship of the Left.

THE SEARCH FOR THE MILLPOOL.

ATLANTIC GALE DRAMA.

FRUITLESS SEARCH BY ASCANIA.

OFFICER'S GRAPHIC STORY.

A GRAPHIC account of a fruitless search for the British steamer Millpool, which, it is feared, foundered with all hands during the terrific gales which are sweeping the North Atlantic, was given at Plymouth yesterday when the Cunard-White Star liner Ascania arrived from Canada twenty-four hours late.

Bad weather was experienced soon after the Ascania left Montreal, and at the height of the storm on Monday night S.O.S. messages were picked up from the Millpool, which had left Hartlepool on September 4th in the course of a voyage from Danzig to Montreal with a cargo of grain.

Her wireless operator reported that three members of the crew of twenty-six were injured, her mainmast had crashed down, wrecking the after hatch, and she was making water fast.

The Ascania at once left her course, and throughout the night fought her way through the eighty miles an hour gale to the position given by the Millpool. Further messages were picked up as she raced to the help of the singing ship, but they grew fainter and fainter, and at two o'clock in the morning ceased altogether.

There was still hope that the ship was afloat; for her operator had wirelessed that he was working on his emergency set, and the cessation of signals might have meant only that his batteries were exhausted. But when dawn broke and the Ascania and the Canadian Pacific freighter Beaverhill, which had also raced to the Millpool's help, reached the position from which the last message had been sent out all that could be seen was a wide expanse of mountainous seas.

For twelve hours the two ships searched the vicinity, sending up rockets periodically, but not even a piece of wreckage was found, and eventually hope had to be abandoned, and the vessels resumed their voyages.

NEVER WORSE WEATHER.

"I have never experienced worse weather in all my twenty-seven years of the sea," one officer in the Ascania told a reporter. "Even if the crew of the Millpool had managed to launch their lifeboats they would not have been afloat for long in such huge seas. 'When we could not see the ship we expected to find wreckage, and possibly a survivor or two clinging to it, but there was absolutely nothing.

"I imagine her decks were stripped hours before we arrived, and that when she foundered everything went to the bottom.

"The Ascania encountered gales all the way across the Atlantic, but little damage was caused. The only time we felt the full force of the storm was when we were turning to search for the Millpool."

THE AIR RACE TO AUSTRALIA.

OPPORTUNITY FOR IRISH FOOD FIRMS.

Miss E. N. Somers, Secretary of the National Agricultural and Industrial Development Association and Permanent Exhibition of Irish Manufactures, 3 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, calls attention to the following announcement, which appears in a technical journal:—

"Pilots competing in the England-Australia air race (which starts on October 20th) must carry certain food rations to comply with the rules. An opportunity of valuable publicity is thus afforded, and interested food firms should communicate without delay."

Miss Somers adds that, as Ireland is entering as a competitor in this race, her Association feel sure that Irish organisers will be eager to extend the name and fame of suitable Irish products. Firms communicating with the Association on the subject will have their suggestions placed before the owner and pilot of the "Irish Swoop."

IRISH AIRMAN DELAYED.

Colonel Fitzmaurice, the Atlantic airman, who is an entrant for the London-Melbourne air race, was expected to arrive at Eastleigh yesterday in his machine from Bremerhaven. He was, however, held up in Germany by bad weather. If the weather improves he will leave to-day.

VICTIM OF RITUAL MURDER?

ENGLISHMAN'S DEATH IN KENYA.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

NAIROBI, Saturday.

Startling revelations regarding the mysterious death of a young Englishman, Mr. Theodore Powys, in the Laikipia district of Kenya, in October, 1931, are likely to follow the arrest of a Samburu native here to-day.

The authorities are convinced that Powys was not killed by a lion, as was then supposed, but was the victim of a spear blooding ritual murder by natives. The native who has been arrested is charged with the murder, and warrants have also been issued against four others.

Powys was employed on a farm, and his death was never satisfactorily explained.

FIVE FRENCH MINERS LOST.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.

TOULOUSE, Sunday.

There is no hope of saving five miners who were trapped by fire in the principal gallery of the Cagnac Mine at Albi, six hundred feet below the surface. The five trapped men were overcome by the smoke and were unable to escape with the rest. The fire is still raging, and rescuers have been prevented from approaching the mine owing to the violence of the flames.

A POPULAR MINISTER.

HERR VON DEHN "AT HOME."

BIG GATHERING AT GERMAN LEGATION.

At the German Legation, Northumberland road, Dublin, last Saturday afternoon, a very large company assembled to bid farewell to the German Minister, Herr von Dehn, on his leaving Dublin to take up his duties in Bucharest. The reception rooms of the Legation were crowded with guests, and there were many expressions of regret at the departure of so popular a Minister.

The company was representative of the political, diplomatic and social life in Dublin.

CARDINAL MacRORY

LEAVES FOR MELBOURNE.

ADDRESSES AT STATIONS.

ARMAGH, Saturday.

This morning thousands of his parishioners assembled to bid farewell to Cardinal MacRory as he left for the Eucharistic Congress in Melbourne to act as representative of the Pope. A procession, headed by many motor cars, accompanied the Cardinal to the railway station, and just before the train steamed out the Cardinal Primate, who was visibly affected by the demonstration, in a brief address thanked the people for their touching send-off, which he recognised as the gratitude of the people of Armagh to the Holy Father for honouring him and at the same time honouring their beloved country in appointing him as Papal Legate to the great Eucharistic Congress in Melbourne.

AT DUNDALK.

DUNDALK, Saturday.

At Dundalk railway station priests and people joined in a demonstration as the train reached the station and Cardinal MacRory came to the door of his carriage. All the societies, trade unions and clubs in Dundalk were represented.

An address on behalf of the priests and people of Dundalk was signed by Monsignor Tohall, Adm., Dundalk, and by Mr. Patrick Hughes, Chairman of the Dundalk Urban Council. The address, which was read by Mr. Bernard McGuinness, stated: "The appointment of the head of the Irish Church as Papal Legate on two occasions within a year is a most emphatic indication of the paternal affection which fills the heart of the Holy Father for his Irish children. We beg Your Eminence to convey to him our heartfelt gratitude and to assure him of our loyalty and devotion. Irish exiles form the nucleus of the Church in Australia. We know that anyone wearing the Roman purple and coming from the side of the Holy Father will be welcomed by their descendants in the Antipodes with that exuberant loyalty characteristic of the Irish race. For you, who are Irish of the Irish, there will be a welcome enthusiastic in the extreme."

Cardinal MacRory, in replying, asked the prayers of the people that God might spare the Pope long years and that he (the Cardinal) might represent him worthily and that God may guide him back safely to Ireland, and especially to his own people.

IN DROGHEDA.

DROGHEDA, Saturday.

Cardinal MacRory was presented with an address of welcome by the Drogheda Corporation when he passed through the town.

Alderman L. Walsh, Mayor of Drogheda, and the members of the Corporation, as well as Mr. J. T. McGee, Chairman, Louth County Council, were at the railway station when the express train arrived with the Cardinal on board, and the address of welcome was read by Mr. Joseph Carr, Town Clerk.

Cardinal MacRory said he was exceedingly grateful to those present for having come out on such a severe morning to present him with such a beautiful address, and he could not tell them how much he appreciated this compliment from the representatives of such an old and historic town, which had in days gone by suffered so much for its loyalty to the Faith. He knew they had come out not so much for him as on account of the Holy Father, to pay him homage because they recognised that the Pope had done honour, not only to him, but to Ireland, in appointing him as Legate to the great Eucharistic Congress in Melbourne. He asked them to pray for the Holy Father that the Lord may grant him many years to continue his glorious labours for the welfare of the Church and the welfare of humanity, because he is labouring also for those outside the Church if they would only listen to him.

Cardinal MacRory passed through Dublin on his way to St. Patrick's College, Maynooth, where he will remain for the autumn meeting of the Irish Bishops to be held to-morrow. On Wednesday he will leave Dublin for Rome, en route to Buenos Ayres, where he will attend the Eucharistic Congress, and later Melbourne.

PEAT, BEET AND WHEAT.

T.D.'S ADVICE TO FARMERS.

CARRICK-ON-SHANNON, Sunday.

Mr. P. J. O'Dowd, T.D., speaking at a meeting at Drumlion to-day, at which Mr. Michael McGowan presided, said that prices for cattle, sheep and agricultural products would be no better than they are even if there was no economic war. The Government were protecting every article of manufacture so that they could be produced here at home to meet the needs of the people, and it was because of this that England had got her back up and Jimmie Thomas imposed his tariff on agricultural products. Ballymore was the only centre in Roscommon which had taken advantage of the Government's peat industry, with the result that 8,000 tons of turf were being purchased by the Government from that district and £5,600 was being paid to farmers of that area for turf, £3,000 or more for beet, and £2,000 for wheat. That was £10,000 going into one half parish because the people were alive to their own interests, and if the farmers in Drumlion parish were up and doing they could be having £10,000. Those who would now think of joining the Blue Shirts would have to consider which of the Blue Shirts they would join, whether Cronin's or O'Duffy's, with their daggers drawn. When General O'Duffy was removed from his office as Chief Commissioner of the Civic Guards by the Executive Council, the leaders of Fine Gael, Messrs. Frank McDermott, William Cosgrave and the rest of them got into a fierce frenzy at the removal of such a great and competent man, but now they found he was incompetent and incapable to act as leader of Fine Gael.

"Bagots and books? Where's the connection?
"Well, in the first place they're both good company. Then, again, millions drink in every word of a best seller and every drop of Bagots. And like all best sellers, Bagots—once it's brought out—is never left long on the shelf."

OBITUARY.

SIR ERNEST HORLOCK, BART.

News was received in London last night of the death in Paris of Sir Ernest Horlock, Bart., aged fifty-four. Sir Ernest for some years had been chairman of Horlock's Malted Milk Co., Ltd., the business founded by his father. He always had a string of polo ponies which he played throughout the London season at Hurlingham, Roehampton and Ranelagh; and for many years he took his Cowley Manor team to the Cowdray Park Tournament, and with it on many occasions won the principal event. He was a golfer, a pioneer motorist, an excellent shot, and a keen angler. His son, Mr. Peter Cunliffe Horlock, succeeds to the baronetcy.

DR. JAMES A. WALSH.

The death took place, on Saturday last, of Dr. James Aloysius Walsh, of Fairfield Villa, Highfield road, Rathgar, Dublin, at the age of 67. He qualified in 1892, shortly after taking over the business of Messrs. J. J. Graham and Co., chemists, Westmoreland street, Dublin, and in the same year became a Licentiate of the Royal College of Physicians, and of the Royal College of Surgeons in Edinburgh. Later in the same year Dr. Walsh gained the qualification, not now obtainable, of Licentiate of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons of Glasgow. In 1905 he became a Licentiate of the Apothecaries' Hall, Dublin, and during his forty years in pharmacy he held, at various times, the posts of President of the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland, and of the Dublin Mercantile Association. Dr. Walsh was also editor of the Irish Chemist and Druggist, a post which he resigned a short time ago.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, and two daughters. One of the sons is Dr. Dermot F. Walsh, R.N., who qualified at Dublin University six years ago, while the other, Mr. J. S. Walsh, is a member of the firm of Messrs. J. J. Graham and Company.

DR. E. E. MOORE.

The death has taken place at his residence, "The Haven," Landscore road, Teignmouth, South Devon, of Dr. Edward Erskine Moore. Dr. Moore, who was the youngest son of the late Rev. William Prior Moore, M.A., a former headmaster of the Royal School, Cavan, was in his seventy-sixth year. He graduated in medicine from Dublin University in 1880, and was at one time Resident Medical Superintendent of Tirconnail Mental Hospital, Letterkenny.

MR. GEORGE FLETCHER.

Mr. George Fletcher, M.A., M.R.I.A., formerly Assistant Secretary in the Department of Agriculture and Technical Instruction in Ireland, died at his residence, in Essex, on the 20th September. Mr. Fletcher occupied an important educational post as Inspector of the Science and Art Department in England when he was appointed by Sir Horace Plunkett in 1901 as Senior Inspector of Technical Instruction in Ireland. In 1904 he was appointed an assistant secretary of that department, and later acted under the Department of Education until his retirement in 1927. For his services in the promotion of technical education, Dublin University conferred on him the honorary degree of M.A. The remarkable development of technical education in Ireland, in which the teaching of science on lines advocated by him was one of the main features, owed a great deal to his initiative and guidance. His influence was also felt in the administration of the Science and Art Museum, and the Irish Training School of Domestic Economy, and he did much in connection with the Metropolitan School of Art and otherwise to improve the teaching of art subjects throughout the country. He was a member of the Royal Irish Academy, a member of the Council of the Royal Dublin Society and of the Kitchener Scholarship Foundation. He gave valuable service on the Peat Inquiry Committee and the Committee inquiring into the water power resources of Ireland.

CHEAPER TRAVEL.

CUNARD COMPANY REDUCTIONS.

Following on the success of the American and Canadian holiday tour programme of the Cunard-White Star Lines during the past season, the company announce further reductions in their tourist and first class travel—United States of America and Canada. These rates also apply to passengers travelling to England. The new cheap excursion rates are to come into force immediately, and will affect all sailings between October 22nd, 1934, and April 30th, 1935. These excursion tickets bring about a general reduction in fares, making, therefore, the round trip fare approximately one and a third of the present minimum one-way passage. Travellers taking advantage of this new excursion rate will be permitted to remain in either America or Canada for fifteen days from the date of landing.

The new reduced fares apply to the whole of the Cunard-White Star fleet. The new changes affect liners sailing from Southampton, Liverpool and London. Travellers taking advantage of this new excursion rate will, in addition to a six thousand miles voyage across the Atlantic, be provided with a novel and exhilarating holiday.

For instance, on the Majestic, Berengaria, Aquitania and Olympic the old rate was £43 15s.; the new rate is £32 5s. The old rate, third class, was £30 15s.; the new rate is £23 5s.

In the case of the Homeric and Mauretania the old tourist rate was £41 15s.; the new rate is £30 15s. The old rate, third class, was £30 15s.; the new rate is £23 5s.

ULSTER FARMERS' UNION.

SIR BASIL BROOKE'S VIEWS.

Mr. George Thompson, J.P., presided on Saturday in Belfast over a conference of dairymen, secretaries and treasurers of branches of the Ulster Farmers' Union.

The Chairman, referring to the Government marketing schemes, appealed to the farming community to give them a fair trial. If, he said, any, or all of them, proved a failure those who had criticised them adversely would say their prophecy had been confirmed. He asked them not to face their administration in that spirit, but rather from the standpoint of making them a success.

Mr. David Wright, J.P., secretary of the Farmers' Union, appealed for greater activity in the work of the branches.

At a subsequent luncheon, Sir Basil Brooke, Minister of Agriculture, said that he thought it all to the good that the Union and the Ministry did not always see eye to eye, and that the executive of their organisation was prepared to go against his department provided they took the better way. He greatly appreciated the work of the young farmers' clubs, four of which had been organised in his part of the country.

FIRE AT HOTEL WHERE HOOD WROTE.

Swan Hotel, Thames Ditton, the 600-year-old riverside resort where Thomas Hood wrote "The Song of the Shirt," was damaged by fire during Friday night, the dance room and one bar being destroyed.

The alarm was given by Miss Rosalie Stagg, daughter of the proprietor, who became alarmed at the heat of her bedroom floor. Bursting bottles of spirits fed the flames. Miss Stagg, returning to her bedroom to get some personal belongings, was almost overcome by smoke.

IRISH LITERARY SOCIETY.

LONDON, Sunday.

A presidential reception at 39 Grosvenor place, London, S.W. 1, marked the inauguration of the new session of the Irish Literary Society, when a number of members and guests enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. Crone, Vice-President, who acted as host at tea.

Songs were contributed by Miss W. Allan, and Irish airs, arranged as pianoforte solos, were given by Miss A. May.

Among those who attended were:—Mrs. Ashe King, wife of the ex-President; Mr. Stephen Gwynn, President; Miss Collins, sister of Michael Collins; Mr. Michael MacDonagh, Miss M. Dowling, Hon. Secretary, and Mr. P. Callinan, Hon. Treasurer.

LORD DUFFERIN ON INDIA.

BRITISH TACTICS CONDEMNED.

BELIEF IN WHITE PAPER SCHEME.

"I AM convinced that if a policy of the strong hand in India is persisted in, it will fail," said the Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, addressing the Ulster Unionist Labour Association on Saturday last.

I intended, he said, to keep silent on the matter, as the proposals for India are the subject of consideration by a strong Select Committee, but the events of the last day or two have made me change my mind. I do not believe in the sort of tactics that stampeded the Bristol Conservative Conference into such a resolution before they had the slightest idea of what they were resolving about, or of what they were condemning as dangerous. Such tactics would not commend themselves to the Unionist Party or the country.

There has been a great gaining in strength of those elements in the Unionist Party who believe it possible to keep the Indian Empire by doing nothing, and to fob off the Indian issue by wholly illusory reforms. I regard that attitude with great fear and great distrust, and I cannot help remembering that the same element in the party lost us the American colonies.

I am not one who, seeing a fight on, is anxious to keep out, and as the glove has been thrown down at Bristol, I want to persuade you that the majority of the delegates were right when they refused Sir Henry Page-Croft's resolution.

TRADE ASPECT.

We have to maintain our connection with India so far as trade is concerned, but do you really think that our trade will suffer if we give her a measure of self-government? The cotton agitation has disappeared because India has seen that Britain is going to implement her promise. Who would have believed five years ago that the Indian Legislature would pass by a large majority the Ottawa Agreements? It is absurd to suggest that we shall be compelled to sell goods at the point of the bayonet. We can only sell goods to India if she wants goods, and is willing to buy them.

A policy of good-will will do our trade in India much greater service than any policy of the strong hand, or the repudiation of the Fiscal Convention.

I believe that the scheme outlined in the White Paper will succeed. I believe that the safeguards are sufficient, and that the British people will be behind the Viceroy in any action he may have to take; but I will not answer for the future if we try to rely on machine-guns and bayonets.

PRESERVING A BEAUTY SPOT.

MR. G. K. CHESTERTON ON "VANDALISM."

A message from Mr. Stanley Baldwin was read at a meeting which was held at Monks Risborough, Bucks, on Saturday, under the auspices of the Bucks Branch of the Council for the Preservation of Rural England, and of the Whiteleaf Cross Committee to further the movement for the preservation of the view from Whiteleaf Cross at Monks Risborough, in the Chiltern Hills.

It is hoped to preserve 61 acres of land immediately below the cross. People from all parts of Buckinghamshire attended the meeting.

Mr. Baldwin wrote:—"I have been very much interested to learn of what has already been accomplished, and the further efforts which you are making. When I was Prime Minister I knew your county, and I wish you every success."

Mr. G. K. Chesterton expressed strong views about "vandalism."

"There has been vandalism in the world from the beginning, I suppose," he said, "but almost invariably it meant that the people who went out to destroy hated what they destroyed.

"The old barbarians had not many virtues, but they had one. They generally destroyed the things they hated. The extraordinary situation in modern England and countries like modern England is that people destroy what they love or what they are pursuing.

"People come to live out in the country. They come out in motor cars; they come out and build houses in the country, and then they destroy the rural life entirely by covering it with advertisements, with petrol pumps and stations, and they lay waste the thing that they themselves want.

"What is to be done with an extraordinary paradox like that? There have never before been iconoclasts who destroyed the idol they wanted to worship. There have never before been fanatics who rushed out for a faith and ruined the very faith for which they fought.

"In these circumstances it is perfectly clear," added Mr. Chesterton, "that you must be very careful in organising an outward movement of urban people. It must be in some system of order and harmony, and select and choice. You must choose where you will build so as not to destroy the thing you hope to enjoy. You must erect houses where it is right and sane to build.

"You must not build blindly, but where it will not blot out the gateway and vision of beauty.

"Above all you must be careful you do not spoil great prospects, magnificent glimpses of the greatness of our country—great distances, vistas, avenues and the rest. We all know that the beauty of England consists of these things."

Speaking of the Whiteleaf Cross in particular, Mr. Chesterton said it appeared to him to be a perfectly scandalous case of a proposal to shut out the whole of a great vista and vision of England from all the English people merely in order that a certain number of "crude, casual, lounging, rather caddish modern people could stick up bricks and mortar in the wrong place."

Dr. R. N. Goodman, chairman of the Appeal Committee, said of the total amount of approximately £2,700 required to cover the purchase of the land expenses, a balance of £1,208 had yet to be subscribed. The public had subscribed £892 and the Pilgrims Trust, of which Mr. Baldwin is chairman, had undertaken to give £550 towards the cost if the rest was met by the public.

NORTHERN MILK COUNCIL.

PRODUCERS' NOMINEES.

The following candidates have been nominated by holders of producers' licences for election to the Joint Milk Council of Northern Ireland. Candidates may withdraw up to October 9. Should a poll be necessary in County Down, where there are three candidates for two seats, voting papers will be sent to registered producers not later than October 20, to be returned on or before October 27:—

Belfast and County Antrim — Edward Greenlees, Gravel Hill, Carnmoney, County Antrim; George Thompson, Kilburn, Dundrod, County Antrim.

County Down—William Robert Morrow, J.P., Ben Vista, Knock, County Down; William Isaac Wilson, Fairview, Kilfullert, Maralin, County Down; David Wright, J.P., The Moat, Dundonald, County Down.

Borough and County of Londonderry—Thomas Adams Galbraith, Ballyarnett, Londonderry.

Counties Armagh, Fermanagh and Tyrone—Robert Stevenson, Ballylaw, Artigarvin, Strabane, County Tyrone; Matthew John Wauchob, J.P., Laraghs, Newtownstewart, County Tyrone.

It was learned last night that William Owen, the thirty-six years old Englishman who was found stabbed on Saturday in the apartment of a young Spanish night club dancer at Montreal, was at one time a member of Mr. Lloyd George's secretariat, though not actually employed in a secretarial capacity.

SPANISH REVOLT.

o'clock in the afternoon to allow foreigners only to leave Spain.

All is quiet between Hendaye and Irun, just inside the Spanish border, and, were it not for the presence of the police and troops and the closed cafés, there is nothing to indicate any abnormal situation.

Communications are still interrupted between France and Spain on the Mediterranean frontier (says a Paris message). The Paris-Barcelona express got as far as Figueras, 20 miles beyond the frontier.

Certain trains, however, managed to reach Gerona, which is 40 miles beyond the frontier.

The Spanish population in the village of Puigcerda, just across the border, has been flocking into the French village of Bourgmadame to buy food, as, owing to the strike, all their shops are closed.

On the Atlantic frontier the situation is worse. French trains are being taken from Hendaye, in France, to Irun, in Spain, by steam locomotives, as the electric track has been damaged by the insurgents.

Beyond Irun communications are extremely difficult. In the other direction, from Spain to France, there is no traffic.

POSITION AT GIBRALTAR.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

GIBRALTAR, Sunday.

Considerable excitement prevails in the Spanish towns adjacent to Gibraltar. Special passes have been given to British residents in Latinea to cross the frontier.

Messages from Seville suggest that several of the Spanish Socialist ex-Ministers whom the Spanish authorities are seeking may be making their way to Gibraltar in the hope of getting across the frontier.

Two battalions of the Spanish Foreign Legion have arrived at Algeciras from Ceuta. It is understood that they are en route for Barcelona.

"STRUGGLE AGAINST FASCISM."

I.L.P. SYMPATHY WTH SPANISH REBELS.

A resolution sympathising with the Spanish rebels was passed with enthusiasm at an Independent Labour Party demonstration addressed by Mr. James Maxton, M.P., in Glasgow last night.

"This meeting of 2,000 Glasgow workers expresses its whole-hearted sympathy with the heroic struggle of the Spanish workers and peasants against Fascism," read the resolution.

"We welcome the fact that Socialists, Anarchists, Communists and Syndicalists are fighting shoulder to shoulder in a united front against their common enemy, and we pledge ourselves to organise all support possible for the success of the Spanish revolution, for the victory of the workers' alliances, and for the Socialist State."

BARCELONA BATTLE.

ARTILLERY BOMBARDMENT

From Reuter's Correspondent.

BARCELONA, Monday.

Senor Manuel Azana, the Republican ex-Premier, together with Senor Luiz Bello, has escaped over the French frontier.

Firing in Barcelona has gone on more or less all day, and was intensified greatly when darkness fell.

This afternoon the Artillery bombarded the square where the Civil Governor's building is situated, setting fire to warehouses full of cotton.

A veritable battle commenced at 5.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and lasted about two hours. Reuter's Correspondent could hear rifle firing, pistol firing, machine-gun firing, hand grenades exploding, and artillery gunfire.

The Iberian Anarchist Federation state that they will never surrender; it would appear that most of the present firing is being done by them.

General Batet has broadcast a statement that everybody must resume work and return to their normal state to-day.

Three warships have arrived and are playing their searchlights on the city.

General Batet states that if the revolutionaries do not give in gas will be used.

LORD BINGHAM INJURED.

KNOCKED DOWN BY A CAR.

Lord Bingham, eldest son and heir of the Earl of Lucan, was knocked down by a car near Romford, Essex, on Saturday night, and was taken to Oldchurch Hospital, Romford, where he was detained for the night, suffering from head and face injuries.

The same car also knocked down Mr. Frank Whiffen, who is still detained in hospital, suffering from severe head injuries.

The accident was the result of a curious mix-up on the road. Lord Bingham, accompanied by Lady Bingham, was travelling towards London, on the Colchester road, between Harold Wood and Romford, when on reaching Gallows corner a car in front stopped, owing to an accident. As a result there was a slight collision between Lord Bingham's car and the other, which was driven by Mr. Whiffen.

Lord Bingham and Mr. Whiffen were talking when they were knocked down by another car coming from the direction of Brentwood. They were both taken to hospital in an ambulance, accompanied by Lady Bingham, who had remained in the car during the conversation.

Lord Bingham, who is 35, was married, in December, 1929, to Miss Kaitilin Dawson, daughter of the late Captain the Hon. Edward Dawson and the late Lady Elizabeth Dawson.

BANTRY FISHERY CONSERVATORS.

A meeting of the licence-holders of the Bantry Fishery District was held in Bantry on Saturday for the purpose of electing Conservators for the fresh and tidal waters. The following were elected unopposed:—Fresh water—Mrs. Ethel Coffey, Pearson's Bridge; Mr. Jeremiah Healy, Coomhola, and Mr. Charles Vaughan, Kealkil; tidal waters—Mr. Patrick Downey, Whiddy; Mr. Peter Mullins, Laharn, and Dr. James Cotter, Glengarriff.

SHOOTING AT ELECTIONS.

"A HOT NIGHT IN BALLYDUFF."

TWO MEN RETURNED FOR TRIAL.

LISTOWEL, Sunday.

Riotous scenes which took place in the village of Ballyduff, North Kerry, on the evening of the polling day of the 1933 elections had a sequel at Listowel Court on Saturday before Mr. Charles Kenny, D.J., when James Kenny, water bailiff, Convent street, Listowel, and Patrick O'Neill, Clashmealcon, Causeway, were returned for trial. The charges included riotous assembly, unlawful possession of firearms, and the shooting of James O'Donoghue with intent to maim.

James O'Donoghue, Causeway, stated that he was engaged by the local Fianna Fail party to do election work. After the polling he was waiting in the village of Ballyduff to drive the presiding officer, Mr. Roger Harty, and his sister to their homes. Three cars pulled up forty yards from his, and a number of men got out of the cars and started shouting, "Up, the A.C.A.," and several shots were discharged. His car was displaying Fianna Fail posters, and as he got the impression that the shots were being directed at it he decided to leave it and go to a house for safety. As he was running in the direction of Browne's he saw the two accused men and Cornelius Brosnan, Cumann na nGaedheal candidate, with revolvers in their hands. "As I looked I heard a shot and saw the blueish red flame leaving the gun, and fell to the ground," continued witness. Kenny and O'Neill bent over him, and O'Neill said, "Oh, its Jimmy Donoghue," and ran away. When he recovered consciousness he was on his way to Listowel Hospital in his own car, and Kenny (the accused) was driving. When approaching the level crossing on the Ballybunion road the car ran into the ditch and overturned. He was taken from the car and dragged along the road to a house in Convent lane, Listowel, where he was attended to by Dr. O'Connor and removed to the Listowel Hospital on a stretcher. He was visited later on that night by Cornelius Brosnan, who made certain remarks to him. On the following day he was removed to the County Infirmary, Tralee, where he was operated on and the bullet (produced) was extracted from his shin.

NO NAMES.

Cross-examined, witness said that while in the hospital he was afraid to make any statement or mention any names in connection with the shooting. He did not mention any names in connection with the shooting as he was afraid of the A.C.A.

Dr. Michael O'Connor, M.O.H., Listowel, gave evidence as to the injuries sustained by the last witness.

Patrick J. McElligott, Listowel, ex-captain National Army, stated that on the night in question he met Con Brosnan in the election rooms, and, as a result of a conversation, he (witness) provided three cars and proceeded with a party to Ballyduff. The two accused men, Brosnan and some others, were in the leading car. When he arrived at Ballyduff all was quiet, but as he was returning to Listowel stones were thrown at his car. Later that night he met Kenny and asked him about the shooting of O'Donoghue, and Kenny told him that on the way to Ballyduff he took a revolver from Brosnan. Kenny did not say who shot O'Donoghue, but said: "It was a hot night in Ballyduff." On the 6th June, 1934, he made a statement to Sergeant Deasy, in which he said that Kenny told him that he shot O'Donoghue; that portion of the statement was not true. The reason he stated that was because Kenny struck him with a knuckleduster.

Sergeant Lynch, Ballyduff, produced a statement made by O'Neill, in which he denied taking part in the melee which led to the shooting.

WILL BE LAME.

Dr. Michael Shanahan, Tralee, said he operated on O'Donoghue and extracted a bullet from his leg. The wound is not yet completely healed, pieces of the bone keep coming away and O'Donoghue will always walk with a limp.

Sergeant Dunne, Listowel, read a statement made by Kenny, in which he denied firing the shot.

Michael Brassill, Raheloe, said that he saw the three cars arriving in Ballyduff. A few minutes before the shots were fired O'Neill struck him on the head with a baton.

John Cregan, Ballyduff, said he saw the men arriving from Listowel and shouting: "Up the A.C.A." They had batons and sticks; which they used on the people who were on the street.

Sergeant Murphy, Listowel, said that when he arrested Kenny the latter said the charges were most ridiculous.

SIX YEARS OF FREE TRAVEL.

ARTIST WHO FORGED RAIL TICKETS.

"Times" Telegram.

FRANKFURT, Sunday.

A man who has been arrested by the railway authorities at Frankfurt, according to his confession, has been travelling for the last six years all over Germany, as well as to places in France and Switzerland, with false railway tickets.

The arrested man, an artist, had forged genuine tickets in a most dexterous manner by altering the places of destination, the distance in kilometres, and the fares. Many of the forged tickets were found still in his possession, and these could be distinguished from regular tickets only with difficulty.

The artist declared that he was short of funds and resorted to this device in order to sell his pictures and to gain new impressions in various places.

FLYING IN THE NORTH.

NEW AIR SCHOOL'S PUPILS.

By Our Air Correspondent.

Miss Higgins, a sister-in-law of Brigadier-General Lewin, who is well known at the Irish Aero Club's headquarters in Dublin, is among the twenty-eight pupils who joined the recently-formed Flying School at Newtownards during September—its first month of operation. Brigadier-General Lewin frequently flies between England and Kenya in his light aeroplane, and Miss Higgins is learning to fly in order that she may relieve him at the controls during the long days of flying which the journey involves. Two other women are also receiving flying tuition from the instructor, Flight-Lieutenant W. R. E. Bryant, and the Avro Cadet training machine spent 89 hours in the air during September.

MALTA BAN ON ITALIAN.

Law lectures in the University of Malta and tuition in certain subjects will in the future be given in Maltese or English, and not in Italian, in accordance with a new ordinance which came into force on Saturday.

FATAL FALL FROM LORRY.

Thomas Walsh, aged 24 years, of Piperstown, near Tallaght, died in the Meath Hospital, Dublin, on Saturday, from chest injuries sustained when he fell off a lorry near his home on the previous day.

While cycling along North Richmond street, Dublin, on last Saturday, William Glynn (36), of the North Circular road, a porter in the employment of the Great Southern Railways, came into collision with a motor lorry and sustained severe head injuries. He was taken to the Richmond Hospital, Dublin, but died shortly before admission. An injuest will be held to-day.

A motor coach returning from Blackpool to Tipton, Staffs., was involved in a collision at Warrington last night with a heavy motor lorry. Both vehicles were extensively damaged, and two passengers in the coach were injured, but the drivers escaped.

AIR RAID DRILL.

A REALISTIC SETTING.

SCENES IN MUNICH.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

MUNICH, Saturday.

Stark realism was the keynote of Munich's first air raid protection drill, which was staged here to-day, and lasted for two hours. The scene of the performance was an area around the Eastern Railway Station, Munich's second important station. This district was roped off, and admission to it was allowed only after sharp police scrutiny. The scenery included imitation shell holes in the streets, applications of tar paper to the walls of the buildings, which gave the effect of huge cracks yawning in the stones, and the papering of scores of windows, so that they appeared broken. Large signs marked with arrows pointed the way to the nearest underground shelters. A loud-speaker announced the progress of the raid, and the measures of defence that were to be taken against it.

Cannon salutes in imitation of bomb explosions signalled the opening act. Shortly afterwards a tram loaded with labour service members in civilian clothes pulled into the middle of the square, halted sharply, and emptied its occupants, including motormen, who scurried for shelter to the nearest bomb-proof cellar.

REALISTIC EFFECT.

A realistic effect was provided by the opening of a valve of the street main, which shot a geyser of water sixty feet into the air. At the same time flames broke out from an adjacent building, and powder bombs which had been planted on the roofs of houses blew off clouds of lurid smoke. Air protection guards in each house herded the dwellers into cellars, and doors and windows in the street level were hastily sandbagged. Defence squads rushed up in special cars and set to work. They wore up-to-date gas masks, and were encased entirely in protective suits of rubber. These squads had the appearance of sinister black apes. The first to appear on the scene collected samples of earth where the gas bombs had apparently struck, and returned hastily with a tank car containing the proper chemical counter agent. This they sprinkled on the spot apparently making the gas-laden area breathable. Other squads put out the fire.

STRETCHER-BEARERS.

Stretcher-bearers carried out dead and injured. Special squads even set to work to excavate a storm cellar which had caved in as a result of the attack. When the emergency work had been completed moppers-up concluded the ceremony. The water was turned off, the holes filled up, the pavement replaced. Within two hours the police barriers had been removed in the whole district, with scarcely a trace left of the air raid, and conditions returned to normal.

This drill was attended by representatives of all the Nazi uniformed services, city and State police, and Reichswehr officers. Deputies of General Goering and the Air Traffic Minister from Berlin closely inspected the proceedings.

"AN IDEAL SOLUTION."

VICEROY ON INDIAN FEDERAL SCHEME.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

SIMLA, Sunday.

Reference to India's constitutional future was made by the Viceroy, Lord Willingdon, in a speech which he made at an official banquet given to the Rajah of Mandi.

In reply to a toast proposed by the Rajah, who expressed his warm support of a federal scheme, the Viceroy said, inter alia:—

"In the federal plan an ideal solution has been found for meeting the needs and aspirations of a United India—British and Indian—in which the Indian States must have an important part to play and a weighty contribution to make. I welcome the considered utterance of His Highness in its favour."

AMERICAN SHIPPING STRIKE.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Sunday.

"A militant strike," designed to call out the crews of United States ships sailing from all North Atlantic and Gulf ports, was voted for to-day at a mass meeting of the Marine Workers' Industrial Union.

The strike will start at 9 o'clock to-morrow (Eastern standard time).

The men demand a basic rate of 75 dollars a month, an eight hours day, a 33 per cent. increase in crew strength, and the right to join any union.

BRITISH STEAMER AGROUND.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

LISBON, Sunday.

The British steamer Mervyn, which was refloated last Thursday from the rocks at Sagres, near Cape St. Vincent, where she had been lying stranded, has again grounded near Sagres in a storm. It is feared she will now be a total loss. All members of the crew have been saved.

SHIPPING SUBSIDIES ATTACKED.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

Sir Alan Anderson, the British shipowner, made an outspoken reference in an interview on arrival here to the "ruinous effects of artificially created trade," as exemplified by the subsidies to American shipping plying between the United States and the Antipodes.

So far had this policy been carried, declared Sir Alan, that it was impossible for any lines in the trade to operate profitably. Intervention by the Australian and New Zealand Governments was certainly warranted, he concluded.

FRENCH ELECTIONS.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

PARIS, Sunday.

The first results of the elections for the General Councils show that M. Poincare and three Ministers, MM. Marquet, Sarraut, and Flandin, have been re-elected.

Of 242 seats the Radical-Socialists have lost 14, the Socialist group led by Leon Blum have lost 2, the Marin group have gained 7, the Conservatives 1, and the Tardieu group have gained 3.

William Wigham (53), an unemployed miner, and his wife, Mary Jane Wigham (52), of George street, Trimden Colliery, County Durham, were found dead yesterday in mysterious circumstances.

GOVERNMENT'S CATTLE POLICY.

PROTEST AT WEXFORD MEETING.

"I object to this kind of Imperialist propaganda being read here," stated Mr. Malachi Sweetman, Vice-Chairman of the County Committee of Agriculture, when, at a meeting of that body, a letter was submitted from Mr. M. Doyle, M.C.C., ex-T.D., regretting his inability to attend, and suggesting a curtailment of the allocation of the amount for bull premiums.

"I consider, in face of the Government's policy pursued in wiping out the cattle industry," continued Mr. Doyle, "and which policy I am sure is favoured by the majority of the Council and avowedly expressed by the Chairman, that the Committee should help in the Government's policy by wiping out such expenditure, as any bulls will suffice for calves for slaughter, which is one of the favoured devices of the Government at the moment."

"A very inspiring letter," sarcastically commented Mr. D. Allen, ex-T.D., Chairman of the County Council.

Mr. W. Kinsella, Co.C.—I object to the Chairman's remark about the letter being Imperialist propaganda. That man seems to think any man who does not agree with him is an Imperialist.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

BEAT HIS WIFE.

(BEFORE MR. T. J. O'SULLIVAN.)

Bridget Kavanagh, Lower George's street, Dun Laoghaire, charged her husband, Thomas, with having assaulted her.

At the previous hearing of the case the defendant said that he had a right to chastise his wife, and Mr. O'Sullivan sent him to Mountjoy Prison for the purpose of getting a report as to his mental condition. The report showed that the man was quite sane.

The defendant was now sentenced to a month's imprisonment, but Mr. J. Devlin (instructed by Mr. J. Halpenny), who appeared for Mrs. Kavanagh, asked the Justice, on her behalf, to reduce the sentence.

Mr. O'Sullivan cancelled the sentence and made an order that the defendant be bound to the peace for two years.

Mr. L. F. McCarthy appeared for the defendant.

CHESS.

CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNEY.

The annual chess tourney in connection with the championship of Ireland begins today at the rooms of the Dublin Chess Club. Play in the morning session will be between Messrs. W. J. L. O'Connell (Munster) and J. J. O'Hanlon (Ulster). In the evening Mr. O'Connell will encounter Mr. C. J. Barry (Leinster).

Under the present rules the champion does not take any part in the tourney, the winner of which secures the sole right of challenging for the title. The present champion is Mr. J. Creevey, who originally represented Connacht, being at the time resident in Galway.

In the tourney each player has two games with each of his opponents. Thus six games will be played, occupying Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

COMING MUSICAL EVENTS.

This season Dublin is to have a series of outstanding musical events. Harold Holt will present a series of five concerts. On Saturday, November 3, Gigli will appear at the Capitol Theatre. On November 24 there will be a visit from Conchita Supervia and Mitja Nikisch, the pianist-son of the great conductor. On Saturday, January 26, Horowitz will play. On Saturday, February 16, there will be an evening of great variety, the programme of which includes Paul Robeson, Simon Barer, the Russian pianist, and Lisa Minghetti, the Viennese violinist. The season will be brought to a close on March 9 by the visit of Heifetz.

All these artistes will appear at the Capitol Theatre.

DEATH IN PRISON.

"Suicide while of unsound mind," was the verdict returned by a jury, sitting with Dr. D. A. MacErlean, Dublin City Coroner, at an inquest which was held in Mountjoy Prison last Saturday on the body of Joseph O'Neill (52), of Townsend street, Dublin, who was found hanging in the hospital section of the prison on the previous morning.

The jury attached no blame to any warder or official of the prison.

BAY RIDGE SCORES.

Capital Sport witnessed by Big Crowd at Naas.

CONSIDERING the attractive programme that had been arranged for the Naas meeting on Saturday, it was unfortunate that the weather should prove so inclement, but, despite the unfavourable conditions, there was a remarkably good crowd.

Armoured Prince flattered those who had laid odds on his chance for the Athgarrett Hurdle Handicap until the last flight was reached, where he was beaten, and Lucky Fool, who had run so well at Mallow earlier in the week, raced up the hill to make light of the challenge of Rockford and win comfortably.

There was little to choose, in a market sense, between the claims of Crusheen, Beech Top, and Venlomond at the start of the Mullaboden Plate. Crusheen was quickest away when the barrier rose, and, making all the running, won cleverly from Beech Top. Peace Conference beat Venlomond on the post for third place.

It was disappointing to find only four of the eight coloured on the card turn out for the Autumn Steeplechase, and as the absentees included Sea Fisher, Design, and Mullewa, the race lost some of its interest. Flying Rose was indulged with the lead to the last fence, where Olympian took up the running to win easily. An objection to the winner was promptly over-ruled by the Stewards.

EXCITING FINISHES.

Then followed two of the most exciting races seen on the course this season. There were fifteen starters for the Nursery Handicap, and Yang-tse Kiang, who beat Westport at the Curragh, was installed favourite from Mac na h-Eireann and Doony Rock. There was also good money for the favourite's stable companion, Bay Ridge, whose owner, Mr. Hugh Kennedy, had come to see run. For at least half a mile there was little to choose between Sherwood, Yang-tse Kiang, Bay Ridge, Doony Rock, and Mac na h-Eireann. A little further on the favourite was beaten, and next Doony Rock compounded. Bay Ridge, Sherwood, and Mac na h-Eireann continued to fight out the issue, and close home Kilrue, coming with a fine burst of speed, just failed to get up, the race going to Bay Ridge by a matter of two heads, while Mac na h-Eireann was a little more than a neck away, fourth. A stride past the post Kilrue was half a length in front.

For the Eadestown Handicap Colquhoun was made a hot favourite, but, after making the whole of the running, she barely escaped defeat by the fast-travelling Figure Head, who failed by only a head to overhaul her. Tempest did best of the remainder by beating Golden Dragon for the minor berth.

In view of his many successes in similar events, the Southern-trained Knightly was most fancied for the Newtown Plate. The favourite ran moderately, and Linby Hall, who was a sound second favourite, made the whole of the running to win easily from the three-year-old, Clear Diamond, and Another Gift. Details:—

IRISH CESAREWITCH PROBABLES.

The field for the Irish Cesarewitch, to be run at the Curragh on Wednesday next, will probably number sixteen candidates. It came as a surprise on Saturday to learn that Toga would not run. Machi Mia, who was beaten at Thirsk on Saturday, may also be an absentee, as well as Representation. The smart English light-weight, A. Richardson, has been engaged to ride Call Him. The probable field is:—

*MACHI MIA (Mrs. James V. Rank), 5, 9-10 (Cottrell) ... ——
REVIEWER (Mrs. C. O'Neill), 6, 9-10 (Private) ... P. Fitzgerald
CLICQUOT (Mr. R. J. Duggan), 5, 9-9 (J. T. Rogers) ... E. Gardner
IRISH FUN (Mr. Martin McDonogh), 4, 9-7 (Parkinson) ... M. Barrett
LADYTOWN (Mr. H. S. Gill), 3, 8-12 (J. T. Rogers) ... W. E. Hamill
GALLI GALLI (Mr. J. B. Magennis), 4, 8-11 (Ussher) ... J. Moylan
CROSS WIND (Mr. W. J. Kelly), 4, 8-11 (Owner) ... Joe Canty

ENGLISH RACING TOPICS.

Great Winnings of the Stock of Blandford: Autumn Handicap Notes.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.
LONDON, Sunday Night.

I SEE that the unbeaten French three-year-old, Baron Edouard de Rothschild's Brantome, has won the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe in Paris this afternoon, with Assuerus second, and the Aga Khan's challenger from this side, Felicitation, third. Until there is a complete account of the race there is no use in commenting on it, but there appears no manner of doubt that this French colt is a very good one, and had it not been for the bad bout of coughing which he contracted in the early summer, he would have swept through the French Derby and the Grand Prix as he has swept through all his races.

Blandford's Record.

As everyone knows, he is a son of Blandford, and there seems no stopping the produce of this sire this season in any country. They have already won in the aggregate this year an unprecedented sum, and one that will probably stand as a record for a great many years, as Stockwell's stood for so long.

Blandford is a very great sire, the greatest that we have known since St. Simon was at his zenith, so that it is no disparagement to say that his stock have been fortunate this season. As we know, the best of them are medium-sized, light-actioned horses, and this abnormal year has been all in their favour.

The Blandford two-year-olds, that have been carrying all before them this year, have all been able to go on the hard ground. Had the conditions been the other way, they might not have been so uniformly successful.

This season Solario has made no progress as a sire, and the aggregate won by his stock is a relatively small one. Had the going been normal during the greater part, it is probable that they would have done a good deal better. Even granted this, Solario, at the moment, is hardly "pulling his weight" in view of the enormous sum of nearly £50,000 that was given for him a year ago last July.

Statesman's Success.

There was a success for another son of Blandford when Statesman won the Duke of York Handicap at Kempton yesterday afternoon. Since he ran third in the Derby last year Statesman has not been entirely satisfactory, and all that he had put to his credit this year before his win yesterday was a little race at Lewes against moderate opposition. He stepped up on all his previous form of the season when he won very readily by three-parts of a length from Montrose and the American horse, Mate.

The running was made by Sir Wyndham Portal's grey, The Blue Boy, although he was giving weight to everything except Mate, from whom he was receiving a pound. He turned into the straight on the rails going well within himself, but two furlongs from home Statesman shot past him and immediately he dropped back. Thereafter the race was entirely one-sided. Had Smirke chosen he could have won by a much wider margin than that which the judge gave in his favour.

Statesman is in the Cambridgeshire with 8st. 9lb., and, as the value of this race to the winner is now worth less than £450, he has no penalty. He is, by the way, the last horse the American owner, Mr. Victor Emanuel, who came here several years ago with such ambitious ideas of racing on the great scale, has now left in training.

Versicle, making a first appearance after a long absence, never showed prominently. The lightly-weighted Easter Rush, who was so much fancied, finished sixth, and there was no excuse for his failure, as, although he was near the outside, he had a clear run in the straight. He finished among a bunch of others from the bottom of the handicap. Mate ran a good deal better than he had done in the Ayrshire Handicap.

Lady Gabrial's Running.

It started raining just before racing began and rained steadily throughout the afternoon, a circumstance that did not prevent Their Majesties from being present. The King and Queen came into the paddock to see the Royal filly, Fairlead, saddled for the Imperial Produce Stakes. She started at a short price, and one which did not at all represent the opinion her trainer holds of her, and she ran indifferently, for she was nothing like good enough.

I mentioned overnight that Mr. Dan Sullivan's half-sister to Windsor Lady by Tetratema, Lady Gabrial, had some merit. She had never been out before, but in spite of this, and also that the distance was six furlongs, she was backed down to favouritism at 13 to 8.

She is a most attractive grey filly, and there is no doubt about her being a good one, but on this occasion she was beaten a short head and half a length by the Aga Khan's Shahali and Lord Woolavington's Ben Marshall. Donoghue got her off in front, and she kept the lead for four furlongs, after which Shahali headed her. She then began to run a little green, but when Donoghue showed her the whip she ran on again. It was too late, however, and the colts had her beaten. She did not have a hard race.

Difficult Race to Win.

This is not an easy race to win; for Mumtaz Mahal was beaten in it, and last year it took Colombo all his time to win by a few inches.

The winner is by Sansovino, and the going just suited him, as soft ground always suits the stock of Lord Derby's sire. I was surprised—as were most people—to see Ben Marshall run so well; for, although he is a most attractive colt, neither at Goodwood, where Theft gave him 7lb. and slammed him, nor at Derby, did he seem to be altogether genuine. Many people thought that he had won outright yesterday, and it could only have been by a few inches that he lost.

This was another valuable prize which has come the way of the Aga Khan and his trainer, Frank Butters, horses from whose stable will have won something like £80,000, and more, by the end of the season—a remarkable total, considering that the "Eclipse" and all the classics, except the Oaks, have eluded him. Captain Boyd-Rochfort ran two, of whom Crestema, a half-sister to Enfield, was left at the post. His other runner, Nymph Errant, out of the Cambridgeshire winner, Double Life, finished fourth.

The Cesarewitch.

We are now within ten days of the Cesarewitch, but the position over that race still remains obscure. Enfield, who was made favourite after he won the Newbury Cup last Saturday, is under a cloud by reason of an injury to a tendon which he received in that race. We shall have to wait another week or so before the exact position about him is defined. Everything depends on how the leg stands when he is put into good work again this week. If he is all right on the day he can be given a good chance. At present he must be put to the suspense account.

I believe that the Manton filly, Dona Sol, is a good deal fancied for the race. Over a mile and a half the other day she certainly seemed to put Cotoneaster out, and I believe that no doubt is entertained about the daughter of Solario staying the extra distance.

In the same stable as Cotoneaster there is the existing favourite, Solar Boy, whose sole claim to be regarded as a probable winner is the good race he ran against Alcazar and Duplicate in the Doncaster Cup. He is not one in whose chances I am much wrapped up.

Horses I know to be fancied for the Cesarewitch, in addition to Dona Sol, are Roi de Paris, Hands Off (the winner of the Ascot Stakes), Whiteplains (who runs in the Nottingham Handicap at Nottingham to-morrow), Suring Morning (another likely runner to-morrow), Polly Stephens, and Armour Bright.

One thing is certain, and that is that the Cesarewitch this year will not take much winning. All the races run over a distance of ground in the last few months have suggested that we are badly off for stayers, and, therefore, horses with pretensions to class, such as Cotoneaster and Enfield, must have good chances—that is, assuming that the ground is firm enough for the former and that the latter will be all right.

The Cambridgeshire.

The Cambridgeshire will take a great deal more winning, but it is difficult to express any sort of opinion on this race until the owners of the several good French horses engaged have shown their hands. Astronomer ran Brantome to a neck in the French St. Leger, but I believe the crack was the victim of all sorts of misadventure in the course of the race. Astronomer was beaten since then, and he runs in the Prix du Conseil Municipal. On his performance there will be decided whether he will be sent to Newmarket. I imagine that he will not.

When he finished fourth in the Royal Hunt Cup Rentenmark struck me as a likely Cambridgeshire horse, but he has been beaten several times since. I imagine that the best of the French batch will be the three-year-old filly Mary Tudor. She was easily the best of her sex last season; ran away with the French One Thousand; then was found to be wrong after finishing second in the French Oaks, and after being given a long rest came out the other day and won in a canter. For a filly of her undoubted class she does not seem badly in with 8st. 3lb.

I referred to the good chance of Caymanas after he finished third to Umidwar and Lo Zingaro in the Jockey Club Stakes last week, and to the chance of Wychwood Abbot after he had won the Norwich Handicap. If Wychwood Abbot could reproduce that form he would win the Cambridgeshire, for which since his last race he has been made a strong favourite.

I have an idea, however, that Wychwood Abbot has two ways of running, and that there may be a kink in him. Only this can account for his crashing failure in the Scottish Derby. Solfatara has been backed and we are to see her at Nottingham on Tuesday. Flamenco is also fancied by his trainer. Until I know the intentions of the French people, especially as regards Mary Tudor, I would rather not express any opinion.

Figaro for the Stud.

The ex-jockey and trainer, Jack Leach, tells that he intends to put his brilliant sprinter, Figaro, to the stud. This son of Colorado and the National Stud mare, Tillywhim, has a splendid record, and he will attract the attention of breeders. It is intended that his fee will be 98 guineas. Had Colorado lived he would, doubtless, in the course of time have eclipsed all other sires. In his brief life he has given us such as Loaningdale, Colorado Kid, Felicitation, Coroado, and Figaro.

Selections.

In the Nottingham Handicap to-morrow I take WHITEPLAINS to beat Spring Morning. The Bestwood Nursery may go to BOSTON WEST, and the Southwell Maiden Plate to BUCELLA.

WATERTIGHT'S CHANCE.

Kilmurry Gets the Vote for Southwell Plate.

THE Nottingham Executive will stage two races which may shed some light on the Cesarewitch and Cambridgeshire problems at their meeting which starts to-day. Long-distance performers can show their paces at the first stage of the Nottingham Handicap over two miles, and as the going is reported to be in excellent order the event is certain to be well patronised by owners and trainers.

The scratching of Loosestrife leaves Lucky Patch at the head of affairs, and I am assured that Sir Alfred Butt's colt has been showing a return to something like his best form in home gallops since finishing fifth in the Prince Edward Handicap at Manchester. However, he has to meet his conqueror on only 3lb. better terms for about five lengths, and I doubt if that is sufficient to cause a reversal of the placings, even allowing for the fact that he was greatly in need of a race.

Dona Sol will probably find her penalty a bar to success, and Blue Vision may not have the necessary speed to shine on this track. Whiteplains, however, is a big fancy, for it is realised that he will be better suited by this two miles than the two miles and a quarter of the race he contested at Ayr recently in which he was close up behind the placed horses. His best form this season was when winning the Northumberland Plate over two miles in June, and I can see very few with any chance of beating him if reproducing that running.

Spring Morning is expected to step up on anything so far accomplished this season, for she has been doing extremely well in her Cesarewitch preparation since the going became softer. Saint Reynard can be expected to run his usual game race, and such as Polly Stephens, Quartz, Blank, Trapper and Watertight come well into the reckoning on the pick of their form. Indeed, it is quite on the cards that the winner will come from this group.

Trapper has been runner-up on his last two appearances, so that he cannot complain of harsh treatment, but I think Watertight has slightly the better chance. He finished a very good third in the Autumn Cup at Newbury, and goes well for a light-weight jockey. I make my selection from Whiteplains, Spring Morning and and take my chance with the last-named.

The consistent French Kiss filly would be among the best-backed for the Bestwood Nursery if she were saddled, and she should at least finish in the money. Graceful Lad is said to be on the up-grade, and Wild Flower, who put up some stylish displays in the spring, appears to have been given a nice chance at the weights. My best news, though, concerns who was unlucky to be beaten into third place in a desperate finish at Leicester. He is leniently weighted on that form.

Blanding, Kilmurry, Blonde Heiress, Genevra and Inverlair comprise a likely group to supply the winner of the Southwell Plate, and I recommend with some degree of confidence.

Moon Fly appears to have the Rufford Abbey Plate at her mercy, and only in her absence would I support the consistent Maria's Faith.

NEWMARKET NOTES.

Enfield at Exercise: Autumn Handicap Horses at Work.

NEWMARKET, Sunday.

MR. M. FIELD'S Newbury Cup winner and Cesarewitch Stakes candidate, Enfield, was out with Captain Boyd-Rochfort's team this morning. No imperfection could be detected in his action when given five furlongs' cantering exercise on the railway field.

Our trainers were busy on Saturday, and Captain Boyd-Rochfort's Cambridgeshire candidate, Bondsman, with Bermuda and Great Dane, was given a good seven furlongs spin. Moon Fly and Dalmary were given a similar spin. Bondsman is giving his trainer every satisfaction since the going has been better.

Fawsley moved well in a good five furlongs spin with Cho-Sen, Dumdiedykes, Pensacola II. and Lady Sarah (J. Childs). Fawsley ran well in the Highclere Nursery at Newbury, and, with 7st. 4lb. he is favourably weighted in the Middleham Nursery at York on Wednesday.

Frank Butters's Perfect Picture (Perryman) and Cyrus had a good five furlongs spin, while Lucky Patch and Robber Chief were given a good pace gallop over one mile. Lucky Patch, who has been out only twice this season, ran well on the last occasion in the Prince Edward Handicap at Manchester. He is engaged in the Nottingham Handicap on Monday, and should be well in the limelight.

Master Vere moved well in a good mile gallop with Conversions, Badruddin and Spend a Penny (Perryman). Master Vere's race at Leicester has done him a deal of good.

Digby gave his Cesarewitch candidate, Hands Off, with Steady Flame, a good stripped mile and a half gallop, in which he moved well. Watertight, who ran well in the Newbury Cup, moved well in a good mile spin with Woburn Park, Embosser (Weston) and Conway (Packham).

I was impressed by the way J. Jarvis's Cambridgeshire charge, Flamenco, acquitted himself in a good stripped nine furlongs' spin with Telegraphy and Campanula (H. Wragg). He may appear to have quite his share of weight, but he is a very game and honest horse. The Cesarewitch candidate, Whiteplains, moved well with Phaleron Bay, Paper Cap, T. Waugh's Achtung and Barling's Symptom in a good seven furlongs' spin.

W. Jarvis gave Blank a good stripped mile and a quarter gallop with Brief, Misanthrope and Mop End.

B. Jarvis's Cambridgeshire charge, Solfatara (Lowrey), kept Homily (Donoghue) and Typhonic well on the stretch in a good mile gallop. She should run well for the last of our important handicaps.

The Trent Selling Nursery will commence proceedings at Nottingham. Water Boy, Dolly's Birthday, Archon, Buddha Perfumer and are our likely runners, and I should take the last-named for choice.

are fancied runners for the Castle Selling Plate, and the latter, who ran well at Yarmouth, has my vote.

Two of our Cesarewitch candidates will be seen out for the Nottingham Handicap. They both ran well at their last attempt, and have done well since, but I should rely upon who has made good headway since he beat Silver Jubilee at Doncaster.

Vallema has plenty of weight in the Bestwood Nursery. Wild Flower, Yankee Joke and Erasmus are fancied, but I think the race will be fought out by Shelley and and I give the last-named preference.

Dereham, Ahora, Blonde Heiress and will contest the Southwell Plate, and I prefer the latter.

KILMURRY

MOON FLY

may win the Rufford Abbey Plate

SON OF BLANDFORD STILL UNBEATEN.

FELICITATION FINISHES THIRD TO BRANTOME.

LONGCHAMP, Sunday.

Felicitation, with Gordon Richards up, finished third in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, which was run over a course of 2,400 metres (about a mile and a half) here to-day. The result was:—
Baron E. de Rothschild's BRANTOME, 3, 8-10 ... C. Bouillon 1
Comte de Rivaud's ASSUERUS, 4, 9-7 ... W. Johnstone 2
H.H. Aga Khan's FELICITATION, 4, 9-7 ... G. Richards 3
Also ran—Negundo (C. H. Sembiat), Antiochus (C. Elliott), Astrophel (F. Rochetti), Denver (R. Brethes), Morvillars (F. Herve), Maravedis (A. Rabbe), Admiral Drake (S. Donoghue), Duplex (G. Bridgland), Sa Parade (A. Dupuit), and Silver Plated (W. Sibbritt).
Pari-Mutuel (stake 10 frs.)—Win, 10 frs. 50; places, 5 frs. 50, 7 frs. 50, and 7 frs.

Brantome, an unbeaten son of Blandford, and winner of the French Two Thousand Guineas and St. Leger, won by two and a half lengths, with a length and a half between Assuerus, winner of the Prix du President de la Republique, and Felicitation.

H.H. Aga Khan, who was present with the Begum to see Felicitation run, was naturally disappointed at his colours only coming in third, especially as Felicitation led for a good part of the way. Rain, which fell last night and this morning, made the going heavy, but the weather had cleared up for the afternoon.

As soon as the gate went up Astrophel set the pace, followed by Felicitation, but soon afterwards Felicitation went into the lead ahead of Astrophel, Negundo and Antiochus. Felicitation still led after the little wood had been passed, followed by Negundo, Astrophel, Brantome (who had made up several lengths) and Morvillars, with Assuerus among the tail-enders.

At the top of the hill Brantome further improved his position, but down the slope Felicitation was still in front, with Astrophel second and Brantome third, on the outside of the field. Entering the home straight Brantome drew level with Felicitation, and making one of the spurts for which he is now famous, came right away. Meanwhile Assuerus passed Felicitation for the second position.

Terrific cheering greeted the victory of the favourite, who was winning his ninth successive race.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Baldoyle Meeting.

Racing at Baldoyle on Saturday next will commence at 2.50 o'clock. The chief event is the Mooresfort T.Y.O. Plate of seven furlongs, which has received good support. The train arrangements, etc., will be found in our advertising columns.

M. Curran to Ride Sea Devil.

Mr. H. B. Brandt has secured the services of the Irish apprentice, M. Curran, for his Cesarewitch candidate, Sea Devil. Curran is one of the best boy riders in Ireland at present, and Sea Devil, who is handicapped to carry 6st. 7lb., will probably be ridden at a pound overweight.

King Salmon for the Stud.

Sir Richard Brooke's King Salmon, a four years old colt by Salmon Trout out of Malva, second in the Derby and Two Thousand Guineas, fourth in the St. Leger, and winner of the Eclipse Stakes, the Coronation Cup and the Great Yorkshire Stakes, has finished his racing career and has left O. Bell's training establishment at Lambourn to take up stud duties at his owner's Abberley Stud.

Dejazcomba at Newmarket.

Comte de Rivaud's French challenger for the Cesarewitch, Dejazcomba, arrived at Beedle's training stables, Newmarket, on Saturday from France.

Second Claim on T. Weston.

Second claim on the services of T. Weston, who will ride as first jockey to Sir Abe Bailey next season, have been secured by Messrs. H. W. W. and H. J. Simms, patrons of G. Digby's Newmarket stables.

LANSDOWNE DEFEATED.

Blackrock College Forwards at their Best.

BLACKROCK COLLEGE 6 LANSDOWNE ... 3

Despite the fact that they were without the services of their centre three-quarter, P. Crowe, for the greater part of the game, Blackrock College gained a well-deserved victory over Lansdowne on Saturday at Williamstown by 1 penalty goal and 1 try (6 points) to 1 penalty goal (3 points). It was a keen and interesting game, but the play was rather of the scrappy type, and there was nothing of an outstanding nature throughout. The College success was chiefly due to the forwards, who were the superior of the Lansdowne pack.

B. Glynn, the captain, led the winning pack in fine style, and he was one of the best forwards on the field. M. Delaney, M. Burns and P. Dwyer were much in the picture. P. Roche, the former University College player, performed splendidly at out-half, and had a worthy partner in D. O'Leary. P. Crowe, up to the time of his injury, was playing well, and L. B. McMahon showed much improved form from that against Trinity last week.

Lansdowne, not quite up to full strength, were never allowed to settle down, and keen marking by the Blackrock College backs frustrated efforts by the backs to get moving. J. E. Arigho was the best of the back division; A. Bailey was too well marked to be effective, and R. W. Fox could never get into his stride. P. Quinn played well at out-half, and M. J. Dunne, St. J. Pike, J. H. Thompson and M. Hogan were the pick of the front rank.

Lansdowne opened the scoring a few minutes from the start, when A. Bailey landed a penalty goal. Play after this was even until nearing the interval, when, following a sustained attack by the College, O'Leary worried over for a try, which McMahon failed to convert.

Blackrock despite the loss of a man, played up splendidly in the second period, and had much the better of the game. The only score was a penalty goal by McMahon, though both lines had some narrow escapes.

Blackrock College—P. Crean; T. Brophy, P. Crowe, L. B. McMahon, J. Kent; M. J. Roche, D. O'Leary; B. Glynn, T. O'Driscoll, M. Burns, J. Westby, M. Caffrey, P. Dwyer, N. Martin, M. Delaney.

Lansdowne—D. D. Moran; R. W. Fox, J. Jones, A. Bailey, J. E. Arigho; — Mooney, P. Quinn; M. J. Dunne, M. A. Hogan, St. J. Pike, J. A. Sinnott, J. H. Thompson, J. Robertson, T. Byrne, R. McDermott.

Referee—Mr. J. H. Hopkins.

FINT PERFORMANCE BY BECTIVE.

BECTIVE .... 6 NORTHAMPTON ... 0

Making their third visit to Northampton in successive seasons, Rangers gained a great victory, and none among the 2,000 spectators (the attendance was kept down by unfavourable weather) questioned that their success was thoroughly well earned. To the kick-off by Matthews the Northampton captain, Rangers made an effective reply, Scannell, Power, Bailey and Murphy participating in a clever movement, which took play into the Northampton 25. O'Connor made a good effort to drop a goal, the ball going a yard wide. If the shot missed the mark it led to a score, Kinnealy following up very smartly to gain a try. O'Connor failed with the place kick. Three points' lead in as many minutes was very encouraging, and Rangers took complete command of the game. Bailey, the captain, was ubiquitous hereabouts, breakng through with irresistable dash and bringing down opponents who threatened danger, with unerring accuracy.

Glaringly off-side play by the old Welsh international, Powell, who was making his initial appearance for Northampton, led to the second score by Rangers, L. Doyle kicking a beautiful penalty goal. In the subsequent play Scannell was often called upon to field long, difficult kicks, but did so effectively.

In the second half Northampton were the more aggressive, and it says a great deal for Rangers' defence that the powerful home forwards were held in many fierce scrummages. Rangers were cheered at the close of a rousing game. It was superior combination and alert opportunism behind the scrum which were the determining factors in Rangers' fine win.

P. Bailey, the captain, was magnificent, and he was admirably supported by his colleagues in the three-quarter line. Despite Powell's ingenious passes, and the useful support of Dr. Sturbridge, Rangers were quite equal at half-back, O'Connor returning after a long absence through injury to play a resourceful, clever game. Forward, Deering, McGrath and L. Doyle were prominent, and Watkins, a former Northampton player, was a highly serviceable hooker.

Northampton—R. O. Baillon; A. R. Chorlton, D. King, R. A. Palmer, E. C. Palmer; G. Sturbridge, W. C. Powell; W. M. Jackson, J. Howard, J. W. Percival, T. Harris, N. A. York, A. D. Matthews (capt.), F. Jeffcoate, F. Garratt.

Bective Rangers—J. F. Scannell; J. Kinnealy, H. Murphy, P. Bailey (capt.), J. Doyle; J. J. Fitzsimmons, D. O'Connor; J. McGrath, V. Watkins, L. Doyle, A. Wade, S. Deering, R. Power, B. Scannell, V. Aird.

COLLEGIANS DO WELL UNDER HANDICAP.

INSTONIANS .... 6 COLLEGIANS 0

It was unfortunate for Collegians that they had to take the field against their old rivals, Instonians, without J. A. Siggins, the Irish captain, and the brothers May, two of their best backs. In the circumstances they did well to get away with a defeat by two tries (6 points) to nil at Bladon Drive. Rain was falling when the match started and a strong wind was blowing, so that two periods of thirty minutes were agreed upon. Although facing the wind, Instonians opened so well that they were three points to the good in as many minutes. The backs handled smartly after the forwards had heeled from a loose scrum, and, after R. W. Hewitt had cut, V. Hewitt "sold a dummy" on his way to the lines. S. Walker did not convert. In fifteen minutes V. Hewitt scored again, this time from an in-pass by H. Smith when the wing found his way barred: This time Iliff made a fine effort to convert, but without success. When Collegians got the ball the handling of the backs was not nearly so crisp as that of the home side, and as the ball became greasy the play was mainly with the forwards, but the Collegians pack played splendidly in the second half, and Instonians could not score again.

PROMISING DISPLAY BY WANDERERS.

CORK CONSTITUTION 6

Giving an inept display, Cork Constitution, on their first visit of the season to Dublin, were beaten very decisively at Lansdowne road by Wanderers by 4 goals (2 penalties) and 2 tries to 2 tries.

The Wanderers' forwards were on top in nearly every respect for the greater part of the game, and look like being really strong in this department. C. R. Graves and C. O'N. Wallis, who were both in the front row, were excellent all round, and W. J. McCormick and N. B. Smellie frequently caught the eye. A. C. King, at scrum half, looks to be a very much improved player, and he gave R. B. Wellwood a first-rate service. The latter struck his best form, and made a number of good openings. The three-quarters were well balanced, though, possibly, A. C. Preston and J. T. Keegan were the most effective in attack. E. C. Ridgeway's kicking both in play and in converting was extremely valuable, while F. W. Williamson, though not over burdened, gave a convincing display in his old position of full-back.

The display of the visitors fell far short of expectations, but the difficulty of handling the slippery ball may have upset them. The forwards only seemed to work in spasms, and they were seldom together in the loose. The most assiduous of them was J. Condon, who reaped the reward of fast and consistent following up by getting a try. Noel Murphy, too, played well, and P. Delaney and P. Guiney were prominent. The playing of N. McAuliffe, who figured at full-back in the final trial last season, at out-half, was not a success. Much the best of their backs was E. Murphy at scrum-half. He was an indefatigable worker both in defence and attack.

Preston opened the scoring with a try between the posts, following a cut through by Wellwood, and Williamson goaled. Ridgeway next landed a penalty goal from near the touch line, and before half-time he kicked another great goal, to convert a try by Keegan. Cork held their own for about twenty minutes of the second half, when Wellwood made a great run, to send Ridgeway over for an unconverted try. The latter next kicked a penalty goal from forty yards out. Condon then got a try for Constitution, following an intercept by E. Murphy. In the last few minutes King got over for Wanderers as the result of a clever run by Hewat, and Sullivan scored a try for Cork after an excellent movement. Teams:—

Wanderers—F. W. Williamson; J. T. Keegan, A. C. Preston, E. C. Ridgeway, J. C. D. Hewat; A. C. King, R. B. Wellwood; C. R. Graves, D. Bardon, J. Camp, L. Halligan, T. R. Horan, W. J. McCormick, N. B. Smellie, C. O'N. Wallis.

Cork Constitution—J. Cagney; J. Sullivan, M. O'Driscoll, J. Reardon, M. Barry; E. Murphy, N. McAuliffe; P. Delaney, J. Allen, P. Guiney, J. Condon, M. Kennefick, C. Murphy, N. Murphy V. Robertson.

Referee—Mr. R. A. C. Barratt.

NORTHERN MATCHES.

It was largely a forward game at Balmoral, where North of Ireland and Malone played a drawn game of three points each, a penalty goal being scored by both sides. On the heavy pitch Malone forwards showed up well, but the backs on both sides were handicapped by the greasy ball, and it was close on half-time before W. H. Kidd scored a penalty goal for Malone from forty yards range. North showed to better advantage in the second half, when the wind died down, and several forward rushes went near scoring, but it was a free taken by L. M. White from thirty yards which made the scores level.

Bangor had the Border Regiment as visitors, and won by two tries to nil. Only twenty minutes each way were played, and Smylie and Bowman scored a try in each half.

TRINITY SUPERIOR IN SECOND HALF.

DUBLIN UNIV. ...... 23 OLD WESLEY 0

Giving a convincing all-round display, Dublin University inflicted a decisive defeat on Old Wesley at Donnybrook on Saturday by 1 goal and 6 tries (23 points) to nothing. The light Old Wesley pack played with great spirit in the first half, and it was chiefly due to their efforts and the sound play of D. G. Walker at full-back that the first Trinity score was delayed till a minute before half-time. A magnificent run by P. J. Mullaney then enabled him to score a try which was not goaled. Trinity had matters their own way in the second period, and tries were added by Early, Parke, Pike, R. H. Martin, Northridge and Mullaney, while Jackson once converted. For the winners R. H. Pratt, though not often under pressure, was notably sound; Mullaney's strong running was a feature of the match; Parke played well at out-half, and Berney, Hicks and Pike were prominent forward. For Old Wesley, Lambert was the best of the three-quarters, M'Connell an enterprising out-half, and Glenn, Taylor and Bulmer good workers in the pack.

Dublin University—R. H. Pratt; P. J. Mullaney, R. H. Martin, J. C. Martin, R. H. Northridge; E. G. Parke, C. V. Boyle; B. R. Berney, C. A. Boyle, D. M. Early, G. B. Hicks, L. N. Horan, G. R. Jackson, W. A. Pike, J. Graham.

Old Wesley—D. G. Walker; R. W. Lambert, F. M. Hanna, G. A. Bamford, F. J. B. Mark; J. J. M'Connell, D. G. Patton; H. B. Bulmer, W. J. Collier, D. E. J. Glenn, H. Martin, A. M'Connell, C. L. M'Namara, W. G. Taylor, W. G. Warwick.

COLLEGE OPEN WITH A VICTORY.

UNIV. COLL. .... 3 MONKSTOWN 0

University College took the field on Saturday at Terenure for the first time this season, and beat Monkstown by a try to nil in a rather colourless game, which might have gone either way. Monkstown started with a strong attack, and Hannin, Corrigan and Coghlan nearly led up to a score. O'Sullivan and Bailey enabled College to attack, but it was only after twenty-five minutes of give and take play that College got within striking distance, and Bailey sent in for B. L. McCormack to score at the left. Bailey's kick going wide. There was no score in the second half, but many chances of goals from frees to both sides went astray. Both full-backs were good, but Williams kicked a better length than Toner. P. J. McCormack and O'Sullivan showed dash for College, Bailey was a keen opportunist at out-half, and the best of the forwards were Des. Purcell, Curran and Macauley. Arigho played a dashing game on the wing for Monkstown, and Corrigan was also in the picture. Cruise was a smart scrum half, and the best forwards were Byrne, Maher and Kenneally.

Teams:—

University College—E. Toner; P. J. McCormack, J. O'Sullivan, B. L. McCormack, F. Scott; J. J. Bailey, A. P. Bailey; H. Doyle, D. J. Curran, J. J. Brennan, J. Crowe, Denis Purcell, Desmond Purcell, J. O'Riordan, G. B. Macauley.

Monkstown—M. B. Williams; T. A. D. Wall, J. J. Corrigan, G. W. Coghlan, H. Arigho; T. B. Hannin, S. P. Cruise; T. Byrne, A. P. Kenneally, C. O'Connor, W. Maher, F. J. Fox, J. E. McCourt, F. H. C. Salmon, Rev. M. Porteus.

Referee—Mr. C. P. Stuart.

CLONTARF TOO STRONG FOR NORTHERN XV.

CLONTARF .... 8 NORTHERN C.S. ... 3

Clontarf defeated North of Ireland Civil Service at Castle avenue by a goal and a try to a penalty goal, and, on the run of the play, deserved their victory. The Northerners were weakly represented, but put up a good fight, their forwards holding their own fairly well.

Clontarf backs were much superior, but there were very few passing movements of any merit, and the game was mostly confined to the forwards. Early in the second half Lyons, the Clontarf centre, retired injured, and took no further part in the match, and Lawless was taken out of the pack to the wing, Gleeson going into the centre. The absence of Lawless in the pack was a handicap to Clontarf, and in the concluding stages the Civil Service forwards held supremacy.

Langan, at full for Clontarf, was not severely tested, but did everything which came his way in masterly fashion. Moran was sound in the centre, and Martin played very well on the wing. He has improved a good deal since last season, and with his fine turn of speed should develop into a first class player. Morgan was excellent at the base of the scrums, and his try was a fine effort. Glass, Cavanagh and O'Dwyer were prominent among the forwards.

S. Morgan, the Northern full, gave a good display and fielded and kicked right well. Mitchell and Waring were the best of the three-quarters, and McGuinness is a very promising out-half. H. O'H. O'Neill, though obviously not yet fit, gave a few glimpses of his old form, and was well supported by J. Greeves, R. Greeves and Rolson.

Play was in progress about twenty minutes when Lyons threw out a long pass to Martin, who scored a fine try, McHugh landing a good goal. In the second half Dennis kicked a splendid penalty for Civil Service, and nearing the end Morgan, picking up at Clontarf's 25, ran over for a try, which McHugh failed to convert.

Clontarf—D. J. Langan; T. J. Gleeson, F. G. Moran, S. V. Lyons, J. Martin; G. J. Morgan, S. P. McHugh; E. Craigie, M. O'Dwyer, L. A. Moran, J. V. Glass, J. J. Madigan, J. E. Lawless, J. P. Cavanagh, E. Blyth.

North of Ireland Civil Service—S. M. Morgan; G. A. Waring, J. K. McDonald; C. Dennis, J. J. Mitchell, G. A. Wright, G. A. McGuinness; H. O'H. O'Neill, A. J. McIntosh, J. E. Greeves, R. M. Greeves, J. A. Boyd, R. T. Smith, N. Gunion, W. L. Robson.

Referee—Mr. T. A. Brindley.

MUNSTER LEAGUE GAINS AT CORK.

Two matches at Cork marked the opening of the Munster Senior League, and the weather, which was very wet, militated alike against attendances and a good standard of Rugby.

University College deserved their eight points' clear win against Bohemians, chiefly because of the superiority of their forwards in the scrums. The winners' backs also handled the greasy ball with more confidence. The students have a well-balanced fifteen, only Kearney and Seavers, two interprovincial forwards, being absent from last year's side, so the College can face the season with confidence, especially as the new players show promise. Corcoran and Bergin got the scores for the College, the latter in the last minute, and others who shaped well were Lane and O'Connor behind the scrum and Heffernan and Russell in the pack.

For Bohemians Quaid and Pike (the wings), Ryan at scrum-half, and Brockett and Barry among the forwards rendered good service.

Dolphin and Young Munsters met on a muddy ground, and the game, which resulted in a scoreless draw, was largely a forward battle. Dolphin again played with seven forwards, with Heffernan as rover. As a result they were overcome in the scrums, but the extra back in the home defence countered the visitors' advantage, and he very nearly won the match for Dolphins when he just missed dropping a goal towards the end. Dolphins had an equally narrow escape when O'Dea struck the upright. For the home side Deacon and Saurin were the best backs, and of the forwards Mahony, Ryan and Dunlea were the pick. Among the Young Munster backs Price and O'Dea shone, while Danford Tobin, and St. George were the best forwards.

HOCKEY.

TRINITY START WELL.

MACDONOGH SCORES FIVE GOALS.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY 7 AVOCA SCHOOL 1

Dublin University made a great start towards retaining the League championship by defeating Avoca School by 7 goals to 1 at Londonbridge road. Their winning margin would probable have been greater but for the fact that Brown, their centre-half, had to retire with a knee injury after ten minutes. At this period they led by 2-0.

Just after the start Sloan sent into an empty net, and MacDonogh scored another off a corner. Before the interval Gray secured Avoca's only goal. In the second half MacDonogh scored four more goals, and Sloan completed the scoring.

Although winning by such a big margin, Trinity were not altogether convincing, their new right wing combination of C. Dagg and Millar being disappointing, and in the second half it was not surprising to see the halves feeding Sloan, who, with MacDonogh, was the outstanding player. Coulson played his usual polished game, while Craig, the old Avoca player, was an ideal partner for Donald.

Avoca were slow in covering up, and it was this weakness which cost them at least three goals. Franck was the better back, and Beckett showed up well at right half. The best forwards were Sarratt and Thompson.

Dublin University—C. Cuffe; G. K. Donald, J. K. Craig; D. J. Coulson, R. F. Browne, D. Roberts; C. M. Dagg, E. Millar, J. A. MacDonogh, T. B. Dagg, H. F. Sloan.

Avoca School—H. D. Scott; J. G. Franck, N. Stewart; W. Beckett, N. Andrews, L. S. Phillips; J. Adamson, H. D. Sarratt, A. H. Thompson, G. Gray, B. M. Kennedy.

Umpires—Messrs. T. Pike and C. Bruton.

V. SULLY'S IMPORTANT GOAL.

RAILWAY UNION ... 1 NAAS 0

Naas travelled to Park avenue on Saturday for the opening of the Senior League programme, but went down to Railway Union by the only score of the match. Naas had to field a couple of substitutes, and rearranged their team, and, under the circumstances, did well to run the full Railway side so close. They held their own well in the first half, but were rather out of the hunt after that. Joe Tyndall, playing in the unaccustomed position of left full-back, did any amount of useful stopping, while his brother and D'Arcy were sound halves. Henderson showed a fine turn of speed at outside right, but was unfortunate in getting most his passes behind him. P. Webster, a newcomer, will be quite useful with more experience at inside left.

Railway Union turned out the same team as last year, but their inside forwards will have to put in some shooting practice if they want to win more matches than they lose. Byrne skyed the ball over the bar on three occasions when close in, and the Sully brothers were also guilty of missing some very possible chances. Browner was useful on the right wing, and the defence, with O'Donoghue and Knight in good form, was sound. Victor Sully got the only goal of the match from short range shortly after half-time.

Railway Union—W. McClelland; J. H. Doran, M. C. O'Donoghue; J. J. Corscadden, W. Chiddick (capt.), H. Knight; T. C. Browner, C. Sully, R. J. Byrne, V. Sully, W. E. Hennessy.

Naas—M. Geraghty; J. J. Purcell, Joe Tyndall; J. Crickard, J. D'Arcy, J. Tyndall; S. Henderson, D. M. Purcell, J. A. Purcell, P. Webster, J. Eacret.

Umpires—Messrs. Ireland and Morrison.

A STRONG FINISH BY DALKEY.

Y.M.C.A. .... 2 DALKEY 2

Y.M.C.A. gave a promising display in their initial Senior League match against Dalkey at Claremont road on Saturday. After a shaky start, they settled down well, and their defence dominated the play for the greater part of the game. Sanderson was not up to last season's form; still, he was the best player on the field. The newcomers have also got a very useful full-back in H. Jordan, who learned his hockey at Trinity. The goalkeeper is also good, though he made a mistake in not coming out when Dalkey scored their second goal. The forwards are somewhat uncertain, and poor finishing lost them at least two goals in the early stages.

Considering the difficulties they have had to overcome, Dalkey have no reason to be wholly dissatisfied with their side. They are very fast, and, with improved stick-work, they would be a match for any Leinster side. Their two goals, scored in the last few minutes by Keegan and Dunn, were the results of really good play.

Up to this Y.M.C.A. had led by 2-0. Sanderson, with a reverse stick stroke, got an easy goal after thirty minutes' play, Lea miskicking. Squire got the second with a fine running shot shortly after the resumption. Teams:—

Y.M.C.A.—G. Godden; A. Hill, Rev. H. Jordan; J. Hussey, V. Sanderson, G. Boate; A. McEndoo, E. Smith, J. Taylor, E. Squire, W. Harbron.

Dalkey—H. C. Lea; S. Haines, T. Ponder; R. Jones, D. Jones, J. McNally; E. Hewitt, H. Conlan, — O'Leary, S. Keegan, D. Dunn.

IMPERIALS FIGHT HARD.

IMPERIAL TOBACCO CO. 2

Gaining an early lead, Monkstown were never in danger of losing to Imperial Tobacco Co. at Royal terrace on Saturday, but their form was only moderate. W. Brewster (2), J. Brewster, and Dormer gave them a four goals' lead in less than half an hour, but subsequently the easiest chances were missed, and the defence conceded two goals in the second half. There was a lack of combination in attack, and W. Brewster, who was not very closely marked, was easily the best forward. The halves and defence fell away in the second half, Darcus alone playing consistently well.

Imperial Tobacco Co. have lost Sanderson this year to Y.M.C.A., and L. C. Wilson and W. Hoey were absent on Saturday. Considering everything they played extremely well and fought hard in the second half. White gave a splendid display at centre-half, and did three men's work. Sayers was a capital full-back, and Davis, O'Connor and A. Brennan lively forwards. A. Brennan and Davis got the Imperial's goals in the second half.

Teams:—

Monkstown—H. Kells; H. G. C. Legge, G. Darcus; P. D. McWeeney, E. B. Gray, S. Williams; F. Kells, J. A. Dormer, J. S. Brewster, H. A. Martin, W. Brewster.

Imperial Tobacco Co.—C. Jones; F. Jenkinson, C. Sayers; R. Walsh, P. White, R. Brennan; N. Myers, S. Bailey, G. Davis, A. Brennan, R. O'Connor.

ROVERS' HALF-BACKS IN GOOD FORM.

THREE ROCK ROVERS 2 CORINTHIANS.... 1

At Londonbridge road on Saturday, Three Rock Rovers beat Corinthians by two goals to one. Three Rock Rovers held a big advantage at half-back, and this gained them their opening success. The winners were well served at wing forward, where Howe and McVeagh set a very fast pace, but the finish of the insides was not too successful. Gibson usually proved too resourceful for them, and Watson cleverly broke up many dangerous attacks.

Corinthians making a couple of positional changes after the interval, did somewhat better, but never looked like winners. Fifteen minutes of the first half had gone when McVeagh wound up a great burst with a tremendously fast centre, which Howe at the other side picked up, and beat Gibson with a rising drive. In subsequent attacks Gibson saved splendidly, and the interval found Rovers leading by a goal to nil. For a time on resuming Corinthians had quite a share of the play, and when Browett equalised a keen struggle prevailed. Gradually Rovers got the upper hand, and from one of their many raids Leonard secured the winning goal after a great burst through.

Teams:—

Three Rock Rovers—W. Campbell; J. F. Mahony, P. Huet; N. Kinnear, R. K. Pilkington, J. M. Pigot; J. M. Howe, R. Leonard, C. Gamble, R. Franks, T. G. McVeagh.

Corinthians—C. W. Gibson; R. Watson, I. Varian; P. Lindsay, D. Lindsay, D. Curnow; W. Ritchie, F. Duke, E. Browett, E. Winder, L. Waddell.

Insurance May Not Run Again.

Miss Dorothy Paget's champion hurdle-racer, Insurance, broke down while undergoing a training spin over two miles at Newmarket on Saturday and was taken back to his stable in a horse ambulance. Mr. Basil Briscoe, the gelding's trainer, said: "Insurance pulled up very lame, indeed, after his gallop this morning, and the veterinary surgeon did not think that he would be able to run again. The horse will be examined again, however, before a definite decision is made."

GREYHOUND RACING.

CLOSING STAGE OF IRISH ST. LEGER.

SHAMBO AND SON OF THE ROAD IN THE FINAL.

SON OF THE ROAD and Shambo reached the final stage of the Irish St. Leger on Saturday night at Shelbourne Park. The former easily beat the odds-on favourite, Giant's Rock, and Shambo led almost all the way to beat Seldom At Home, the outsider. The much-fancied Bella's Brother ran disappointingly. Right Incline made amends for a recent defeat in the Shelbourne Stake, which he won by a short head from Earl's Heir, and May Rose, after being in front all the way in the Clounanna Stake, was beaten on the line by Lady Melksham. Exaggerated jumped cleverly in the first heat of the "Hot Shot" Hurdle, and Brosna Hawk won the second heat in a rousing finish with the favourite, Black Castor.

IRISH ST. LEGER (550 yards)—First Semi-final—Mr. S. Fagan's bd. d. SON OF THE ROAD (4) (Son of the Soil—Bonnybrook Maid), 5 to 1 agst., 1; Mr. P. Dunne (Kilkenny) qualified to contest the final of the junior soft ball singles by defeating V. Mullaney (Roscommon), 21-7, 21-12, 21-6.

GOLF.

A CHAMPIONSHIP FOR IRISH BOYS.

YOUNG PLAYERS TO BE COACHED BY EXPERT.

By Our Golf Correspondent.

AN Irish Boys' Championship and the appointment of a distinguished professional to coach our promising young amateurs are innovations in Irish golf foreshadowed by Mr. William Fitzsimmons, chairman of the Leinster branch and honorary secretary of the Committee for the Open Championship of Ireland, at the annual dinner of the Milltown Club on Saturday night.

Responding for the Golfing Union of Ireland, Mr. Fitzsimmons commented on the activities of the Union. They had managed to put Ireland on the golfing map, and, with the support of the clubs, would continue to carry out their good work.

Regarding the future, he added that some golfers wanted an Irish Boys' Championship. Well, the Union would probably manage one. In addition, they hoped to evolve a scheme for the intensive coaching of our younger amateurs, players like Joseph Brown, in order to give them more experience, and place them in the front rank. They had beaten England at Porthcawl, and had run three most successful championships. There was no reason why Ireland should not do even better than she did at Porthcawl; but they could only achieve the objects they had in view with the co-operation of the clubs. So far as they knew, they were assured of a continuance of that support.

Mr. A. B. Kidd, honorary secretary of the G.U.I., also replied, and said that they looked forward to even greater successes than those attained.

Dr. Evans, a member of the staff of the Board of Greenkeeping Research, replied to the critics of the Board in the English Golfing Press and elsewhere. From what he had seen of the courses in Ulster they were much better off than those in many parts of England, which had suffered severely from the drought. The Board had a great problem to solve, and it was only by long experience they would be able to secure the strain of grass capable of standing up to the years of wear and tear and strain to which greens were subjected. It was only by the Unions continuing to support the Bingley Station they could solve the problem, and ultimately they would be able to sift the journalistic chaff from the Bingley grain.

Mr. P. J. Roe, proposing the Milltown Club, alluded to the purchase of the links and the assistance given to the Committee by the President, Dr. W. Lombard Murphy, who gave the club the benefit of his business experience and financial knowledge at every single meeting of the Committee.

Dr. Murphy, responding, expressed the opinion that the purchase of the links was an extraordinarily good business proposition. The land all round them was being snatched up for building, and to get hold of the land at what might seem a high price was one of the best investments the club could possibly have made. He paid a tribute to the work of the Secretary, Mr. Roy, and the staff

Major-General H. McNeill and Messrs. Fitzgerald and Waddell replied for the guests.

For the President's Prize there were ninety-four entries, and the result was a tie between General Mulcahy, J. H. Pratt and L. V. Ryan, with two down. The prizes for the year were presented to the winners and runners-up by Dr. Murphy.

AMERICAN LADIES' TITLE RETURNED.

For the third year in succession Miss Virginia Van Wie won the American women's championship. Over 36 holes, on the Whitemarsh Club's course, Philadelphia, she defeated Miss Traung, the 16 years old Californian, by 2 and 1. Miss Traung, playing in her first championship, led by three holes on the first nine. The champion, however, played the better golf homeward, and the round finished level, each having a score of 85.

CYCLING.

AN IRISH RECORD FOR 25 MILES.

Riding a week ago in the twenty-five miles handicap of the Harp C.C. on the Navan road, A. Donegan, of Portarlington, the well-known path racing crack, was returned as doing 59 mins. 55 secs. This performance would have displaced the twenty-five miles world's record which has stood to the credit of Southall, the English road crack, for the past three years. There was considerable doubt, however, as to the distance over which the race was run, and particular care was taken to ensure the correctness of the distance in the twenty-five miles open handicap of the Shamrock C.C. yesterday.

The best time was done by T. F. Quinn (Harp), who three weeks ago made an Irish record of 61 mins. 30 secs. Yesterday he did 16 seconds better (61 mins. 14 secs.), beating the next fastest man, H. Breadon, by two minutes. Another Harp man, Clinton, was 13 seconds slower than Breadon, and the fourth fastest time was done by B. J. Donnelly (63 mins. 43 secs.). None of these, however, was good enough to win the handicap, and even Donnelly, with five and a half minutes start, was only fifth, the winner being D. J. O'Sullivan, who, with ten minutes start, set the scratchman to do 56 mins. 34 secs. to win.

The best times and handicap placings were:—T. F. Quinn (Harp), 61 mins. 14 secs.; H. Breadon (Harp), 63 mins. 14 secs.; M. K. Clinton (Harp), 63 mins. 37 secs.; B. J. Donnelly (Harp), 63 mins. 43 secs.; P. E. Grey (City and Suburban), 63 mins. 55 secs.; J. Moffatt (Harp), 64 mins. 39 secs.

Handicap result:—1, D. J. O'Sullivan (Celtic) (10 mins.), 56 mins. 34 secs.; 2, J. Kennedy (Shamrock) (12 mins.), 57 mins. 33 secs.; 3, P. C. Reddy (Carlow Rovers) (9 mins.), 57 mins. 37 secs.; 4, A. O'Connor (Shamrock) (11 mins.), 57 mins. 52 secs.; 5, B. J. Donnelly (Harp) (5 mins.), 58 mins. 13 secs.; 6, P. E. Grey (City and Suburban) (5 mins. 30 secs.), 58 mins. 25 secs.

Enfield to Resume Work.

The Cesarewitch candidate, Enfield, was given healthy exercise at Newmarket on Saturday. He was wearing a bandage on the off hind leg, where he was bruised when struck into in the race for the Newbury Autumn Cup. The injury is not regarded as serious. He was out again yesterday, and had a useful canter on the Railway Field. His action was perfect, and he is to resume active training almost immediately.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

A GREAT RALLY BY CORK

Rovers Outplayed in Second Half, but Retain the Lead.

SHAMROCK ROVERS ...... 5 CORK 4

AT Milltown yesterday. The scorers were Ryan (3), Reid and Leonard for the winners; McGonagle (2) and Kelso (2, one penalty) for Cork

Shamrock Rovers were rather fortunate in gaining the Free State Shield points, as after establishing an apparently unbeatable lead of four clear by half time, they were completely overshadowed by Cork, who only just failed to get on terms—a result which would have been more in keeping with the general run of the play.

Most of Cork's football was marked by a cleverness which was lacking in the play of Rovers. The latter, however, were more direct in their methods, while the Cork forwards frequently attempted to beat an opponent too many before passing or shooting.

When Cork altered their tactics the game underwent a complete change, and there was plenty of fast and clever football by both teams, with Cork always a shade more skilful.

McGonagle and Cameron made a particularly effective right wing for Cork, while Kelso, though a trifle slow into his stride, was a sterling centre-forward when he found his true form. The Cork full-backs made mistakes, as did those of Shamrock Rovers; but Behan, for the winners, and Harrington kept their goals splendidly, although the latter was not blameless for one shot that beat him. Wall, Ryan and Leonard were the most effective of the winners' forwards, and Glen played a grand game at right half-back.

Reid opened the scoring after twelve minutes and Leonard and Ryan (2) added goals before half-time. McGonagle netted for Cork midway through the second half, and after Ryan had put on Rovers' fifth Kelso (2) and McGonagle each netted for the visitors.

Shamrock Rovers—Behan; Gaskins, Daly; Glen, Mathews, Blake; Wall, Murtagh, Ryan, Reid, Leonard.

Cork—Harrington; Buckle, Lynch; Connolly, Lennon, Cummins; McGonagle, Cameron, Kelso, Neville, O'Keeffe.

WEAK FORWARD PLAY AT CRUMLIN.

ST. JAMES'S GATE ... 0 DOLPHIN 0

Dolphin's hopes of gaining chief honours in the Free State Shield received a further set back on Saturday as a result of their failure to accomplish more than a division of the points against St. James's Gate at Crumlin.

A draw was the most fitting ending to a game that was chiefly remarkable for the lack of skill shown by the inside forwards on both sides.

St. James's Gate were more forceful than Dolphin, but both Rigby and Comerford found Watt an effective defender, and it was largely due to the fine spoiling work of the latter that the Gate's attacks were so effectively checked. Webster and Pinkerton both distinguished themselves by effecting a series of fine saves. Pinkerton was particularly sound, and he rounded off a good day's work by saving a penalty shot from Bermingham in the closing stages.

The Gate's wing forwards, Byrne and Smyth, were earnest workers, and some of their centres were splendidly placed, but the openings made by the pair were wasted by the inside trio. Play, which never reached a high standard, was particularly dull and scrappy in the concluding stages.

St. James's Gate—Webster; Hoey, Bermingham; Simpson, Lennon, Murray (R.); Byrne, Comerford, Rigby, Somers, Smyth.

Dolphin—Pinkerton; Collins, Doyle; Gallagher, Watt, Kendrick; S. Doyle, Atkins, Rogers, Squires, Paterson.

WATERFORD AMATEUR'S "HAT TRICK."

WATERFORD .... 3 DUNDALK 3

At Waterford yesterday, Phelan (3) scored for Waterford; P. Donnelly (2) and Flanagan for Dundalk.

There was a complete reshuffle of the Waterford team, but the changes were not to their advantage, inasmuch as Walsh, who was at centre-forward, was unfitted for the position. The absence of Forster, the regular centre, through injury, added to the handicap. Common, who was an asset as a forward, was relegated to the half-back line, and Kelly, whose forte is defence, was at outside-left. As a result, the team was somewhat disorganised, and the play during the opening stages was loose

Dundalk were rather unlucky and missed some open chances, particularly on the right wing, to which they gave undue preference. Phelan, the Waterford amateur, was the most finished player on the field, and scored twice in the first half. Three minutes before the interval Dundalk, from a melée in front of the goal, reduced the lead through Flanagan.

From the turn-over Dundalk did most of the pressing, but their play was rather slack. After fifteen minutes a very nice movement between Irvine and Phelan resulted in the latter bringing off the "hat-trick." Dundalk soon afterwards had a chance with an open goal, Coveney having run out, and Donnelly again reduced the lead with a soft goal.

Towards the end rough play developed and minor injuries were frequent.

Dundalk—McMullan; Powell, O'Neill; G. Goodwin, T. Goodwin, Hurst; Flanagan, Phillips, P. Donnelly, Evans, J. Donnelly.

Waterford—Coveney; Scurry, Noonan; T. Hale, Pringle, Common; Phelan, Irvine, W. Walsh, Kennedy, Kelly.

BOHEMIANS OUTPLAYED AT SLIGO.

SLIGO ROVERS. ...... 5 BOHEMIANS 0

At Sligo yesterday. McDaid, Westby (penalty), Callaghan and Monaghan (2) were the scorers.

The biggest surprise so far in the Free State Shield was the heavy defeat of Bohemians. Right through, from the opening to the close, the home team showed marked superiority, and never gave the visitors a peaceful moment in any department. Bohemians in a fast scientific game were hopelessly outclassed, and, except on two occasions, never looked like scoring.

The visitors' defence was the best part of their team, but their forwards were surprisingly weak.

The game had only opened two minutes when Gormley, the outside right, crossed to McDaid, and the Sligo centre-forward lobbed the ball behind Cannon. The home team kept up the pressure, and hands by Morris in an effort to save an imminent score gave Sligo a penalty a few minutes before the interval, which was converted by Westby.

With a two-goals' lead and a strong breeze, the second half looked well for Sligo. Ten minutes from the re-start Callaghan increased their lead, and shortly afterwards Monaghan added another. A chance came to Bohemians from a penalty. The kick was taken by McMahon, who struck the centre of the cross-bar. Sligo's fifth goal came from Monaghan, who received a pass from Gormley Rovers had to play with ten for the last twenty minutes.

Sligo Rovers—Magee; Clelland, Mullan; Westby, McCann, Mills; Gormley, Callaghan, McDaid, Smith, Monaghan.

Bohemians—Capt. Cannon; A. Morris, W. Maguire; P. O'Kane, J. McMahon, A. Horlacher; P. Ellis J Buchanan, J. Menton, W. Jordan, P. Scully.

DRUMCONDRA'S SECOND-HALF EFFORT FAILS.

BRAY UNKNOWNS ... 4 DRUMCONDRA 3

At Tolka Park on Saturday. Hunt (2), Hannon and Rorrison scored for Bray; Carroll, Kavanagh and Meehan for Drumcondra.

The conditions were not favourable, but it was a very fine match. Bray, taking the game as a whole, deserved a hard-earned victory. They led at half-time by 3-1, and seemed to have the game in hand, when they increased their advantage, but in the closing stages Drumcondra came near to saving a point.

Both teams played open football, and the free style of the fast forwards kept the defences on tenterhooks for most of the time. The seven goals did not by any means represent the number of scoring chances, and there were several fortunate escapes at both ends. Interest was retained to the call of time.

The Bray forwards were cleverer in the outfield, and made the most of their opportunities. Drumcondra's forwards were earnest, even if they did not possess the same skill nor the quickness in combination of Bray. They were better in the last half-hour than at any period, but then they found the Bray defence more than a match for them.

Both half-back lines played strongly in support, but now and then indulged in too much hard kicking. After ten minutes' play Hunt opened the scoring, and thereafter Drumcondra were at a disadvantage. There was no marked weakness on either side, but some were clearly better than others, and both teams had several excellent players.

Harkin, a new centre-half from Derry City, strengthened Bray's half-back line.

Drumcondra made two changes, having Goulding (ex-Shamrock Rovers) at outside right instead of Rorrison, and Carroll for Baggott (injured). The alterations did not weaken the team, but the side took some time to settle down.

Drumcondra—Flynn; Lennox, Byrne; Jones, Duffy, Hutchison; Goulding, Kavanagh, Carroll, McCosh, Meehan.

Bray Unknowns—Frame; Hyland, Rigby; Neary, Harkin, Boyle; Bellew, Hunt, Rorrison, Rudd, Hannon.

GAELIC GAMES.

BRILLIANT GOALS BY RUSSELL.

GUARDS' STRONG FINISH IN JUBILEE MATCH.

(BY PAT'O.)

GARDA .... 4-4 ST. JOSEPHS 1-5

ST. JOSEPHS, leading by seven points to two at the end of the third quarter, seemed to have yesterday's match at Parnell Park won when Russell, the Kerry crack, changed places with Kelly and came up to right the scoring. The movement transformed the game. Inside five minutes Russell scored two brilliant goals, and paved the way for a decisive Garda victory. On the way to the final they had beaten Howth after two draws.

Clan na nGaedheal's stronger finish helped them to run up a winning sequence in the second half and win the Divisional League final from St. Marys (Saggart).

HOW THE SCORES CAME.

Neither side was at full strength. Comerford and Ormsby opened up for Garda, but found Metcalfe and Moore steady. O'Reilly saved two sharp shots in Garda's goal, and St. Josephs' ground work was attractive as usual. The Mackens, Newman and Wellington combined well, swinging the ball about to the confusion of Garda's heavier backs. O'Reilly saved a hot shot before Beggs raced up field and pointed. Macken got St. Josephs' second before Garda recovered. Their front line of forwards played badly, missing many chances before Russell came up to point.

Beggs ranged up field for St. Josephs and came through the opposition to shoot a rising ball to the net out of O'Reilly's reach. The Garda were pressing to the interval, when Lawless and Moore saved soundly. Comerford pointed from a free. Half time—St. Josephs, 1-2; Garda, 0-2.

Playing very attractive ground football, on resuming St Josephs had good points from Beggs and Macken. The Guards were stones heavier, but were nonplussed by the rapid low passes of the North City team, in which Newman and Wellington shone. McMahon and Kelly worked upfield. A rapid pass of Kelly's reached Russell in a new position, and he centred to the goalmouth Metcalfe saved, but Russell met the rebound with a shot to the net. Within a minute Russell was through for fast scores above and below the bar to give Guards the lead for the first time.

The Guards were playing more confidently now, yet St. Josephs rallied. Beggs' point narrowed the margin only for Cooper to finish up with two unexpected goals. Russell's screw kick from a difficult angle sealed St. Josephs' fate in a bright finish by Garda.

CLAN NA nGAEDHEAL 1-9
ST. MARYS, SAGGART 2-3

The League divisional final between Clan na nGaedheal and St. Marys (Saggart) was a close affair. After Murphy and McKeown had sent the Clan ahead, Moran, O'Connor and Timmons gave Saggart a 4 points lead at the change of ends. The second half brought no scores for a long session; then McKeown broke in for a big sequence of scores, recovering the lead, and the Clan ran out easy winners. Duffy scored for them near the end. Feeney, the All-Ireland hurler, was prominent for the winners.

LONDON STOCK MARKET FEATURES.

THE SPECULATIVE FACTOR.

BRITISH RAILWAY PREFERENCES.

From Our Financial Correspondent.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON, Sunday.

The dullar tone of Stock markets at the end of the past account cannot be attributed to any material change in the monetary situation or to uneasiness regarding European politics. It was the result of a considerable growth of speculation, which was most evident in industrial Ordinary shares, but was also noticeable in certain gilt-edged securities. The increase in speculation is a result of the feeling of greater confidence in the future generally, and it is manifest not only in those securities which have been strong favourites for a considerable time past, but also in the extent to which recent new capital issues have been over-subscribed, particularly in the case of Eno Proprietaries Ordinary shares, the active dealings in which constituted one of last week's outstanding features. As the account drew to a close the atmosphere of markets became less buoyant, and this circumstance induced the closing of speculative positions. The market dulness will probably prove to be merely a temporary phase, like the recent weakness of sterling, and a recovery may start with the completion of to-day's carry-over.

A SUGGESTED EXCHANGE.

Holders of some gilt-edged securities, which have appreciated very sharply since the Government carried through the War Loan Conversion, are probably tempted to realise any profits that accrue through capital appreciation, especially in the case of stocks which will be repaid at par within a comparatively short time. These securities include the 5 p.c. Conversion Loan, which at present stands at practically 118 x.d., but is liable to redemption at 100 ten years hence. This means that, whereas the flat yield is still the satisfactory one of only 6d. less than 4¼ p.c., the return, allowing for loss on redemption, is barely 2½ p.c. Obviously holders should exchange into another security with a longer life, but it is not easy to find stocks that are suitable alternative investments, and because of this it is really very difficult to obtain the full benefit of a profit through capital appreciation. The suggestion may be made that Conversion 5 p.c. could be exchanged for the dollar issue of Australian Commonwealth Government 5 p.c., redeemable 1957, which is obtainable at about 98. The interest is paid in American dollars, of course, and at an exchange of $4.94 to the £ the return is £5 4s. per cent. Admittedly the risk of a violent movement in the New York exchange upon London must be considered, and, if the dollar suffered a heavy depreciation, there would be a corresponding reduction in the interest received by a holder resident in the United Kingdom. It is fairly safe to assume that the risk of a severe fall in the dollar is much less now than it was some time ago, and, in view of the great difficulty of obtaining a sound investment yielding over 5 per cent., a purchase of the American issue of Australian Fives can be recommended, apart from considerations of the exchange of a British Government or corporation stock quoted many points over par.

HOME RAILWAY PROSPECTS.

With the removal of the recent threat of a strike in the South Wales coalfield, the outlook for Home Rails is now regarded more favourably, and market observers are prepared to see something in the nature of a revival in this section, especially in view of the continuance of really excellent traffics. It was thought that when these returns compared with a period last year which witnessed a considerable recovery in earnings the figures would not show up at all well. Recent traffics, however, have equalled the most sanguine expectations. If there is a revival in this section, the proportionate rise in the Ordinary stocks may be greater than in the fixed charges; but the safer purchase for the prudent investor would appear to be some of the Preference stocks. Among these London, Midland and Scottish 4 p.c. (1st) Preference is regarded as having as good prospects as any.

SCOPE FOR CAPITAL APPRECIATION.

For 1933 the stock received 3½ p.c., and on the 5 p.c. Redeemable Preference (with which it ranks) the dividend was 4⅞ p.c. This means that, in order to pay the full rates on the two issues, only £655,100 of additional revenue would be needed. Actually the company obtained an increase of £1,000,000 in net receipts in the first half of this year, and to date its gross receipts show an increase of £542,000. As, also, the interim dividends this year on the two stocks were increased from 1 to 1½ p.c. and from 1¼ to 1⅞ p.c. respectively, it is reasonably certain that the full amounts will be forthcoming for 1934. The 4 p.c. 1st Preference, therefore is an attractive proposition at the current price of 81, at which the prospective yield is almost 5 p.c. The 5 p.c. Redeemable Preference stands at about 101, promising practically the same return. For the speculative investor the 4 p.c. 1923 Preference may be recommended. No dividend has been paid on this for more than 2½ years, but there should be some payment before very long, and, if such payment is estimated at 2 p.c., the yield at the present price of 53½ would be almost 3¾ p.c. As they say in the Stock Exchange, the stock would pay for its keep on this basis.

"BERWICK" PREFERENCES.

London and North Eastern Preference Stocks are worth considering because of the exceptionally good traffics on this system in recent weeks. For 1933 the 4 p.c. 1st Pref. and the 5 p.c. Redeemable issue (the two rank pari passu) received half the amount to which they are entitled. No interim payment was made for this year, the matter having been left until the year's accounts are available. To make up the full amounts on these two stocks would require about £1,065,000 of additional revenue. For the first half of 1934 the company obtained an increase in net receipts of £686,000, and for the second half of the year there is a gross increase of £420,000. If the weekly increase for the rest of the year was £40,000, which is £38,000 less than the last 7-day increase, the gross increase for the second six months of 1934 would amount to £914,000. Assuming half of this represented an increase in net receipts the year would finish with sufficient revenue to pay the full dividends on the 4 p.c. 1st Pref. and the 5 p.c. Redeemable issue. Current quotations of these stocks are about 69 and 86½ respectively, so that if the full payments were declared the yields to present purchasers would be over 5⅝ per cent. in both cases.

BRAZILIAN BONDS.

A purchase of some of the Brazilian Government securities would appear to be a reasonably safe operation now that cash payments of part of the full interest are being made. Admittedly the bondholders are receiving only a moderate proportion of the full amount to which they are entitled. For example, the payment in respect of the 5 p.c. Loan of 1913 is now 27½ per cent. of the full rate, that is, 1⅜ per cent. actual, but as £100 nominal of the bonds can be bought for about 25¼ the yield on this basis is 5⅜ per cent. Moreover, the percentage of the first interest will be larger in future years until the four year period of the latest debt settlement has expired. Whether the Government will then resume full cash payments cannot be hazarded now, but there is a good chance of capital appreciation in a bond standing at nearly 75 per cent. discount.

P. J. Carroll and Co., Ltd.

The list of applications for 376,848 6 per cent. Cumulative Preference £1 shares at 21s. and 80,000 Ordinary shares of £1 each at 25s. per share offered for sale by Messrs. Guinness, Mahon and Co., bankers, 17 College Green, will open to-day (Monday) and close on or before Wednesday next. Full particulars of the offer were published in our issue of Saturday.

Beryl Gold Corporation.

The Anglo-Australian Gold Development announces the flotation of the Beryl Gold Corporation, Ltd., with a capital of £400,000 in 5s. shares. An issue of 1,000,000 shares is to be made at par. Of these, 640,000 will be offered to Anglo-Australian shareholders, while the remaining 360,000 will be taken by Commonwealth Mining and Finance, Ltd., which is underwriting the whole issue, free of commission.

Why "Kaffirs" are Dull.

Seldom of late have Kaffirs displayed such lack of interest and animation. As regards the producing mines, there is the factor that as the price of gold rises, so is the grade of ore reduced. The consequence is that—with a few notable exceptions, such as the Daggafontein, Springs, and East Rand Proprietary—profits fail to expand. Indeed, one or two examples of substantial decrease could be mentioned. The treatment of low-grade ore is encouraged by the basis of taxation employed by the Union Government; and, of course, it has the effect of extending the lives of the mines. On the other hand, the average shareholder considers himself entitled, at any rate, to some benefit in the near future from the enhancement in the price of gold. He is more concerned with the present than with posterity. We (Sunday Times) very much doubt whether there is any foundation for the rumour which gained currency that instructions have been cabled to Johannesburg by two groups to mill a higher grade of ore. At the same time it would not be in the least suprising if the returns of the next few months were to make a better showing. Dullness in the share market cannot be to the interests of the big houses, and any failure on the part of the Mining industry to yield the anticipated amount under the heading of taxation might lead to friction. The second reason for the dullness consists in the delay which has occurred in the Spaarwater and other flotations. This is due to the fact that since the new Act was passed the Mining Leases Board has been overwhelmed with applications. Decisions relative to the areas in question may, however, be expected in the near future.

S.T.D. Motors.

Owing to the non-payment of the interest on the 8 per cent. Guaranteed Notes of S.T.D. Motors, Ltd., the trustees for the noteholders have initiated proceedings for the appointment of a receiver and manager for the company. This action, it is stated, has been received with dismay by certain of the largest noteholders, and at an informal meeting a Noteholders' Committee was formed. This committee now expresses the opinion that the appointment of a receiver would be detrimental to the interests of the company, and in conjunction with the directors is putting forward a proposal for a moratorium of six months in respect of the payment of interest on the notes. A formal meeting has been convened for October 13, at which this proposal and other suggestions for facilitating the reorganisation of the subsidiary companies will be submitted. Among other features of the proposals is that of placing the control of the company's finances in the hands of the Committee of Noteholders during the moratorium period.

Eno's Share Offer.

Considerable excitement was occasioned by the beginning of dealings in the 5s. Ordinary shares of Eno Proprietaries, Ltd. Allotments were on the most meagre scale; for it is estimated that for the 4,000,000 shares on offer applications were received for no fewer than 100,000,000 shares. Applicants for as many as 300,000 only received 450. Altogether there were no fewer than 55,000 separate applications (says The Observer). The price of issue was 11s. per share. A premium was quickly established of 2s. a share, support from real investors anxious to obtain the shares, but disappointed with the allotments, substantially outweighing any "stag" selling. The capital of the new company is £2,000,000 in all, £1,000,000 being in 5½ per cent. Preference shares, which were placed privately at 21s. per share. Figures given in the prospectus show that net assets, apart from goodwill, were valued at December 31 last at £493,423. As the public have bought the capital at £1,050,000 for the Preference shares and £2,200,000 for the Ordinary, a total of £3,250,000, it follows that they have paid over £2,780,000 for goodwill. As earnings have averaged £294,001 over the past five years, however, there are prospects of a satisfactory return on the capital invested, provided, of course, the goodwill is maintained by consistent and persistent advertising.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

GOLD SLIGHTLY LOWER.

Although the new Treasury Bills rate offered for tender on Friday were placed at a higher rate than the previous week's bills, the actual average was below the market's estimates, and in consequence most houses failed to secure an allotment. The clearing banks have, however, raised the rate at which they will buy bills from the market maturing within the year to ¾ per cent., but no alteration is made for January paper, which remains at 11/16 per cent.

Discount quotations were not affected on Saturday, the tendency for the longer dated maturities, in fact, being a shade easier. Three months' fine bank drafts were called 11/16 to ¾ per cent., while occasional transactions took place in the new Government paper down to 11/16 per cent. The banks obtained a few short bills at their new rate.

The supply of short money was ample for all requirements, and fresh credit covering the week-end was generally obtainable at ½ per cent.

Foreign exchanges were in most cases a trifle less favourable to sterling. Dollars changed hands between 4.92 and 4.92⅝, closing at 4.92¼, as compared with 4.92½, while francs finished at 74 3/16, against 74 3/16, after having been down to 74⅛.

Sales of gold were limited to £123,000. On an exchange basis of frs. 74¼, buyers again paid a premium of 8d. over the franc parity, but the price declined a 1d. to 142s. 3d. per fine ounce. Approximately £575,000 of gold is being shipped from Bombay.

American buyers of bar silver offset sales by speculators, and the price remained steady at 22⅝d. per ounce for cash, and 22⅝d. for two months' forward delivery.

MESSRS. CRAIGIE BROS. SHEEP SALE.

The one bright spot in the live stock trade this autumn has been the steady demand for breeding ewes and rams, as well as wethers and lambs for fattening purposes. At the final auction for this season of sheep and lambs, which was held in the Cattle Market, Dublin, last Friday by Messrs. Craigie Brothers, there was a large attendance of buyers, and bidding was quite brisk throughout the sale, the whole supply being cleared at a comparatively early hour.

Owing to the lateness of season the number of Galway ewes on offer was small, but Cheviot and blackfaced horny were shown in fairly large numbers, the demand for the latter being the best so far this autumn.

The principal sellers were:—

Galway Ewes—Edward O'Shaughnessy, 29/6 to 35/-; James Larrissy, 26/- to 37/-; James Flannery, 33/6.

Crossbred Ewes—J. B. Tedcastle, 25/- to 31/-; R. Walker, 33/6; P. Kavanagh, 34/6; E. Hill, 37/-.

Cheviot Ewes—James Maguire, 36/6; Philip Maguire, 31/6; James Jones, 33/- to 35/-; P. J. McGrath, 32/-; T. Costello, 27/-; Robert Lambert, 28/6; Thomas Parker, 29/6, to 33/-; James Mooney, 27/6 to 30/-.

Blackfaced Horny Ewes—M. Prendergast (300), 14/- to 19/-; James A. McCarthy (200), 15/- to 17/-; James Flannery (200), 16/- to 20/-; T. McCutcheon, 22/- for 50; Captain Hannon, 14/- to 17/-; William Fleming, 17/6 to 19/-; F. O'Boyle, 15/- to 20/-; P. M. Garvey, 11/6.

Wethers and Lambs—M. Farrington, Cheviot wethers, 26/-; P. J. McGrath, ditto, 32/-; Robert Lambert, ditto, 25/-; M. J. King, blackfaced horny wethers, 23/-; H. Morris, Galway lambs, 27/-; T. McCutcheon, crossbred lambs, 25/-; J. B. Tedcastle, ditto, 17/- to 22/-; Isaac Wheelock, ditto, 20/-; A. McLoughlin, ditto, 15/6; William Farrell, ditto, 18/-; Robert Lambert, Cheviot lambs, 16/-; G. Carey, ditto, 17/6; P. J. McGrath, ditto, 18/-; F. Keogh, ditto, 13/-; T. Costello, ditto, 11/-; P. Mahon, ditto, 11/- to 13/-; Jer. Casey, Galtee Mountain lambs, 12/- to 12/6.

Rams and Ram Lambs—J. McS. McCulloch and Son, Suffolk ram lambs, 4 to 4½ gns.; S. A. McKeever, ditto, 4½ to 5 gns.; W. Cumming McCulloch, ditto, 4½ gns.; shearlings, 6½ gns.; C. M. Grimes, Suffolk ram lambs, 3¾ to 4 gns.; William Keeling, ditto, 3 to 4 gns.; William Smith, Suffolk shearlings, 6 gns. A number of Border Leicester ram lambs were disposed of at from 3½ to 4½ gns., and shearlings from 5½ to 6½ gns.

THE AMERICAN MARKETS.

INFLUENCE OF GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION: STOCKS CLOSE IRREGULAR.

Reuter's Telegrams.

NEW YORK, Saturday.

Enthusiasm on the Stock Exchange to-day had cooled somewhat following yesterday's advance, and some operators were inclined to accept profits. The result was that the trend was rather erratic, and the list ended slightly on both sides after a turnover of 230,000 shares.

The opening was steady, but prices generally fluctuated in an indecisive manner throughout the morning. The fact that the volume of business dwindled to an appreciable extent under sporadic realising was regarded as highly encouraging.

The final changes were mostly fractional, and the market closed irregular.

The opinion was expressed by some quarters to-day that the list might fluctuate narrowly for a time. Brokerage circles, however, reported that the market at the present moment is largely of an investment rather than a speculative type owing to the Government supervision of operations.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Saturday.

A better sentiment was created in grains early in the session by the improved tone of foreign markets, reports of frost in the Argentine and the firmness of the domestic cash situation. Partial reactions then occurred under profit-taking. Trading was light, with price movements narrow. With cash houses the best buyers, wheat advanced on purchasing by Western connections and on an improved outside interest, but the market reacted late in the session on scattered realising and decreased support. Maize improved on buying by commission houses, the lightness of offerings and in sympathy with wheat, but prices subsequently declined under presure by local operators. Rye and oats fluctuated in unison with the other grains.

WHEAT opened steady, ½c. to ¼c. up, and closed barely steady, with prices ⅛c. to 1⅛c. down.

A SHORTAGE OF FOOD.

GERMANS FIGHT DANGER.

ENSURING THE SUPPLIES.

Germany is fighting a winning battle against the possibility of a food shortage next winter. This is the conclusion apparently to be drawn from the facts and figures given to Reuter's correspondent by Ministerial Director Moritz, of the Reichs Food Ministry, who is organising the food administration of the whole country.

"What steps are now being taken by the Government to ensure a sufficient supply all next winter of such things as flour, meat, and dairy produce?" Herr Moritz was asked.

"The necessary measures for providing the population with flour have already been taken," he replied. "The German Government knows just how much flour the public needs and how much grain is required to make that flour. The quantity is 8,700,000 tons, as against a bread grain harvest of 11,540,000 tons, to which can still be added the great grain reserves of Germany.

"In accordance with these requirements steps, legislative, organisatory and commercial, have already been taken, in the first and second weeks of July, to ensure the requisite amount of grain for the manufacture of flour. The bread grain, which the agricultural industry can conveniently supply, will, with the reserves which the Government can command at its own depots and at the mills, safeguard the provision of bread for the population for the whole year, and even leave some balance available for the year 1935-36.

"As regards meat supplies, Germany's supply of cattle is and has for so long been bountiful that it exceeds demands and unfavourably affects price levels, so that Government measures have become necessary, not to ensure a sufficiency of supplies, but to prevent a fall of prices, which would be intolerable for the farmers. The manufacture of dairy produce and of plant fats within Germany has been persistently fostered by the German Government, and will be even more so in the future.

TREATIES HELP.

"Without imports from abroad supplies would not at present suffice for the population, but the carrying through of numerous trade treaties yields the possibility of satisfying dairy produce requirements not altogether covered by domestic output."

"Estimates on the conditions of the crops up to the beginning of August anticipate a slenderer harvest in all four kinds of grain—rye, wheat, barley and oats—than in 1933. But it should be noted that last year Germany had a record harvest. The diminution of output of wheat and oats is greater than with rye and barley. If one takes as a basis of comparison the average of all four kinds of crops, then the yield of the present year shows a fall-off of 22.8 per cent. as compared with that of the previous one.

"The proper measuring-rod, however, is a comparison of this year's figures with those of the average harvest during the years 1924 to 1933. Then Germany is seen to have a harvest of average dimensions in respect of bread-grain, of 11,540,000 tons as against 11,400,000, which is the average of the past ten years. The same applies to barley: 3,040,000 tons, as against 2,930,000. The oat harvest will show some diminution from the average, but in this respect the estimates so far are the least reliable."

In regard to a fear of a rise in foodstuff prices in the coming winter Herr Moritz said: "Such a fear is little in accordance with facts, as my other answers have shown. All foodstuff producing and distributing groups are included together within the 'Agricultural Front' ('Reichsnahrstand'), and there, under the supervision of the Agricultural Minister, they are willing and able to carry out an orderly procedure of price regulation in accordance with their interests and needs.

"Consequently they are able to require from the consumer only such prices as the purchasing power of the population, particularly in the poorest classes, can afford."

"No plans whatever are being drawn up for the rationing of foodstuffs. We do not need to adulterate foodstuffs, for our provisions suffice. It is true that bakeries in Germany mix potato meal with grain flour. But this does not really amount to adulterating flour. For years past there has been a considerable surplus in grain flour. If, in spite of this, an order is issued compulsorily requiring the strengthening of flour with potatoes, that is only because we wish to master the even greater surplus of potatoes. Moreover, the order for the compulsory use of potatoes in the manufacture of flour will not be renewed for the agricultural year 1934-35, which is an unexceptionable proof that we have no occasion to adulterate bread-flour."

DUBLIN METHODIST COUNCIL.

The October meeting of the Dublin Methodist Council was held in the Centenary Church Parlour. The chair was taken by the Rev. J. W. McKinney, Vice-President.

Messages of sympathy were sent to the relatives of several ex-members of the Council who had passed away since the last Council meeting, including the Rev. H. H. Cornish, who had been ministerial secretary to the Council for three years; and Mr. J. L. Fitz-Henry, who had been treasurer for fourteen years. A resolution of sympathy was also sent to the family of the late Rev. Dr. Denham Osborne.

The following were elected to the Executive Committee of the Council for the session 1934-5:—President—The Rev. J. M. Alley. Vice-Presidents—The Rev. W. G. Waterworth, Mr. W. F. Hanna. Secretaries—The Rev. W. Johnstone Hunter, Mr. H. G. Smith, M.A., LL.D. Treasurer—Mr. H. O. Campbell. Committee—The foregoing, together with the Revs. W. L. Coads, T. J. Irwin, D.Litt; W. H. Massey, J. E. Neill, B.A.; Messrs. W. H. Baskin, G. F. Beckett, F.R.I.A.I.; D. B. Bradshaw, W. M. Forsyth. The co-option of twelve members at the previous meeting to complete the constitution of the Council resulted in the election of: Mrs. Bagnall, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Neill, Mrs. Northridge, Mrs. H. G. Smith, Miss Maeve Smith, Mrs. R. H. White, Messrs. K. Bradshaw, E. A. Brittain, J. Green, E. G. Speidel.

The treasurer's report for 1933-4, presented by Mr. H. O. Campbell, showed a satisfactory balance in hands.

"The Dynamic of Discipleship" was the subject of an address by the Rev. R. Ernest Ker, M.A., tutor at the Ministerial Training College, Edgehill, Belfast.

Don Bradman's satisfactory progress continues. The famous Australian cricketer is in a West End nursing home recovering from a recent operation for acute appendicitis.

ANGLO-AUSTRALIAN GOLD DEVELOPMENT, LTD.

NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF OPTION CERTIFICATES TO BEARER.

The Company announce that the Directors are proceeding forthwith with the registration of Beryl Gold Corporation, Ltd., with a capital of £400,000 in shares of 5/- each.

The issue will be undertaken by Commonwealth Mining and Finance, Ltd., who have agreed to underwrite, free of commission, all the shares about to be offered in consideration of their being permitted to subscribe for 360,000 shares at the par price of 5/- per share.

The Beryl Gold Corporation, Ltd., is to be formed for the purpose of acquiring from the Anglo-Australian Gold Development, Ltd., all the issued shares of the Beryl Gold Mines, Ltd., registered in Australia, for a consideration of £152,000, which is to be satisfied as to £32,000 in cash and 400,000 shares of 5/- each, together with an option to subscribe for a further 200,000 shares at 7/6 per share at any time up to the 31st March, 1936.

HIDES AND LEATHER.

Special Report.

There was a fair business in English hides last week at prices showing little variation from previous week's level. Ox and heifer, first clear 90lb. and up, sold at 4⅝d. to 5d.; 80/89lb., 4⅝d. to 5d.; 70/79lb., 4⅝d. to 4⅞d.; 60/69lb., 4⅝d.; 50/59lb., 4⅛d. to 4⅝d.; and 49lb. and under at 4⅛d. per lb. First clear cows ranged from 4⅛d. to 5⅛d., and first clear bulls from 2⅛d. to 2⅛d. per lb. Calfskins were steady, with 8lb. and under sold at 5d. per lb. In the foreign section there was some irregularity, with South Americans easier and Africans rather firmer. B.A. Americanos were marked down to 5⅛d., whilst dry first Capes were marked up to 5⅝d. per lb. Pending the opening of the international shoe and leather fair in London to-day, October 8th, there was little disposition on the part of manufacturers to enter into fresh commitments, and buying of sole leather was, consequently, restricted as regards bends suitable for manufacturing purposes, but there was a fair business in repairing bends at full recent rates. Offal was quiet, but a trifle steady, and there was no change in the rough leather position. Prices of upper leathers were about steady, with more interest shown in box and willow calf and patent. Blue shades continue to attract good attention.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

British Borneo Para Rubber.—Net profit £28, against loss of £1,605, reducing debit brought in to £4,530. (No dividend since 1928.)

Burt, Boulton, and Haywood.—Final dividend of 3 per cent., making 5 per cent. for the year, as compared with a final distribution of only 3½ per cent. for the previous twelve months.

Cavendish Furniture.—Trading profit £31,400, compared with £38,634 in 1932-33. Both figures are struck after provision for expenses, interest, depreciation, etc., and adjustments in respect of hire-purchase contracts. After provision for interest on amounts received from the controlling company—British and Colonial Furniture—a credit balance of £26,494 is carried to the balance sheet. The total debit brought forward was £165,603, and, with the profit balance shown above and £31,058 tax provision written back, the balance is reduced to £108,051. The Preference dividends paid under guarantee by the controlling company amount to £29,259, raising the debit total to £137,310. No Ordinary dividend has yet been paid.

Kinta Kellas Rubber.—The accounts for the year ended March 31 last show that after allowing for Debenture interest, depreciation, directors' fees, and general charges, net profits amounted to £2,180, which, added to the balance of £1,123 brought in, increases the amount to be carried forward to £3,303. In the preceding year there was a loss of £4,465, when £1,586 was transferred from taxation reserve. The last dividend was 5 per cent. for 1929-30.

Midland Tar Distillers.—Net profit £43,128, against £33,252 in 1932-33. Final dividend on Ordinary shares of 2½ per cent., making 5 per cent., free of tax, for the year (same).

Manx Electric Railway.—Payment of 2½ per cent. less tax, on 4½ per cent. Debenture stock on account of arrears.

Sheffield Steel Products.—Trading profit £39,438 compares with a loss of £6,662 for 1932-33. It includes sundry income, and after charging head office expenses, a credit balance of £34,703 on profit and loss compares with a debit of £13,182 a year ago. Bank interest charges absorb £9,063, and the debit on profit and loss is reduced from £54,054 to £28,413.

Sengat Rubber.—Receipts £20,294, against £11,452. Net profit £9,163, against £1,144, plus £5,751 brought in. Dividend of 5 per cent. (first since 1928-29). Forward £6,414.

Tecka (Argentina) Land.—Dividend of 8 per cent., carrying forward a balance of £9,525. 5 per cent was paid for previous year.

Thos. Goldsworthy and Sons (Emery Manufacturers).—Profit for year £25,244 (against £16,180). Disposable balance £21,736 (£12,991). Ordinary dividend 7 per cent. WINNIPEG GRAIN TRADING CONTROL.

LIMIT PLACED ON OPENING CHANGES.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

WINNIPEG, Saturday.

The Council of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange announces that from Tuesday next the quotation at the opening for wheat, oats, rye, and barley shall be determined by bids to purchase or offers to sell at a price not exceeding one-eighth cent per bushel above or below the previous close.

Quotations shall continue at variations not exceeding one-eighth cent per bushel, until actual business is done, when Rule 8 of the Exchange Statutes will apply. The latter reads:—

"Members are positively prohibited from offering to buy at a price higher than the current bid price for future delivery, any grain dealt in on the exchange."

The new plan for opening quotation is said to have been discussed for months. Officials of the Exchange said that it had no connection with Mr. McFarland's suggestion of an inquiry into trading in futures.

Kenneth Pagett (6), the son of Jacob Pagett, an unemployed seaman, Lumsden street, Gateshead, was accidentally shot, and died shortly afterwards in hospital on Saturday night. It is stated that the child and his father were handling a revolver when it accidentally went off, the bullet entering the boy's head.

MARKETING TURKEYS.

CREAMERIES ASKED TO HELP.

Reporting to Wexford County Committee of Agriculture on an interview with Messrs. Clifford and Murphy, of the Department, in connection with the marketing of turkeys, the Secretary (Mr. N. J. Frizelle) said that it had been stated that in counties in the South, particularly in Cork, Limerick, Waterford and Kerry, the co-operative creameries purchased the turkeys and shipped them in the winter time. So far as could be ascertained, the creameries carrying on the trade had not suffered loss. It had been suggested that the Wexford creameries should follow the example of those in Munster. The Department of Agriculture would be prepared to help.

It was decided to send copies of the report to creameries, co-operative societies and meat factories in the county, and that they be asked to assist the proposal.

DIPHTHERIA OUTBREAK.

FINE FOR OPENING PREMISES.

CARRICK-ON-SHANNON, Saturday.

At Carrick-on-Shannon District Court today Mr. J. H. Rice, District Justice, gave his considered judgment in the case of the Leitrim Board of Health against Dr. John F. Roden, Keadue, County Roscommon, for failing to report a diphtheria case, and against Miss Martha Palmer, Drumkeeran, for a similar offence. The latter was also charged with neglecting to keep her premises closed when ordered by Dr. Keane, and with obstructing Dr. Keane.

The Justice dismissed the case against Dr. Roden, and, in the case against Miss Palmer, "I find," he said, "that a conviction has been proven on each count, and I allow against this lady five guineas expenses and one guinea costs, and, as Miss Palmer seems to have acted on the instructions and advice of Dr. Roden, in my opinion, it is the moral duty of the doctor to see that this kind-hearted and considerate lady suffers no pecuniary loss. I have only to add that I believe this remark of mine is quite superfluous in the case of a gentleman of such high professional standing and reputation as Dr. Roden."

The Justice added that the fine would be 1s. in each case, and he was fixing the expenses and costs awarded on the case of obstruction. He refused Mr. Forde, solicitor, Boyle, for Dr. Roden, costs, remarking that, in doing so, he gave the entire cases the very closest consideration.

NOT WRECKED BUT RESTING.

On Saturday morning last the motor launch Lisstarken Lass (owned by John Hurley, and with a crew consisting of his son and nephew) left Skerries, County Dublin, bound for Skibbereen, County Cork. During the night a storm arose, and in the morning residents at Skerries were surprised to see the Lisstarken Lass lying apparently wrecked on Shinnach Island. John Kelly, No. 1 in the local life-saving crew, waited until the tide ebbed, and then crossed to the island with a horse and cart on a spit of sand which connects it with the mainland.

When he reached the Lisstarken Lass he was surprised to find that the crew of three had rigged up a canvas awning over the front of the boat, and were sitting round an oil stove. He offered them assistance, but they refused, saying that they had beached their boat purposely, and would move off again with the tide when the weather improved.

IRISH NEWS IN BRIEF.

Cattle Seized.—Roads in Fenor (Co. Waterford) were blocked by felled trees when Mr. J. English, assistant to County Registrar, carried out cattle seizures in the district on Saturday. A number of men with bicycles seen in the vicinity of one of the barrickades were chased by the Guards across the country. They managed to elude their pursuers by leaving their bicycles. Eight cattle were seized on the lands of James Halley, Fenor, and ten cattle on the lands of Mary Gough, Ballygarron, in respect of non-payment of annuities. The animals were taken in a lorry to Waterford North Station, where they were entrained for Dungarvan.

Estate Owner Welcomed.—Enthusiastic scenes marked the return of Mr. and Mrs. George Valentine Maher from their Continental honeymoon tour to his family seat at Ballinkeele, Co. Wexford. Mr. Maher is a member of one of the oldest county families in Wexford, and a popular member of the Island Hounds. The Irish mare Frigate, owned by his uncle, Captain Maher, won the Grand National many years ago. The village of Ballymurn was en fête for the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Maher, and on behalf of the villagers Mrs. Maher was presented with a bouquet and Mr. Maher with a "buttonhole" by a little girl named Miss Alice Cummins. Employés of the estate drew the motor car containing Mr. and Mrs. Maher to Ballinkeele House, where an address of welcome was presented. On the following night the villagers were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maher.

TEACHING METHODS IN THE SOVIET.

HOW CHILDREN LEARN FROM GAMES.

Soviet Russia prides itself on the way it is dealing with the problem of educating and amusing its children. In the "Museum of Children's Pictures and Books" an attempt is made to administer the dose of education without their noticing it.

Grown-ups are kept as much as possible in the background, and the children are encouraged to do things for themselves (writes Reuter from Chicago). It is the children who are on duty who give explanations to grown-up visitors and tourists on the various exhibits, and the elders are restrained from airing their own views.

A special point is made by the Museum authorities of avoiding any such inscriptions as "Please Do Not Touch," and when there is a notice it is generally an encouraging one, suggesting that models should be used and picture books opened. The main attractions are the books displayed on small shelves and arranged according to subject matter, such as "Our Construction," "Interesting Science," "Travels and Expeditions," "About Lenin for Children," etc.

One of the most popular games is that of dressing the heroes. So that no one should lay too much claim to one particular literary figure of their dreams and spend their time dressing and undressing him, each child draws a name from a box. It may be Robinson Crusoe or Gotenberg. A large wooden figure is then dressed by the child with the appropriate clothes, which have to be chosen from among a large heap.

"The Inventors" is another favourite. This is a construction rather like the stand from which one chooses picture postcards of local views at a stationer's shop in England. There are six pictures on the bottom tier, depicting the first printing press, the first locomotive, the first aeroplane, etc. The second tier contains books, two on each invention, and the third has portraits of inventors. The two upper tiers are easily revolved, and the child is meant to turn them, so that the invention, the books dealing with it, and the inventor appear in one column.

The game which is called "Gallery of Artists" is for the older children, as it needs considerably more intelligence. It is like a high-brow form of "Happy Families." Pictures of several painters are mixed up together, each painter represented by five pictures. The boy or girl is shown one of the pictures, and then expected to find the other four by following the style of the painting. It is stated to be a very popular game.

The Museum's printing shop is often crowded with children. Here they can see how a book is made and put together, and are allowed to print their own books with their own illustrations.

There are children's art circles, where they can be taught drawing and engraving, and they learn of the various Soviet expeditions and inventions through what are known as "Hours of Artistic Story-telling." Leaders of expeditions themselves, like Professor Schmidt, of Chelyuskin fame, come to tell the children all about their adventures.

Exhibitions of the Museum's attractions have been organised in various towns of the Soviet Union, and attracted up to 1,500 visitors daily. Visits have also been organised to Berlin, Hamburg, Leipzig, Prague, Tokyo, Vienna, Tallin and Riga.

This summer the Museum opened a branch in the Peterhof Palace, near Leningrad.

DUBLIN 'BUS TRAFFIC.

NEW DRASTIC REGULATIONS.

ELIMINATION OF CONGESTION.

By a Special Correspondent.

IMPORTANT alterations in the rules relating to public service vehicles will be made in Dublin within the next month, when the new Road Traffic Act comes into operation.

The alterations will apply not only to vehicles. Pedestrians also will be affected. They will have recognised points at which to cross the streets, which will be clearly marked with white lines.

Regulations will be made defining the precise points at which the 'buses must stop when they reach their termini, and the exact number of minutes beyond which they may not remain stationary. One of the most drastic of the new regulations, however, will be that which forbids them to halt in order to take up or set down passengers at other than the statutory stopping places. In the event of a 'bus pulling up at an unrecognised point, in reply to a pedestrian's signal, both the driver and the pedestrian will be liable to prosecution.

I suggested to Inspector O'Riordan, of the Traffic Department of the Dublin Metropolitan Guards, that this would be a hardship on visitors to the city, who might signal to 'buses in ignorance of the regulations.

"I am sure," he replied, "that they will be excused."

TERMINI UNCHANGED.

There will be no change under the new regulations in the locale of the city's 'bus termini. The merry-go-round which radiates from the Abbey Theatre will go on as before, and the other termini at Burgh quay, D'Olier street, and Aston's quay will not be interfered with. In the opinion of Inspector O'Riordan there is no congestion at either of these points.

"I should be the first to support an outcry against the continuance of those termini if I thought there was any congestion," he said, "but the fact is that there is none. A year and a half ago there was a good case to be made in respect of congestion on Eden quay, but there is none now, as the number of 'buses operating there has been tremendously reduced through the taking over of the small companies by the Dublin United Tramways Company. There is no congestion at all in D'Olier street, where there is no pedestrian traffic. When I asked how many accidents are caused by the presence of the 'buses at these termini, he briefly answered, "None."

An official of the Dublin United Tramways Company endorsed his view. "There was certainly congestion at Eden quay from 1930 to 1932, when the Butt Bridge was closed," he said, "but that is a thing of the past."

I learned incidentally that, although the question of using Butt Bridge as a 'bus route has been under consideration, the scheme has now been definitely shelved.

DUBLIN ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.

ADDITION TO COLLECTION.

Mr. H. V. Crawfurth-Smith, Vice-President, presided on Saturday morning at the breakfast of the Council of the Royal Zoological Society, Dublin. Dr. Matson also was present.

After breakfast Mr. Crawfurth-Smith made a little speech welcoming the guests, and went on to say that, as a rule, September was a quiet month in the Gardens, but it was pleasing to report that 18,903 visitors had passed the turnstiles, or nearly 3,000 more than in the corresponding month last year. That fact, he said, spoke well for the increased interest shown by the public in the Gardens.

During the past month various birds, a number of grass snakes and a curious very small tortoise, about the size of a half-crown, had been added to the collections. The mortality had been well below the average, and the general health had been good.

The baby monkey, Mr. Crawfurth-Smith said, was doing well, and getting cheeky, and the lion cubs were thriving. The admission of certain classes of animals and birds was still a difficulty. Several offers of interesting specimens had been received, but could not be accepted owing to importation being prohibited. It was to be hoped that these restrictions might soon be relaxed, and that the Society would be allowed to procure some of the rarer animals and birds much wanted for exhibition.

Mr. Crawfurth-Smith urged on those present the necessity for increasing the membership of the Society. They had got a very good collection of certain animals.

He belonged to a neighbouring country, but thought the gardens here more interesting than other "zoos." He thought people should be encouraged to visit gardens such as these because of an incident which had occurred in a small town in Scotland. Two Scotsmen found a dead ourang-outang on the roadway. Said one: "It's not MacTavish."

"Aye," said the other, "and it's no MacPherson. Wait, Sandy, till I run back to the hotel and see if it's one of those English visitors." (Laughter.)

Among those present were:—Mrs. Matson, Dr. and Mrs. Fitzsimons, Miss Jones, Miss Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Manning Robertson, the Misses Moore, Dr. A. V. Fisher, of N.W. Rhodesia; Mrs. M. E. Mason, Mrs. Grantt-Byron, Mr. Noyes Lewis, Mrs. English and Miss Ethel Ball.

NEW AUTUMN SILKS and VELVET

The new Silks for Afternoon and Evening Frocks are the most interesting collection that has been produced for many seasons; very handsome designs in Gold and Silver Thread Weaves in Matalasse, Poult-de-Soie, Taffetas and Velvets. These qualities are not seen to advantage in small patterns. A visit to our shop would be well repaid where the goods are on display.

COMMISSIONING OF MISSIONARIES.

SERVICE IN ST. ANN'S CHURCH.

The Archbishop of Dublin commissioned a number of missionaries and recruits at a Service in St. Ann's Church, Dawson street, Dublin, on Friday. The outgoing missionaries were:—Miss A. Aidin, Persia; Deaconess A. Armstrong, Fukien, China; Miss H. Armstrong, M.B., Fuiken, China; the Rev. G. K. Carpenter, Hong Kong, China; Mrs. K. G. Fraser, S. Sudan; Miss E. E. Good, Elgon; Miss R. M. Hanan, Punjab; Miss E. K. Harris, Elgon; the Right Rev. S. Heaslett, Japan; Mrs. E. W. L. Martin (née Stewart), Hong Kong, China; the Ven. Archdeacon Mathers, Elgon; Miss W. E. Reed Meredith, Punjab; Miss A. G. Murphy, N. Sudan; the Ven. Archdeacon W. E. Owen, Kenya; Mrs. C. M. Schaffter, Persia; Miss C. A. Stuart, M.B., Cairo; the Right Rev. Gordon J. Walsh, Japan; Mrs. Gordon J. Walsh, Japan; Miss J. F. Woodroffe, Persia. The recruits were:—The Rev. R. Collier, East Africa; Miss A. K. Hunter, S. Sudan; and the Rev. Walter C. Wisdom, Fukien, China.

The sermon was preached by the Right Rev. G. J. Walsh, Bishop in Hokkaido, Japan, whose text was: "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that what ever ye shall ask of the Father in My name He may give it you."

In the course of his sermon, he said that no matter how many interests they might have, and no matter in how many circumstances they had to work, missionaries had this in common, that they had this love of Christ strengthening them; without that conviction they would not be giving the services that they were giving. The fruit that they were looking for was the fruit of their lives rather than of their words, and if they were working and living in the Lord's name the fruit would come from their lives, because it came from an unseen power, and a power that was invincible.

SOCIALISTS AND THE BANKS.

INSIDIOUS POLICY.

The Times, in a leading article on the Labour Party Conference, remarks:—The very possibility of a victory for Socialists, who want to lay hands on the banks and the savings they hoid in trust, would be enough to make depositors act with promptitude for the security of their possessions, and, as Mr. Morrison knows, the small depositor is not less anxious than the large depositor for the safety of his capital, whatever form it takes. If alive to the effects of the Socialist policy in respect of both the banks and investment, the investor and the depositor will defeat Socialism; but the policy is to be disguised. It is to be made appear that Socialism will strike only at the large capitalist and leave the small capitalist unhurt, and that in place of confiscation, naked and unashamed, there will be taxation so severe that the capitalist will be taxed out of possession. The sum he receives in compensation will be a burden to him, and the State will flourish for a time by taking his possessions piecemeal instead of whole. That is the bait to be offered to the small investor. But it is a temporary sop. In the background to-day, but presently to be brought into the foreground, is the policy of the clean sweep. When the Socialist State has devoured the big capitalists, it will make havoc among the small. The clean sweep will be no respecter of persons.

WILL OF BRIGHTON RECLUSE.

MR. DE VALERA PARTY TO PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. de Valera, President of the Executive Council of the Irish Free State, is a party to proceedings to come before Mr. Justice Clauson in the Chancery Division, London, to-day.

The case appears in the cause list as re Fitzpatrick Deane v. de Valera.

It will re recalled that in December last Mr. de Valera was plaintiff in an action in the Probate Court to establish a will in his favour made by Miss Polly Mary Fitzpatrick, a 72-year-old recluse of Russell square, Brighton.

The testatrix left all her property, valued at over £3,000, to Mr. de Valera, and appointed him as executor. The defendant to the action was Mr. John Fitzpatrick, her brother and next-of-kin.

Mr. Justice Bateson pronounced for the will in favour of Mr. de Valera.

It was stated that Mr. de Valera had no intention of profiting by the estate, and intended to use the money as a trust for public purposes of the kind which Miss Fitzpatrick desired to advance.

WOMAN'S ADVENTURE IN ASYLUM.

Alarming experiences befell a woman who, when visiting her daughter, an inmate of a lunatic asylum at Horoszcz (Russia), was mistaken for a new patient.

The doctor on duty at the institution gave the woman permission to see her daughter, and telephoned to a nurse to bring her from the ward. The nurse misunderstood the telephone conversation, and when she saw the woman mistook her for a new patient who was expected at that hour.

She called two other nurses to help her, and the three caught hold of the astonished visitor, gave her a bath, cut off her hair and dressed her in asylum clothes. Then they took her to a general ward for mental patients.

The peasant woman is reported to have endured all this without objecting, her simple mind believing it was the normal routine for a visitor to the asylum. After a time, however, the other patients in the ward became violent, and the woman attracted the attention of the attendants.

It was only then that the mistake was realised. The victim was immediately released. The three nurses who wanted to make her a patient have also left the asylum. They have lost their jobs.

JUSTICE'S ILLNESS.

At Killaloe District Court on Saturday District Justice McCarthy after disposing of a few minor cases became suddenly ill. On the unanimous appeal of the solicitors present he consented to the adjournment of the Court.

Mr. Michael J. Hurley, merchant, Kealkil, Bantry, has been appointed a Peace Commissioner.

SWINDON ELECTION.

DR. ADDISON RESIGNS TO FIGHT IT.

Dr. C. Addison, a former British Minister of Agriculture, has resigned his £2,000 a year post as Chairman of the Egg Poultry Reorganisation Commission to fight the Swindon by-election as Labour candidate.

Dr. Addison was the member for Swindon, 1929-31, but lost the seat to Sir R. Mitchell Banks, K.C., who has resigned on appointment to the Hull County Court judgeship.

Many Labour and trade union leaders are to speak for Dr. Addison, who will spend a few days finishing off his work before going to Swindon.

The writ for the by-election will be issued on Wednesday, and polling is expected to take place on October 25.

The prospective Conservative candidate is Mr. W. W. Wakefield, the well-known Rugby international.

NAZI MEETING DISPERSED.

REVOLVER SHOTS FROM BRAZIL CROWD.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

SAO PAULO, Sunday.

A Nazi meeting in progress in the Cathedral Square here was dispersed by a furious mob. There was a great deal of revolver firing, and many casualties are reported.

AEROPLANES IN KENTUCKY MAN-HUNT.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

PINEVILLE (KENTUCKY), Sunday.

Coal miners, led by Deputy Sheriffs armed with shot-guns, rifles and pistols, and using bloodhounds and aeroplanes, are scouring the country round this town for two ragged negroes suspected of having beaten unconscious Mrs. Maggie Dunn, a thirty-year-old woman.

The victim when she recovered consciousness, gave a description of her assailants, and the hunt immediately began. Trains were held up and searched, and all the towns around Pineville combed.

The Sheriff of the county believes, however, that the men have made good their escape to the mountains. When asked what would be done if they were caught, he replied: "They would be rushed out of the county, as feeling is running too high to jail them here."

FATAL MOTOR CYCLE ACCIDENT.

Hubert Cole, aged 6, of 24 Auburn avenue, Donnybrook, died in the Royal City of Dublin Hospital, Baggot street, Dublin, yesterday evening, as the result of injuries sustained when he was knocked down by a motor cycle combination on the Stillorgan road, near Donnybrook, in the afternoon. It appears that the child was out walking with its father and mother, and sister, Carmel, when a motor cycle combination driven by Frederick Farrell, 23 Donore road, South Circular road, mounted the footpath and struck all four of them. Mr. and Mrs. Cole, and Miss Bridie Dunne, of Sussex terrace, Dublin, a passenger in the motor cycle, were treated in hospital for minor injuries, but were not detained.

WALKING TWELVE MILES A DAY.

HOW GIRLS EARN A LIVING.

Two Liverpool girls walk twelve miles a day to earn their living by testing new footwear.

Miss Peggy Robertshaw and Miss C. Davies contend that theirs is the oddest job in the world, but they love it. With a pedometer attached to the right leg, these girls walk the prescribed distance daily, and then return to the factory and hand in the pedometer and their boots and shoes.

"We can go where we like and do what we like, and that just appeals to a woman," said Miss Robertshaw, in an interview. "I have tramped 21,000 miles during the seven years I have been walking for this firm, and the 12 miles a day have kept me very fit. Although I am still in my early twenties, I have outlived and outdone Felix of the films, because I have kept on walking, and am still at it."

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

OPENING CHANGES LIMITED TO ONE-EIGHTH CENT.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

WINNIPEG, Saturday.

The Council of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange announces that from Tuesday next the quotation at the opening for wheat, oats, rye and barley shall be determined by bids to purchase or offers to sell at a price not exceeding one-eighth cent per bushed above or below the previous close.

Quotations shall continue at variations not exceeding one-eighth cent per bushel until actual business is done, when Rule 8 of the Exchange statutes will apply. This states:—

"Members are positively prohibited from offering to buy at a price higher than the current bid price for future delivery the current bid pricefor future delivery any grain dealt in on the Exchange."

The new plan for opening quotation is said to have been under discussion for months. Officials of the Exchange said that it had no connection with Mr. McFarland's suggestion of an inquiry into trading in futures.

HOSPITALS' SWEEPSTAKE CLOSED.

The Irish Hospitals' Sweepstake on the Cambridgeshire closed on Saturday evening, and all day on Saturday there was a constant stream of people into the different receiving offices, where the large staffs were kept busy, and where during the early portion of the day queues were lined up. The great majority of those who visited the offices on Saturday were from England, and some of them had large subscriptions for the purchase of tickets. The staff dealt expeditiously with all orders

The draw begins on Saturday, October 27, and will be continued on the following Monday and Tuesday.

NORTHERN PIG MARKETING SCHEME.

IN FORCE ON NOVEMBER 1ST.

The Northern Ireland Pigs' Marketing Board announces that it intends to take over the live pig trade, and after consultations with the Ulster Farmers' Union and the Northern Ireland Pig Producers' Association, it has decided to bring the scheme into operation on November 1st.

On and after that date live bacon pigs weighing between 12 stones and 21½ stones live-weight must be sold only to the Board, with the exception of live pigs sold to curers on contracts registered with the Board.

CANADIAN RAIL ACCIDENT.

ONE KILLED AND TWELVE INJURED.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

SASKATOON, Sunday.

At least one person was killed and twelve injured when a Canadian National Railways freighter was derailed four miles south of Borden. It is feared that several more are dead.

AUSTRALIAN SHIP TO BE BUILT IN BELFAST.

Messrs. McIlwrath, McEacharn, Ltd., of Melbourne, Australia, have ordered from Harland and Wolff, Ltd., Belfast, a new vessel of ten thousand tons gross for their Australian coastal trade. The ship, which is to replace the Karoola, built in Belfast in 1909, will have accommodation for two hundred first and two hundred second class passengers, and will be equipped on a lavish scale, with tennis court, dancing hall, sun deck, etc. She is to be ready for delivery early in 1936 and will provide employment for some hundreds of men in Belfast.

KING OF EGYPT'S HEALTH.

From Reuter's Correspondent.

CAIRO, Sunday.

Although the Prime Minister has stated that the health of King Fuad is quite satisfactory, the postponement of the King's voyage to Greece, coupled with the absence of any official bulletins and the presence at the Palace of two Italian doctors, is causing many rumours.

Yesterday afternoon the Dublin Fire Brigade received a call to the premises of Messrs. Southall, chemists, 8a Henry place, Dublin, where a fire had broken out in the basement. The brigade from Tara street promptly attended, and with the aid of first aid appliances extinguished the fire before any considerable damage was done.

R 101 MEMORIAL SERVICE.

THREE SURVIVORS PRESENT.

Three survivors of the ill-fated airship R 101, which was destroyed at Beauvais on October 5, 1930, attended the memorial Service which was held at Cardington, Bedfordshire, Church and Cemetery yesterday. All the seats in the church were occupied by the relatives of the victims and members of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes, to which many members of the R 101 crew belonged, and thousands of local sympathisers were unable to enter. The few who did had to stand during the service. A procession headed by choir boys afterwards went to the cemetery where the victims are buried and a two minutes silence was observed at the graveside.

The three survivors present were Mr. J. H. Binks, who was in the choir; Mr. A. B. Bell, a sidesman; and Mr. A. J. Cook. Wreaths were laid on the grave, and the Buffaloes' hymn, "For Absent Friends," was sung.

BLUE SHIRTS' TRIBUTE TO LATE SEAN DOYLE.

About four hundred Blue Shirts and women wearing blue blouses were present at Esker (Lucan) Cemetery yesterday afternoon when a wreath was laid on the grave of Sean Doyle, formerly of the Fourth Battalion I.R.A., who was shot by the British forces in 1920.

The members of the League of Youth fell into parade at Lucan village, and from there marched to the cemetery. They were in charge of Captain Mack, Assistant Divisional Director of the Blue Shirts in Dublin.

After the wreath had been placed on the grave, Mr. Gearoid O'Sullivan, T.D., delivered an oration. The Last Post having been sounded by a bugler, prayers were recited by Captain P. J. Doyle, Dublin Divisional Director.

In the course of the oration Mr. O'Sullivan said that Sean Doyle's life had been given at a time when freedom of speech and freedom of action was denied to the people of Ireland by a foreign Government. As a result of his sacrifice and other similar sacrifices that foreign tyranny had been broken. The members of the League of Youth were pledged that they would do all that they could at whatever sacrifice to maintain those rights. The members of the League of Youth would not allow any foreign tyranny in this country. They had broken already one domestic tyranny, and if a similar tyranny should arise again they would break it.

BATON CHARGES AT ABERDEEN.

POLICE ATTACKED BY CROWD.

Baton charges were made by the police at Aberdeen last night to disperse crowds.

The trouble started when about 2,000 persons failed to gain admission to a meeting in connection with the Unemployed Workers' Movement. A small force of police intervened and were attacked. Several officers were assaulted, and the police had to make a baton charge before the crowd dispersed.

Shortly afterwards the crowd gathered once more, and trouble again broke out when a member of the crowd was arrested. Stones and bottles were thrown at the police, who had again to draw their batons and charge.

An inspector was struck on the face, and several officers were kicked. A man received attention at the infirmary.

Five men were taken to the Central Police Office.

GOLD THIEVES CAUGHT.

A sensation has been caused by the discovery of an organised band of gold thieves on the Bulolo fields, New Guinea. The gang is believed to be sending gold on a large scale to a receiving centre in Hong Kong, thus depriving the Commonwealth Government of considerable amounts in royalties.

A detective who was sent from Sydney, Australia, worked as a dredge hand for the Bulolo Gold Dredging Company, to obtain evidence which has led to arrests, states Reuter. It is expected that when all the evidence has been collectd a startling exposure regarding gold stealing will be made.

Following the arrests three men have been charged. Roland Osborn Clay has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for having been in possession of three ounces of retorted gold.

Thomas Roland Osborn Clay, charged with the theft of 52 ounces of amalgam and 59 gold specimens, has been committed for trial.

Joseph William Trim has received a sentence of two months' imprisonment for being found in possession of 21 gold specimens and receiving 47 ounces of gold and amalgam.

About 200 of the 250 white men working on the fields are Australians, mostly from Sydney. It is suspected that a good deal of thieving is done by kanakas (natives) under the direction of white men, who are believed to bribe them with tobacco. The gold is later handed over, when there is little risk of being seen.

The Automobile Association's patrols will be on duty from 9 a.m. until lighting-up time during the period of winter time.
